

Corrie's Story

Corrie Jo Gross Bechtelheimer was an incredible wife, mother, daughter, granddaughter, sister, aunt, and friend. Corrie lived a rich, full life. She had a wonderful childhood as part of a great family. She married her high school sweetheart and love of her life, Trey, and they had two beautiful children, Sloane and Rob. She traveled to places many people only dream of visiting. She loved her job as a speech-language pathologist and touched the lives of countless adults and children in our community.

During her courageous two-year battle, she received a tremendous amount of support from our community.

Before she lost her fight with cancer on June 6, 2014, she had expressed and shown many times that she wanted to help other cancer warriors with the expenses they faced while fighting their battles. We hope to be able to fulfill her dream and honor her memory by providing some financial help to others fighting cancer in our area.

Mission

To provide one-time grants to cancer patients residing in Union County, Arkansas, to assist with medical expenses incurred during their cancer treatment and provide yarn wigs to children with cancer.

Why...

Even with insurance, cancer is costly. Cancer warriors and their families can be devastated physically, emotionally, mentally, and financially. People living with cancer are faced with life and death decisions when it comes to being able to afford their medication, treatments, and day-to-day expenses that have now become emergencies. #teamcorrie Cancer Foundation, a non-profit organization, has been established by family and friends of Corrie Gross Bechtelheimer in an effort to help relieve some of the financial burden that forces cancer patients to choose between life-saving treatment and life's basic necessities.
