

Heading Off Into the Sunset

Published on June 13, 2022

Larry Lombardi

Retired Economic Development Professional

30 articles

✓ Following

I'll get right to the point...

Wednesday, June 15 will be my last day in the office as Economic Development Director for Currituck County, North Carolina.

At the end of that day, I'll be handing in my badge and my gun and heading home to watch the sunset over the Sound in flip-flops and shorts.

There may, or may not, be a cold beverage involved.

If you're wondering why I'm leaving, let's just say that it wasn't my decision.

According to the letter I received, "the Currituck County Economic Development Department will not be funded in the Fiscal Year 2022-2023 budget. Regrettably, you will be laid off from your position as Economic Development Director at the close of business on June 30, 2022."

So my last "official day" is June 30, but I'll be done at the office on Wednesday.

Was I ready to start my retirement early? Not really.

But it is what it is.

I believe God is plotting my path. All I can do is have faith and go with the flow. Everything happens for a reason.

To be clear, I'm not looking for sympathy by sharing this news. This isn't a tragedy. I'll be fine.

I've retired a couple of times before. I'm getting pretty good at it!

It's going to be a struggle adjusting to sleeping in late, complying with the new Tommy Bahama dress code and playing all those guilt-free rounds of golf, but somehow I'll manage.

The one thing that I will definitely miss about this job is YOU.

The best part about my job has always been the people.

The relationships I've built throughout my career in the region mean everything to me. I consider myself extremely lucky and supremely blessed.

From my days working for the City of Norfolk and the Edenton Chowan Partnership to the last 5 years here in Currituck County, I've made a living by meeting and helping people. It doesn't get much better than that.

I'll spare you the long, sappy farewell speech.

One, because nobody likes long and sappy farewell speeches.

And two, because I'm not going anywhere.

My lovely wife and I will still live in Corolla. And there's always a chance that you'll bump into me on the beach, out to dinner or pushing a grocery cart.

I'm not dead, just retired.

So let's skip the eulogy and say that I'll see you around.

Thank you for everything.

If you ever need me, you can still CALL LARRY.

Just make sure that after this Wednesday, you use my mobile number: (301) 237-8951.

As long as it has nothing to do with the Mid-Currituck Bridge, bringing a Taco Bell to the mainland or wastewater, I'm glad to help!

Report this

Published by

Larry Lombardi

Retired Economic Development Professional

Published 4d

30 articles

✓ Following

I'll get right to the point... Wednesday, June 15 will be my last day in the office as Economic Development Director for Currituck County, North Carolina...

#development #economicdevelopment #outerbanks #currituckcounty #ThinkCurrituck #TommyBahama

#Corolla #retirement #TacoBell #truth #thatsawrap

Like

Comment

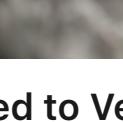

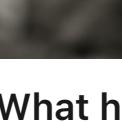

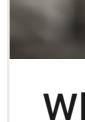

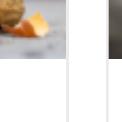

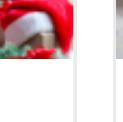

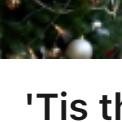

Share

60 · 27 comments

Reactions

27 Comments

Most relevant

Add a comment...

Holly Yanker (She/Her) · 3rd+

Passionate leader who helps people start businesses & achieve success!

Enjoy the next chapter, Larry! You deserve only good things!

Like

Reply

1d

Susan Hudson · 2nd

at Mid-Atlantic Small Business Finance

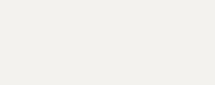

They were fortunate to have you over these years Larry!...keep me posted on what you decide to do in your next "life"...my best - Susan

Like

Reply

1d

Load more comments

Larry Lombardi

Retired Economic Development Professional

✓ Following

More from Larry Lombardi

And the Award Goes To...

Larry Lombardi on LinkedIn

'Tis the Season of STUFF

Larry Lombardi on LinkedIn

How to Survive Thanksgiving

Larry Lombardi on LinkedIn

What happened to Veterans Day?

Larry Lombardi on LinkedIn

See all 30 articles

Get Hired Faster,
Try Premium Free

Work

Get Hired Faster,
Try Premium Free

Work