Description

The Jasmine Absolute oil offered by us is a CO2 extract oil that is derived from the Jasminum Gradiflora of the Oleaceae family. Initially, the oil comes as a concrete made by solvent extraction from which the 'absolute' is obtained by separation with alcohol. Later, the essential oil comes into being through the process of CO2 extraction.

History

Since ancient times, Jasmine has been referred to as the King of oils (Rose is the Queen). Apparently this is because Jasmine is the most masculine of all the floral oils. It is also interesting to note that it takes 8,000 carefully hand-picked blossoms to produce 1 gram (about 1 ml.) of Jasmine Absolute.

Uses

Jasmine oil is endowed with much medicinal qualities. An invaluable remedy in cases of severe depression, it soothes the nerves, producing a feeling of confidence, optimism and euphoria, while revitalizing and restoring energy. It also helps in the process of childbirth, both during and post natal depression. It also is a well known aphrodisiac and has a rejuvenating effect on the skin.

The divine energy

Jasmine's magical properties rides the waves of our emotional tides. It brings understanding to the conscious mind, desires and wishes of the heart to light and brings the angelic realms close. It is one of the angelic fragrances.

The divine energy manifested within its aroma can lull us into states of heightened spiritual awareness. Jasmine gives wings to our prayers and helps us connect with our purest intentions and highest aspirations.

Jasmine's powerful and beautiful scent directly affects our emotional centers; lifts our spirits, dispels depression, quiets nerves. It flows through your anxieties, sedating and relaxing you while stifling worries about tomorrow.

Jasmine assists in compassion, love, and purpose. Its seductive aroma makes it an excellent choice for use in love rituals.

One of the most celebrated uses of Jasmine is in inducing sexual desire. The scent creates the mental, emotional and physical responses necessary for sexual arousal. It is also used to treat sexual dysfunction (in women, the inability to enjoy sexual contact or to achieve orgasm; in men, the same two conditions as well as difficulty in achieving or maintaining erection and lack of ejaculation). This unique fragrance is capable of leading us into brighter worlds of fantasy and sensuality.

Jasmine is linked with the Goddess Vishnu. Worn as a perfume, it will attract love; spiritual and physical. Wearing it with the intent to draw money will bring you wealth. Incorporating Jasmine essential oil in your 'before bed' bath will bring sleep and prophetic dreams.
