

DeSoto Scout Trail

Want a more challenging hiking experience? Check out the DeSoto Scout Trail!

This historic trail starts at Comer Scout Reservation, continues through DeSoto State Park, and into Little River Canyon National Preserve. It follows the beautiful West Fork of Little River and continues downstream to highway 35.

Historically the Trail is about 16 miles long, but due to flooding and overgrowth; only certain sections are clear. Currently, the DST can be accessed from DSP's north border downstream to the backcountry trailhead on road 5 in the Little River Wildlife Management Area.

Welcome to DeSoto State Park!
Head out for an enjoyable day exploring "The Home of Mother Nature".

Located on Lookout Mountain, DeSoto State Park has over 30 miles of hiking trails, including 11 + miles of mountain bike trails. Most interconnect with each other, while others take you into more remote areas. DSP's trail system boasts interesting rock formations, small seasonal waterfalls, plentiful animal life, large varieties of diverse plant communities, and beautiful views of the West Fork of Little River, which flows downstream into interconnecting Little River Canyon.

Basic day-hiking tips:

Whether you are a day-hiker or a more adventurous one, being informed is the best way to stay safe on the trail.

- Wear appropriate clothes for the season, AND footwear. Tennis shoes & hiking boots are recommended no matter what terrain. Open-toed shoes are not appropriate for DeSoto State Park's mountainous terrain.
- Take plenty of water and snacks, depending on length of hike. Hiking takes up a lot of energy, so even if you are not going out for long it is better to be prepared.
- Be informed. Whether it is just taking a trail map from DSP's Lodge or Country Store, or asking for directions, it is important to 'know before you go'. It is also important to consider your limits when it comes to the physical aspect of the trails.
- Stay on the trail. DeSoto's trails are marked with a blaze along the way denoting where the path goes.
- Be sure to give yourself plenty of time before sundown to finish your hike. The trails close at dusk.
- Watch your step-watch out for obstructions in the path and be careful of where you place your feet & hands.

Have fun & be safe!

Enjoy the beauty of nature and the gifts that it offers on the lovely trails of DeSoto State Park. Please remember that we preserve land for the benefit of present and future generations. You can participate in this preservation effort by remembering that all plants and animals are protected in each Alabama State Park. Please leave all plants and animal life undisturbed for others to enjoy.
