October 2019

September was an exciting month in our Toddler and Preschool classrooms. In the Toddler classroom the children explored colors and nature. This took them on Nature walks, through discovery of the natural world around us via sensory bins, and in creating many works of art through using materials found in the world around us. The children learned new words, nurtured their relationships with their classmates through many cooperative activities, and continued to grow and expand their understanding of the beautiful natural world around them.

In our Preschool classroom the children took an exciting journey to Outerspace. Through their journey they learned about planets, space transportation, and dove deep into all aspects of their learning focus. They also continued to explore and utilize the various centers in the classroom. Creating all kinds of stories and play in our dramatic play center was a big draw for them and you would often see the children engaged in elaborate play scenarios together as they grew in their social and emotional domains.

Looking forward to October, the children will continue to explore and learn about the natural world and Fall. We have some special theme dates which will be a lot of fun. We have updated the calendar, in Himama, to reflect these, and will also send out reminder notes prior to the dates.
