American Dahlia Society News

A couple of our members (Heather and Aderyn) were able to travel out to this year's ADS planning meeting hosted by the Minnesota Dahlia Society. They visited the trial garden, snagged a few hard to find dahlias to bring home, and participated in discussions about what is coming next in the dahlia world.

Interested in knowing more about the ADS? GPDS is a participating society in this larger organization that serves the US and Canada. They have a wealth of information on all aspects of growing dahlias on their website here. Did you know that the ADS also has a free monthly e-newsletter? You can sign up for it here.
