

CASE STUDY

Modern Interior Design Core-Multi-Residential Elements

WE BUILD IT ↔ YOU DESIGN IT.

PROBLEM

Cecconi Simone requested expert guidance from the Parcel One team regarding precise system configuration and space allocation for parcel lockers in their current and future projects. This aimed to provide them with training and the skills to self-specify systems to their clients, saving time in their design process and giving them an edge over their competitors.

SOLUTION

Parcel One delivered in-person and virtual education sessions as well as providing reference documentation for the office library. Recommendations and industry rules were delivered to the team on important considerations such as proper locker-to-resident ratios, property and parcel carrier flow, security precautions, and future expansion planning.

IMPACT

Cecconi Simone is now internally empowered to plan and design modern parcel delivery spaces efficiently, enhancing their proposal value through cutting-edge amenity design, property traffic flow related to carrier deliveries, and providing them with the most elegantly designed parcel lockers made in Canada.

RESULT

Parcel One equips Cecconi Simone with state-of-the-art parcel management solutions, simplifying their early-stage planning, adding significant value to their projects, and ensuring they remain leaders in their industry.

SUMMARY

This collaboration between Parcel One and Cecconi Simone exemplifies the importance of expert advice in early-stage design. By learning about our best practices and gaining an excellent understanding of the use case of modern parcel delivery amenities, Cecconi Simone ensures their projects are 100% equipped for current and future demands. Integrating Parcel One's recommendations reinforces Cecconi Simone's commitment to strategic partnerships and forward-thinking design.
