What an amazing year this has been for the Ron Todd Foundation and it remains an honour to be able to, on behalf of the trustees, present this report on our activities 2017 - 2018.

Established as a project through Community Court Yard in 2011, this year marks the Ron Todd Foundation's second year as a charity working to support the prevention or relief of poverty and the promotion of equality and diversity.

This year we combined our Ron Todd Lecture with the Ron Todd Awards, and it was a privilege to present five awe-inspiring people with an award at the Marx Memorial Library. Individuals and their families have continued to knock on the door of Ron Todd House and incredibly we have supported three thousand, seven hundred and fifty six people. Our Street Activism course became a Street Solidarity course and we have seen one hundred and twelve people take part in the level one award and twelve people have completed our newly accredited level two certificate. This is all thanks to Ruskin College, and Sussex Downs College who have continued to be an extension of the Ron Todd Foundation family.

We have led fringe activities at the National Pensions Parliament, run by the National Pensioners Convention and attended the Durham Miners' Gala, the CWU conference, as well as trade union branches across the country, which has meant that we have continued to increase the range of our audience.

The impact of the Ron Todd Foundation is significant and is illustrated by the numbers who use the services of the foundation. Which is why we are launching our Fighting Forward campaign to raise the funds needed to build on the work that has already taken place.

As chair of the Ron Todd Foundation, I feel proud of what the charity has achieved this year, I want to say thank you to each and every brother, sister, friend who has helped to build the foundation. I am privileged to be part of an enthusiastic and committed team of trustees who share a passion for achieving our core objectives and building a better and fairer world.

Bianca Todd
Founder
Chair of the Board of Trustees

The review looks at the success of each key activity and the benefits they have brought to those groups of people we are set up to help. The review also helps us ensure our objectives and activities remained focused on our stated purposes. We have referred to guidance contained in the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit when reviewing our objectives and in planning our future activities. In particular the trustees consider how planned activities will contribute to the objectives they have set.

RON TODD LECTURE

The lecture remembers and seeks to put into action the quote:

“The past we inherit,
the future we build”

Education outside of the classroom is the back bone of growing a movement that has the skills to ensure that the fight for social justice and the eradication of poverty is placed firmly in the heart of local communities.

The Ron Todd Foundation knows that education is more than books, it is about real people, sharing their stories, inspiring social action. Which is why the foundation celebrates the birthday of Ron Todd each year by hosting the Ron Todd Lecture.

DATE FOR 2019 LECTURE: 09.03.2018 MARX MEMORIAL LIBRARY

CASE STUDY

“Terence” is fifty years old originally from Scotland, but currently living in the midlands. He is the uncle of an activist who accessed the services of the Ron Todd House.

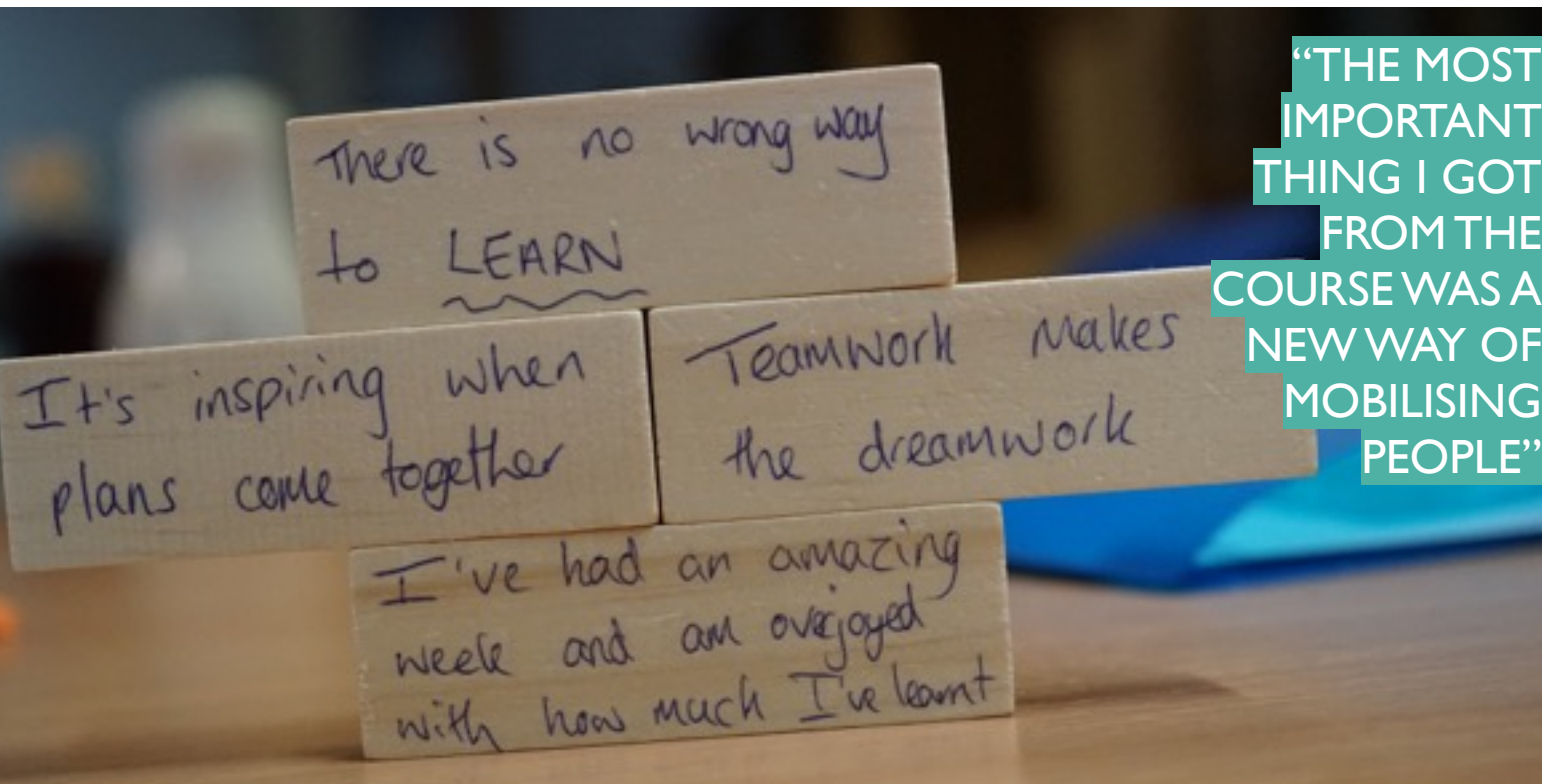

At the foundation, we have trained volunteers, “solidarity buddies” who are able to provide face to face, one to one support for individuals who come to the Ron Todd House and their families and friends.

Due to some very sad circumstances, which included relationship breakdown, family loss and eviction. Terence had found himself living on the streets with alcohol dependency issues.

1. The Ron Todd solidarity buddy met with Terence and provided him with a “rucksack” which contained practical resources including sleeping bag and clothing.
2. When Terence was diagnosed with dementia the Ron Todd solidarity buddy liaised with social services and supported Terence in completing an assessment for appropriate housing and support.
3. The Ron Todd solidarity buddy meets with Terence regularly and they go out for breakfast, lunch or dinner to make sure he is getting the support from statutory services that he needs.

Since Terence’s initial contact with the foundation, his solidarity buddy has kept in touch regularly, supporting Terence in dealing with the issues that affect his everyday life. Several months later Terence is now about to move into residential accommodation.

STREET SOLIDARITY

“THE MOST IMPORTANT THING I GOT FROM THE COURSE WAS A NEW WAY OF MOBILISING PEOPLE”

It's about community organising, it's about being co-creative, it's about creating social change.

The Ron Todd Foundation understands that everything is political and that grassroots community activism empowers people to take charge of their own communities. We believe solidarity is about taking action that sparks a movement, it's not about doing things for people it's about doing things with people, rolling your sleeves up, being prepared to get your hands dirty in order to make a difference.

At Ron Todd Foundation we don't believe in charity, we believe in solidarity, and that is why we run our Street Solidarity courses providing a co-creative space, where ideas can be shared and action can be initiated a space where we can think outside the box and come up with creative solutions to the problems facing our communities.

RON TODD HOUSES

BEING PART OF A FAMILY IS PRACTICAL SOLIDARITY IN ACTION

Being part of a family means you are not alone. The Ron Todd Houses, are an extension of the traditional family, which simply means practical solidarity in action.

They provide a much needed community space, at a time when significant numbers are facing the effects of austerity due to the war on welfare.

Ensuring that people know that they belong to a wider family and the door will always be open twenty four seven for real, practical hands on support. Which includes being able to stay overnight, having hot meals, use of the washing machine, telephone - together with just dropping in to have a cup of tea or coffee to discuss the issues

"The house belongs to everyone, the parents do not charge the children rent to stay there. When grandma comes round to help cook Sunday lunch, you do not have to pay her for her time. People in the family do things for each other, without 'payment' as that is part of people in the family. Everyone looks after each other and in return they are all supported too. People contribute what they can and receive back what they need. When grandpa gets really old, he can not do much to help. The others look after grandpa anyway."

The increased footfall through the door on a daily basis, shows that what the foundation offers is greatly needed.

The Ron Todd Foundation understands the role of families and communities, and we know that we can't do all of the work on our own.

We are therefore excited to be able to announce that we are developing a Ron Todd House Community scheme, where individuals, organisations, branches can sign up and become part of the network of Ron Todd Houses providing a range of practical resources.
