President/Playwright

&

Christine Hamacher
Artistic/Executive Director

SAGES is an acronym for Senior Actors Guild & Education Services and we are a 501(c)3 nonprofit, all-volunteer theater company that collaborates with area community leaders to present fun, engaging hour-long "Plays with Purpose" on challenging life issues impacting older adults. We highlight a positive image of aging by featuring talented senior actors in meaningful leading roles. Our goal is to provide intergenerational education on key topics for seniors that stimulate discussion and raise awareness on issues of safety and independence. The mix of humor, wit and real drama stirs compassion and inspires advocacy. We honor the experience and wisdom that comes with aging and celebrate overcoming challenges and embracing change at any age!

SAGES Theater Inc. (Senior Actors Guild & Education Services) is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization committed to using live theater to educate and empower older adults while embracing a positive view of aging. We work collaboratively with public and private entities to research and bring challenging topics to the stage in a manner that both stimulates discussion and inspires change. By bringing these relatable stories to life and emotionally engaging the audience, you can create a powerful and heartfelt connection that lasts beyond the performance itself and truly impacts lives for the better.

Join us in rolling out the red carpet for seniors!

Develop your own program or make it easy and utilize ours in one a variety of ways. Our DIY Play Kits support you as much or as little as you need in planning your own event and making a positive difference for your community.

4 different activities can be generated from this Kit:

1) Host a Screening Event

Pop the popcorn and pour the drinks! Create group engagement around the topic of your choice by hosting a viewing of a SAGES Play with Purpose. Lead open discussion on key points and offer prizes for feedback.

2) Host a Script Reading

Bring your seniors into the story! Allow them to become the characters and read the script for an audience of their peers. Encourage them to have FUN while sharing real life experiences and brainstorming ideas for positive change.

3) Host a Full Production

Reach out to local theater groups or use your own in-house talent to bring the story to life on stage and allow your seniors the full theatrical experience. Invite residents, families, and the public to enjoy the show and give their feedback!

4) Host Ongoing Education

Build on the information presented by inviting community partners to return with another interactive event for your group to learn more!
