

TRAIN THE TRAINER COURSE

If you believe in employee development and are looking to utilise the expertise available within your company, then our Train The Trainer Course is what you are looking for.

Employee development plays a crucial part in any organisations growth and many companies now consider upskilling and reskilling a core part of their employee value proposition. Effective training also translates into employees feeling valued and respected for their contributions to the company's success. However, the assumption that a well-qualified professional promoted into a training delivery or coaching role will automatically assimilate the key skills to deliver impactful training, can often be misguided. Having well-coached trainers helps organisations achieve their goals more quickly and efficiently, increases motivation and value amongst employees, contributes towards retention of competent employees, identifies and advances employee skillset, enhances organisational culture and, ultimately, develops the success of a brand.

THE 'ATHENA' SOLUTION is our specialist Train The Trainer Course (TTC), specifically developed by experienced trainers for trainers, enabling your industry experts to develop the skills to successfully design, facilitate and deliver interactive training and coaching programs. We use a range of techniques so that participants can learn how to deliver great training with confidence beyond just reading PowerPoint slides.
