ANGELIC KINDNESS SPREADS CHEER TO GROUP HOMES

Angelic Kindness, a nonprofit launched this year with a mission to spread kindness, brought a bit of holiday cheer to residents and staff of two of Cornerstone Service's group homes.

"It has certainly been a challenging year for everyone, but something that has really stood out has been the incredible generosity of the community, said Cornerstone President/CEO Ben Stortz. "All of us at the agency truly appreciate what Angelic Kindness is doing for the residents of these group homes. They are helping to make these difficult times a bit more enjoyable."

Due, in large part, to the success of its Giving Tuesday campaign and the generosity of its supporters, Angelic Kindness was able to fill the resident's wish list along with catering a holiday dinner for all. Staff were also treated to a little something in their stockings.

Debbie Watson, Angelic Kindness Co-Founder said, "When we shared our desire to brighten Christmas for the residents of Cornerstone's homes, our friends opened their hearts making it possible to grant the wishes for those in need." Co-Founder Mary Spiros added "We are truly blessed to have been able to bring joy at a time when joy is sorely needed."
