

The jailer thought Paul and Silas had escaped because that's what most people in prison would have tried to do. They didn't escape, they stayed. They did the opposite of what the jailer thought they would do. Look at the pictures below. Draw a line matching the picture on the top to its opposite on the bottom.

