FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Jeremy Harry Harris & the Treachery Of Ravens

"European Tour Postponed"

Release Date: August 28, 2025

Label: Epictronic

It is with the deepest regret that we announce the inevitable postponement of the "Walking With My Darkness" Oct - Nov 2025 European Tour.

Whilst we remain committed to the eventual touring of Europe, unfortunately we've been forced to postpone until further notice due to illness within Jeremy's immediate family. As you might be aware, a few months back, Jeremy Harry Harris raised $6,000 of much needed funds to support the AGCF (Aust Gynaecological Cancer Foundation), his charity of choice given his wife's recent stage 4 cancer diagnoses.

Whilst the outcome of that endeavour was indeed a positive one, the outcome of recent tests for his wife have not been as positive; with the need for some pretty invasive and complex surgery being required immediately.

Whilst we are devastated at not being able to come to Europe this October, we are confident that everyone will understand that our families come first, even before music. She's in the fight for her life right now and after careful consideration, much discussion and a lot of "should I go, or should I stay now" (Thank you The Clash!), we've made the call not to proceed at this time.

We're aiming to sort this surgery out, kick cancer's arse and be back on the road for a European Summer tour in May / June 2026.

Whilst this is a really disappointing thing to have to do, we know we can count on all our supporters to be understanding and respect our decision.

A lot of time, effort and planning has gone into this so far especially from our Tour Booker....

We extend our sincerest thanks and gratitude to Damir Marijan of Stage2stage - Concert Booking & Promotion, who has worked tirelessly to bring this tour to life. We are so sorry to him right now as we know just how hard it is to book shows throughout Europe only to have the band pull out. Please accept our sincerest apologies for this and our genuine thanks for your efforts to date.

Please stay tuned for new summer dates being announced as soon as we can finalise it all.
