Let's get to work! The K-Ready Community Project has officially launched in Orange County. We are a community-wide effort and a growing alliance of people who are committed to a future where ALL children have the start they need to thrive in school and in life.

At the K-Ready Rally in July, Dr. Joel Hunter asked, "What kind of community do we want to be? What are we willing to work for?"

Announcing the Orange County Children's Trust campaign!

DID YOU KNOW? Orange County is the only large metro county in Florida without a dedicated funding source for children's services and programs.

Our mission is to partner with the community to plan, advocate for, and fund the establishment of a Children's Trust, accomplished through a community driven ballot initiative in 2022.
