

Easy Steps to Take Back Your Garage

Have you always wanted to store your car in your garage? Or do you dream of being able to navigate your storage space with ease? Follow these tips to keep your garage perfectly ARRANGED:

○ Set Aside Time to Tackle This Project

Keep a day or weekend free of any plans so you can do as much work reorganizing your garage as possible.

○ Sort Everything into Three Piles

Separate your belongings into a keep pile, a throw away pile, and a sell or donate pile. If you have sports equipment or toys that your kids have outgrown, give them away to a charity or neighbor. If you discover that you have a lot of items you no longer want or need, make some quick money by hosting a garage sale.

○ Keep the Ground Clear of Clutter

Using nails to hang up items is a classic and reliable way to keep things off of the floor, but Command Hooks and pegboards are just as useful and can easily and cleanly be readjusted each time you reorganize your garage. Run out of wall space? Look into hanging storage solutions to keep lesser used belongings up and out of the way.

○ Group Like-Items Together

Divide your garage up into categories to make finding things easier. Designate a shelf or entire cabinet to gardening tools and do the same with other items like sports equipment and seasonal decorations. If something is used frequently, keep it close to the garage door for quick access.

○ Win with Plastic Bins

Use clear, stackable bins in your garage so you can easily see your belongings inside. Label the bin with the category of its contents to make looking for things even easier. Stack these bins on shelves against the wall to keep them off to the side and to open up the space.

○ Stay Organized

Like every other space, the contents of your garage can become very jumbled. At least once a year, go through your belongings and repeat tip number two to get rid of any extra clutter, then work to get your space ARRANGED again!
