LAO

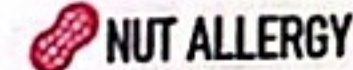

What is Lao food? Lao food is a celebration of bold flavors, fresh herbs, and a balance of spicy, sour, salty, and umami tastes. Kow niew, sticky rice, is a staple in Lao cuisine and is often eaten by hand. From the fiery, citrusy punch of lahp, bursting with herbs and spices, to the smoky allure of peeng kai, marinated and grilled to perfection. Savor the intoxicating aroma of moke pa, steamed fish infused with lemongrass and kaffir lime leaves wrapped in banana leaf. Lao cuisine is a symphony of textures and tastes.
