SPACES THAT SUPPORT US

There are moments when we need calm. Others, clarity, confidence, momentum, or simply to feel more like ourselves.

Sisy began with a question: can what surrounds us also support us through those moments?

Through wallpaper, we explore how colour, form and material quietly take part in the way we live.

THREE COLLECTIONS for different moments in life

Sisy organises its designs into three permanent collections, shaped not by styles or trends, but by different human experiences.

Release & Heal — letting go, restoring balance and finding a sense of flow again.

Integrate & Move Forward — understanding, integrating what we have learned and continuing forward.

Express & Shine — taking our place with greater freedom, confidence and authenticity.

IVONNE HURTADO

Founder and Artist of Sisy

Ivonne has painted since childhood. Her path, however, has also taken her through engineering, communications, strategy and travel.

From this intersection grew a personal exploration of how we create meaning and how the spaces we inhabit take part in our everyday experience.

Today, that exploration takes shape through Sisy, where each collection transforms questions and observations into a distinctive visual language.

DESIGN AS A LANGUAGE

For Sisy, design is not simply a matter of aesthetics. Colour, form, material and proportion take part in the relationship we build with the spaces we inhabit.

That is why each wallpaper seeks to go beyond decorating a surface: it becomes a presence that can support different ways of feeling, seeing and inhabiting the world.

AN OPEN QUESTION

We spend much of our lives in spaces we rarely think of as part of what we are experiencing.

What if what surrounds us could also support us through the different moments of our lives?
