

EARLY BIRD WEEKLY

NewbergRotaryEarlybirds.org

February 20, 2020

Last week was our Valentine's Day program. But first, some club news.

Tomo Nakatani, our Japanese Inbound, received the Blue Tape Award for sportsmanship at NHS.

Former Rotarian and friend of Newberg, Dr. Julie Isaacson, passed last week surrounded by family.

Frank recruited another five members for the 5 by 5 Pool. This is where five members sign up for $150 per year. At the 5th year, the club antes up the remaining $250 of $1,000 to award Paul Harris Fellowships to those members. In this new pool are Raquel, Pete, Linda, Bob, and Amy.

Bill Rogers played our newly created Master of Love for this year's Valentine's Program.

Our Exchange Students were the opening act with a lip sync to Nat King Cole's Love.

Max played sax while Inarm (Thai Inbound), Emma, Tomo, Sydney, and Abigail filled the chorus line.

The Master of Love's Quiz Game with the following disclaimer: All answers are known to be 100% accurate according to the certified authority of "The Internet". Use with caution. Any ..perceived contradictions in facts are herein known as, "Alternate Facts" or figments of your imagination.

Quiz questions were broken up by some Name that Tune (and artist).

Early in the game tables could wager up a portion of their allotted 1,000 points. The last question allowed the tables to gasp attempt at not getting skunked. We got skunked.

Only one person got in trouble by the principal for looking up answers on his phone. "I was checking email..." [wink]

Our Exchange Students, with their more nimble brains and surprisingly vast musical knowledge, did very well. With one exception.

Abigail correctly stated Fly Me To The Moon ... by Michael Bubl . But, according to The Internet, the "correct" answer was Frank Sinatra.

Heck, the only way I would have known the difference is audio quality between 1964 and 2014. A feat in itself playing from a cell phone to a bluetooth speaker with the house mic held close.

There are more to the day's images and are stored in the club's Google Drive.

go All In. Like some, my table had fallen pretty far behind. So All In was our last

Click here for the Noon Club's newsletter.