

OUR MISSION IN ACTION

BENEFITS OF SINGING IN A COMMUNITY CHORALE

SUPPORT THE ORANGE PARK CHORALE

Since 1993, The Orange Park Chorale has performed music across a variety of genres for audiences in Northeast Florida and beyond.

Notable Performances

1998–2019 Multiple performances of Robert Ray's Gospel Mass

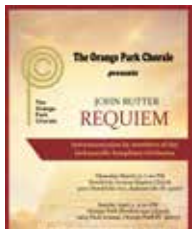

2000 One of three national satellite premiers of Sing for the Cure: A Proclamation of Hope, dedicated to those affected by breast cancer

2002 We Remember Them – The Holocaust Cantata, by Jacksonville native Donald McCullough

2005 Concert version of the musical Children of Eden

2005 Hosted Invitational Choral Festival featuring acclaimed conductor and composer, Mark Hayes

2007 & 2019 Collaborative concerts with multiple northeast Florida community choral groups

2022 FINALLY brought the Chorale singers together again for a special performance of John Rutter's Requiem, remembering and honoring those lost due to the Covid-19 Pandemic

Giving Back to the Community

The Orange Park Chorale has held benefit concerts for local non-profits, including Waste Not Want Not, Quigley House, and Wolfson Children's Hospital.

The impact of making music together is as unique as each of our members.

"For 2 hours a week I get to make music – something simultaneously timely and timeless. Then I get to look forward to the next time."

"Singing with a superb chorale which blends well and sings with their heart is one of the most exciting things that I do...I go home after rehearsals and performances feeling elated."
