

Matthew's job was to collect taxes from the people of Capernaum. People still pay taxes today. The government gets a part of all the money your parents make to help pay for things like teachers, policemen, roads, and many other things we need. So when you have four coins, one of those coins needs to go to taxes. Look at the pictures below, color every fourth coin and decide how much from each group would need to go to taxes.

And he left all, rose up, and followed him. Luke 5:28
