Trench House Prompt Toolkit

SECTION 1: Character Creation Prompt

Goal: Make a new Trench House-style crypto character with personality, traits, and consistent visual style.

Prompt:

Create a new Trench House character for a crypto sitcom comic. The character should be exaggerated and satirical, based on a crypto trading archetype, meme, or personality. Provide the following:

1. Character Name: (funny, crypto-themed)

2. Nickname/Title: (short, memeable e.g., "The Rug King", "Liquidity Queen", "The Dip Sniper")

3. Personality: (describe with energy, quirks, how they trade, how they act in the house)

4. Catchphrase: (optional, but funny or iconic)

5. Appearance: (cartoonish visual features, outfit, accessories - match existing Trench House character art style)

6. Signature Behavior in the House: (what they're always doing, or what others complain about)

Make sure the character fits into the chaotic, crypto-obsessed house with other meme traders like FOMO Frankie and Chad Candle.

SECTION 2: Character Card Generation Prompt

Goal: Turn that new character into a collectible-style stat card matching the ones used in Trench House.

Prompt:

Create a Trench House character card for [Insert Character Name]. Use the same layout as the existing Trench House character cards. Include the following:

- Character Name and Title (e.g., Chad Candle - "The Eternal Bull")

- A headshot or upper-body illustration in a cartoon style matching the Trench House cards

- Background should be minimal, solid color or pattern consistent with Trench House card designs

- Add 5 stat bars. Use the same categories or invent new ones (examples below):

  - Meme Power

- Jeet Reflex

- Rug Susceptibility

- Clout Level

- Bag Holding

- Stat bars should be styled like the originals (horizontal bars with varied fill levels)

Match the character card's tone, humor, and layout with the existing Trench House player cards.

SECTION 3: Comic Creation Prompt

Goal: Use Trench House scenes and characters (existing + optional new character) to create new 1-2 panel comic strips.

Prompt:

Create a 1 or 2-panel comic strip in the Trench House sitcom style. Use any combination of the existing Trench House characters and optionally your newly created character. Follow these guidelines:

- Set the scene in one of the Trench House rooms

- Use existing reference scenes and backgrounds

- Match the visual style, character proportions, and comic format (2-panel strip)

- Write short, punchy dialogue with a meme-infused or crypto joke twist

- Each panel should clearly show which character is speaking and include simple expressive poses

The comic should feel like it fits seamlessly into the Trench House sitcom world.

SECTION 4: Meme Integration Prompt

Goal: Place your custom Trench House character into a well-known meme format while keeping the humor and tone consistent with Trench House.

IMPORTANT: Before using this prompt, make sure you've already created a character and character card using the prompts in Sections 1 and 2.

Prompt:

Take the Trench House character you created and insert them into a famous meme format. Use the character card as a reference for visual traits, personality, and stats. Reference the original meme image for layout and pose.

Inputs:

- Meme Name: (e.g., "Distracted Boyfriend", "Blinking White Guy", "Condescending Wonka", "Side Eye Chloe", "Roll Safe")
- Character Card: (attach or reference the card image you created)
- Meme Image: (attach the original meme photo you want to replicate)

Instructions:

- Keep the original meme layout but replace one or more characters with your Trench House character.
- Maintain the signature Trench House cartoon style.
- Use your character's personality to guide expressions and captions.
- Text/captions should be crypto-themed and meme-relevant.

FILLED-IN EXAMPLES

Example: Character Creation

1. Character Name: Token Tom

2. Nickname/Title: "The High Holder"

3. Personality: Chill, stoner trader always thinking the next pump is "vibing up." Floats with rugs. Never stressed.

4. Catchphrase: "We're sooooooo back... eventually."

5. Appearance: Red eyes, bucket hat, tie-dye hoodie, vape in one hand and phone in the other.

6. Signature Behavior: Hotboxing the attic while explaining meme coins as a spiritual journey.

Example: Character Card

Character Name and Title: Token Tom - "The High Holder"

Stat Categories:

- Meme Power: 80

- Jeet Reflex: 25

- Rug Susceptibility: 90

- Clout Level: 60

- Bag Holding: 100

Style Notes: Trippy pastel background, vape mist, hoodie up.

Example: Comic Creation

Comic Title: "Higher Timeframe"

Panel 1:

Scene - Living Room

Characters - Token Tom, Chad Candle

Dialogue - Chad: "Bro! The chart is crashing - do something!"

Token Tom: "Doing it, man... spiritually."

Panel 2:

Chad: "You bought the top again, didn't you?"

Token Tom: "The vibe was bullish."

Trench House Prompt Toolkit

SECTION 5: Audition Tape Prompt

Goal: Create a 4-panel 'audition tape' comic strip that breaks the 4th wall and introduces a Trench House character's personality, backstory, and reason for joining the house.

Prompt:

Make a 4-panel comic strip in the style of a Trench House character audition. The strip should feature one character breaking the 4th wall to speak directly to the viewer (as if being filmed or interviewed). Follow this format:

Panel 1: Introduction

- Character introduces themselves and says their name and nickname/title.

- Visual: Medium or close-up shot with the Trench House background (living room, kitchen, or a unique room like attic/gym).

Panel 2: Personality & Backstory

- Character talks about their crypto background or lifestyle (e.g., bagholder, degen, FOMO addict).

- Visual: Show flashback elements or props that emphasize traits (phone with red charts, meme posters, vape clouds, etc).

Panel 3: Why Trench House?

- Character explains why they want to join the house (or what they bring to the group).

- Visual: Can include imagined scenes with other cast members, or charts/money/etc.

Panel 4: Final Word / Signature Line

- Character ends with a one-liner, quip, or catchphrase.

- Visual: Funny pose, character framed like it's the last shot of a confession video.

Notes:

- All panels must feature the same character.

- Use visual and text style consistent with previous Trench House comic strips.

- Format: 4 horizontal panels in one strip.

Trench House Prompt Toolkit

SECTION 3: Comic Creation Prompt (Revised)

Goal: Create a 6-strip (12-panel) Trench House comic episode. Use detailed scene, character, and dialog breakdowns like the 'Degen Dave Day' episode for layout consistency.

Prompt:
Create a full Trench House comic episode using the following structure and formatting. Each episode consists of 6 strips with 2 panels per strip (12 panels total). For each panel, include the following elements:

FORMAT PER STRIP:

 STRIP [#]: [Strip Title]

Panel [#]
Scene: [Where the action takes place (e.g., Kitchen, Living Room, Backyard)]
Characters Present: [List each character by name]
Dialog:
[List character dialog in script format, e.g. Chad: "Is that... a real thing?"]

Scene Details:
[Describe props, clothing, lighting, or environmental elements in the background]

Prompt:
[Explain framing, centering, what should or should not be visible, and what visual or character references to follow. Emphasize using clean composition and slim white panel borders.]

Panel [#]
Scene: [Location]
Characters Present: [Character list]
Dialog:

[Scripted dialog]

Scene Details:

[Additional environmental description]

Prompt:

[Framing and visibility instructions]

Instructions:

- Follow consistent framing: center characters, ensure all dialog bubbles are inside frame, and maintain white border.

- Use established Trench House character references (clothes, phones, props, etc.).

- Each character should match their established personality and design.

- Dialog should be crypto-meme infused, short, and punchy.

- Visuals must include small background details (sticky notes, cereal boxes, charts, etc.) to build humor.

Use the Degen Dave Day format as your standard.

Trench House Prompt Toolkit - Examples

Example: Character Creation

1. Character Name: PnL Paula

2. Nickname/Title: "The Stop Loss Sniper"

3. Personality: Hyper-analytical quant who treats meme trading like a math equation. Always backtesting. Always skeptical. Doesn't believe in vibes, only metrics.

4. Catchphrase: "Numbers don't lie. Traders do."

5. Appearance: Graph paper hoodie, calculator watch, hair in a bun with pencils through it.

6. Signature Behavior: Calculates everyone's win rate at the dinner table.

Example: Character Card Generation

Character Name and Title: PnL Paula - "The Stop Loss Sniper"

Stats:
- Meme Power: 55
- Jeet Reflex: 10
- Rug Susceptibility: 20
- Clout Level: 70
- Risk Management: 100

Visual Style:
- Scientific and cold tone.
- Dark blue background with grid overlay.
- Stat bars are straight and precise, calculator prop in frame.

Example: Comic Creation (Revised Layout)

STRIP 1: Quant Invasion

Panel 1

Scene: Trench House Living Room

Characters Present: PnL Paula, Chad Candle, Ricky Rugs

Dialog:

Paula: "I've analyzed your trades. You're all statistically doomed."

Chad: "I trade on gut. And memes."

Scene Details:

Paula holding a clipboard, charts on TV, Ricky in a beanbag with sunglasses.

Prompt:

Ensure Paula is upright, clipboard visible. Show full room with all three characters clearly framed. Use slim panel border.

Panel 2

Scene: Close-up of Ricky Rugs

Characters Present: Ricky Rugs

Dialog:

Ricky: "I rugged the data too."

Scene Details:

Ricky smirking, phone glowing with red chart.

Prompt:

Center Ricky with exaggerated expression. Show phone. Full dialog inside panel.

Example: Meme Integration

Meme Name: "Distracted Boyfriend"

Character Card: PnL Paula

Meme Image: Standard distracted boyfriend meme template

Instructions:

- Replace boyfriend with Chad Candle, looking stunned.

- Replace girlfriend with Bitcoin.

- Replace "distracted girl" with PnL Paula walking by holding a clipboard.

Caption:

"PnL Paula: Cold hard stats > Hopium."

Style Notes:

- Use cartoon Trench House style. Match facial features to Paula's card (bun, glasses, clipboard).

- Keep original meme pose and proportions.

- Include text labels on characters if needed.

Trench House Prompt Toolkit - Example: Audition Tape

Example: Audition Tape Comic (4-Panel Strip)

Title: AUDITION TAPE: PnL Paula

Panel 1: Introduction

Scene - Trench House Kitchen

Visuals: Paula stands confidently with a coffee labeled "Risk Adjusted Alpha." Her clipboard rests on the table.

Dialog - Paula: "I'm PnL Paula, aka the Stop Loss Sniper."

Panel 2: Personality & Backstory

Scene - Flashback overlay of her past trades

Visuals: Series of perfectly timed exit charts behind her. She's pointing at one with a laser pen.

Dialog - Paula: "While you were chasing candles, I was optimizing risk."

Panel 3: Why Trench House?

Scene - Back in the Kitchen

Visuals: Paula glancing at a whiteboard filled with calculations and "House Win Rate: 3.7%"

Dialog - Paula: "This house needs structure. I'm here to stabilize the volatility."

Panel 4: Final Line

Scene - Close-up, talking directly to viewer

Visuals: Paula smirks, holds up calculator watch

Dialog - Paula: "Trust me. I've backtested your future."

Style Notes:

Keep the strip in 4 evenly spaced horizontal panels. Match Trench House style and character card appearance. All panels feature PnL Paula. Dialog should be inside centered bubbles. Maintain slim border and clean framing.