TEXAS CLUB ARTICLE IN SAME ISSUE OF SIO

“ . . . You are limited only by your desire and inspiration . . . ”

THE MERRY MIXERS OF LUBBOCK, Texas, had been using a city owned building for their dancing and lost their lease to another group. At this point they could have taken another night and displaced another club, but this didn't seem the proper thing to do. They went through the painful and time consuming process of looking for a used building, but none was available.

Finally, out of apparent necessity, the solution hit them head-on “Let's build our own!” Following a series of meetings, the group settled on a size and type of construction for a building all their own. The cost of material was figured, excluding heat and air conditioning and this figure was presented to the club at an open meeting. The immediate response was, “Let's go.”

teers” from other clubs. Ownership, responsibility, control and voting rights are shared by all members of the Merry Mixers — equally. Construction time was six months. There is no outstanding indebtedness. Beginning membership of the group was 40 couples. This has now increased to 87 couples.

Although they tried to raise sufficient capital, the club had only about 50% of the required amount when construction started. Once again came the response, “Go ahead. When what we have is used up, we'll raise more!” True to their word, each time more funds were needed, the members did raise more and this routine continued until the building was completed.

The building is located South of Lubbock on University Street. It is wood construction, 40 x 80 feet with a 10 foot ceiling. The dancing area is 40 x 70 feet with the remainder used for rest rooms, kitchen and storage. The caller's stand is supported from the ceiling. The floor is all wood, supported by concrete pillars on 10 foot centers, which gives a lot of “float” to the floor to insure maximum comfort while dancing.

100% of the club members participated in providing the capital and labor. All labor was furnished by club members plus a few “volun-

Club Presidents Harmon and Joy Wilson believe that the key to this type of plan is that the members must be inspired, educated and motivated. They feel that the type of construction, the floor plans and even the financing are secondary.
