

Read Aloud Lessons @ ZU DXB with APL386: Literature for Children

Spring 2019 – Dr. Zeina Hojeij

During the College of Education 7th Student Research and Creative Activity Symposium in Dubai on Wednesday April 24th, 2019, COE hosted a total of 47 children from the GEMS Wellington Academy for integrated learning centers conducted by pre-service teacher candidates from Dr. Zeina Hojeij's APL386: Literature for Children class as part of their coursework.

The students in APL386 conducted read aloud lessons and told amazing stories. Our students were very creative. They made every effort to engage the young learners using a variety of methodologies including arts and crafts activities.
