

TRAVEL DURING THE PANDEMIC

Travelers Responsibilities

Check your destination restrictions and rules

Your travel advisor will provide you with links to your destination's policies regarding your ability to travel, your movement once in destination, and local restrictions that may affect your stay.

Check your travel components

Each airline, hotel, cruise line, car rental, tour company, and travel insurance carrier has information about their current procedures and how you might be impacted. Your travel advisor will provide those links and highlight anything that requires immediate action.

Monitor for changes

Understand that you are voluntarily accepting any risks associated with travel during the pandemic and will continue to monitor any changes in the restrictions and policies from the destination, travel suppliers, and local rules that may affect your travel.

Monitor your health

Many destinations and travel suppliers will expect a health check or a negative COVID test to be completed by the traveler prior to your arrival. Check with your health provider about getting tested and schedule appointments to coincide with your departure.

Make a plan to deal with last minute changes

Your travel advisor will help you change your dates, re-book future travel, contact your travel insurance company in an emergency, and even help you find accommodations should you be quarantined
