GOT AN IDEA?

We want to further develop our great sense of community here on the Arden Estate by organising more events to bring neighbours together. Please let us know if you have a suggestion for a social activity that you think local people would enjoy.

Ways to have your say

Residents are at the very heart of Arden TMO and we offer lots of ways for you to get involved and influence how the housing service is run.

Become a member of the TMO

All residents of Arden Estate can become a member of the TMO which costs just 10p. As a member you can attend our AGM to have your say on important decisions such as helping to decide how your rent money is spent.

Volunteer as a Board member

2

We are looking for more local residents to volunteer as Board members. This is a fantastic opportunity to represent your neighbours and ensure our services genuinely meet local needs (plus you will develop useful skills and experience to enhance your CV). No experience is necessary, we will provide any training you need. All we ask is that you can commit to attending monthly meetings and want to work with us to make this neighbourhood an even better place to live.

3

Come along to our AGM

Find out more about how the TMO works, our previous successes and plans for the future at our AGM on Wednesday 1 October 2025.

Look out for more details nearer the time.

Meet Our New Housing Officer Derek Gill

We're excited to welcome Derek Gill as our new Housing Officer. Derek brings a wealth of experience in housing and community support, and he's passionate about making a real difference. With his expertise and commitment, we're confident he'll help us improve the services we provide to residents and ensure everyone feels heard, supported, and valued. Please join us in giving Derek a warm welcome!

4

Talk directly to our Board members

Discuss any concerns, questions or suggestions about the housing service with our Board members during a drop in session on Tuesday 24 June 2025 at 6.30pm in the community hall.
