

ANGELIC DREAM DIARY

Everything shared here certainly may seem outrageously fake or fictional but I assure you that it is all based off of true stories or real events of actual people and what happened to them! The main focus or interest would be how everything relates to the author because of gravity bending time allowing our minds to connect outside of regular time!? I plan to be taking lie detector tests to prove that these are all true stories or real events for the rest of my life!

THEE RING, VOLUMES (DREAMING OF FUTURE WIFE & CHILDREN!?)

Thursday is my "deadline" to have this done and ready to show people! Check tomorrow? HrrmMMm, it's needs to build up for Palm Bee meeting more, to tell the story how it actually was is important.

<https://tweetings20s.com>

Come and see me perform weekly! Unless it is raining, see you there! {Not this Thursday due to Valentine's, importance of finishing this story in a blog post that is up to date containing everything that happened!}

Sundays @4pm 4731 SW Griffith Dr, Beaverton, OR 97005

Thursdays @4pm Beech Street & 72nd (Roseway Parkway)

Is there anything special about my palm? This picture was taken back around 2008? It makes more sense to me now that it is shown with purple, a green, and wood... so would you a green to stay away from Palm ___? Palm Brown? What are the chances that my future wife and children will go through my photos with me?

This photo was used as my profile picture for a long time on MMORPG.com forums as I got into gaming once I moved out to the country and lived far away from dance clubs and theme parties to clean up and change my life. I began a career at Coldwater Creek rebuilding computers and replaced drugs with gaming. I got into MMORPGs played online with others since I missed the company of people with a player vs player preference. Unfortunately, others did not agree as much, so I spent much of my free time at work trying to convince people to play the same games as me, since I would run out of players, especially for these types of games or servers. Among gamers, I became sort of famous, and would find special easter eggs as gifts from developers for me in the games that I played. I ran a guild called "The Banshees" in a game called Vanguard that allowed us to make our own ranking system so we had a title called "infamy whore" for the person with the highest infamy that was used for bragging rights on the PVP side of things. Whenever I would log in, people were hunting me, as I crafted twinks in every tier. I would grind so much "infamy" that dying just once to someone around my level would lost about two week to a month of grinding because I had so much! Yes, suddenly, the person that defeated me would gain hundreds of infamy when this happened because I had thousands on my characters. Their spell called "starfall" was broken and could one-shot anyone in the game so this was to help people get us off of them. I made my characters look like real goth stars, such as Siouxsie Sioux, Budgie, and Severin. When I played Magic The Gathering, they had a special avatar for me that copied my profile picture. During this time of my life the Swans came out with a song having to do with what was going on with me at the time depicting me as a werewolf because I found out that hereditary coproporphyrria (the werewolf disease) was passed down to us from our grandfather, famous for his missing finger, and especially HOW it became missing, as this was used to scare people straight. There is a very good chance that most MMORPG game developers have read my posts because I sure made a lot of them about what I wanted!

The letter 'c' would mean 'taking' and would this say that 'eye right' about Magic the Gathering? My father Jon was named without the 'h' because we lost our horses and the American Goth painting became more famous due to the infamous death of his dad who was shot in the back over a horseracing debate. How sad that I did not brag about who I was while I lived in Portland because I would have been treated completely differently on Facebook, but my girlfriend was into vintage so I was not sure how to explain things to her, and I didn't want to brag about anything too wild. While buying Magic The Gathering cards, they gave me a package with a backwards logo, to let me know that the card was inspired by me! The shaman werewolf.

My father was an actor that played in a movie as a psychic killer called "Fear" (the showtime version) so this song showing the cardboard cut-out would be about my grandfather.

(Here is the link for the song by El DeBarge called "Whose Johnny?")

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yA9WhYnsD_4&list=RDyA9WhYnsD_4&start_radio=1

Yes, this song would be about my dad because he honestly was very scary! He was in a Megadeth music video and I have wondered if Kurt Cobain named his daughter Francis due to what happened when my dad busted me smoking heroin while he lived at Francis Court. His guilt trip cleaned me up more effectively than punishment would have. Some of this might happen due to synchronicity but Duff from Guns and Roses was his nephew, sort of. He still gets Christmas cards from him.

Growing up, I wanted to save myself for marriage, but lost my virginity once I turned eighteen to a woman that inspired the movie called "The Mallory Effect" and she apologized to me for this, since she was around twenty-four at the time? I have turned down older women since I was only thirteen and even spent the night with an eighteen year old at that age, but she got into trouble for it by our friends that were older.

I performed with folks on the same record label as "elite goth bands" so have been confused as to where to draw the line sometimes when it comes to what could be found out there that was for me or what was just a coincidence found from synchronicity. For example, Coil came out with Amethyst Deceivers when my girlfriend gave me an amethyst cross necklace that cheated while around this time Siouxsie And The Banshees came out with The Rapture that says "rising amethyst" in their song as if I should stand up for myself but is there a connection? Does the Pixies song Palace Of The Brine mention my family that lost our horses due to the murder of my great grandfather that made the American Goth painting more famous and does this mean that the song Goodbye Horses by Lazzarus is for waking up people if anyone "flying" becomes "dying"? Concerns of friends that died from an overdose actually covering up a murder is real. The saying "weeze" came from kids that wanted to weasel their way into bed with our "evil practicing witch" mothers but was this carried to the band that calls themselves Weezer?

The youngest person that I had intercourse with was twenty and we became a couple when she told me that she had a romantic dream of me, so we had to be together. On my end, I never had one of her as far as I know, maybe because she was not as honest as me? When David Bowie started to sing about the "little wonder" this was when I started to make my own clothes and appeared to be gay while my friends were probably the most beautiful found in the goth scene or maybe among his fans? This is why it would make sense that we would be targeted as we were fans of his music while he likely had no idea how old I really was, but obviously, I was younger than him.

My mother was told to name me Adam and she used to have a lot of fun as a flight attendant and I wore makeup to be accepted by her so I was never homosexual. The saying "weeze" came from the kids talking about trying weasel their way into bed with our moms?

My dad used to think it was so funny that my favorite color was pink so they would go around showing people while traveling by asking me in public so I think that He-man was inspired by me? They were meeting famous people often because of her job. This may have been carried to a Japanese cartoon called Unico showing the cute male unicorn with pink hair that I absolutely still love to this day! I was a lot like that unicorn and maybe a bit too friendly with everyone.

Metallica: Enter Sandman (Official ...

When I was a child this came out and I believe that it was for me since his punching bag was different. It was filled with actual sand and would make the knuckles bleed when it was used. All of my life, I did much more than other people to make sure that I remembered my dreams. One of the ways would be setting my alarm earlier to be able to have extra "snooze" moments so that I could remember what happened in my dreams while waking. Telling another about it to remember is most helpful or maybe writing it down or using a recorder.

There is the real magic found when our ancestors used to tell the children that they would be found in heaven if they did not return, which meant that the people would be real if they had a dream of them. This magic was proven by stroking a fallen star fragment against a loved one enough times in the same direction that a magnetic charge is created so it becomes a compass showing the direction of the sky or the North when it is dropped in water.

Recently, while staying with my sister, our dreams were combined of the same incident, where I was expected to give oral to as many women as I could see without being able to see who it was, which is funny because she told me that I was screaming in the middle of the night as if I were having a nightmare while calling out, "don't do it!"

On my side during that week, I was shown something as if what gives us dreams actually wanted me to know how she was tricked into thinking in her dream that she was intimate with our older brother when she wasn't so I knew she would tell me she couldn't see his face when I asked. The dream obviously wanted us to know that if we were sexually active with people in our area, we could pick up something that came across our brother's genitalia, since he used to live in the area where I was looking up people on a dating website.

When I dated Sierra that taught me the most about how to touch a female, I got into her dream diary to find out how evil she was because she kind of scared me... I read a passage about a sex dream that she had with a dragon in the backseat of a car. Years later after I moved out, I had this dream that she described in her diary. On my side, her age was never thought about or known until I woke up and realized what had happened. I already knew her so there seemed to be nothing wrong with going along with what she wanted to do, which was show off her body, before it would be changed by becoming a mother. I believe that she was slightly younger than what would have been legal so this would be why she called me a dragon in her diary and dream? Dragons symbolize rape or pushing someone into it or maybe withholding information that would have prevented the act due to the behavior of a dragonfly. While I was with her I had experiences during intercourse where I thought that she was a dragon, so I think that she likely did this for me as a child as well, but I do not remember every dream.

This girl would be the reason that the Macintosh came out with the "High Sierra" operating system since I was an IT tech building computers for Coldwater Creek and she helped my coworkers with a reverse psychology AA meeting to scare me straight using what I didn't know about my grandfather's missing finger by pretending to be Nazi since I was checking out new goth music. She may have thought that something else was going on though since I never told her what happened in this meeting. When I would smoke or drink after this meeting, the next color that I came across would be carried to something scary such as the sound of a saw along with a person screaming followed by a black man with a metal shin. They appeared to have a lot of fun while using what I did not know about my grandfather's missing finger and I knew it was obviously fake, but I kept witnessing what seemed to be telepathy, so I was unable to sleep for a week at a time while trying to think perfectly! She called herself a Mexican't but I never thought about how close I was to the CantAda border as Adam with a history of being a middle man for the Mexican cartel, until much later. As a young adult, I got into drugs. While I was monitored during time served in jail, I exchanged artwork for a piece of heroin and a number for the Mexican cartel from Leeroy and this happened while I was living with my little sister, also known as "good Jen" in the goth scene (because there is an "evil Jen"). It would be true that Leeroy let in what killed a number of people in our party because he sold heroin...

(Here is the link of the World Of Warcraft video that went viral for Jeeroy Jenkins that wiped out his entire party by charging into the monsters to be killed before anyone was ready)

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mLyOj_QD4a4

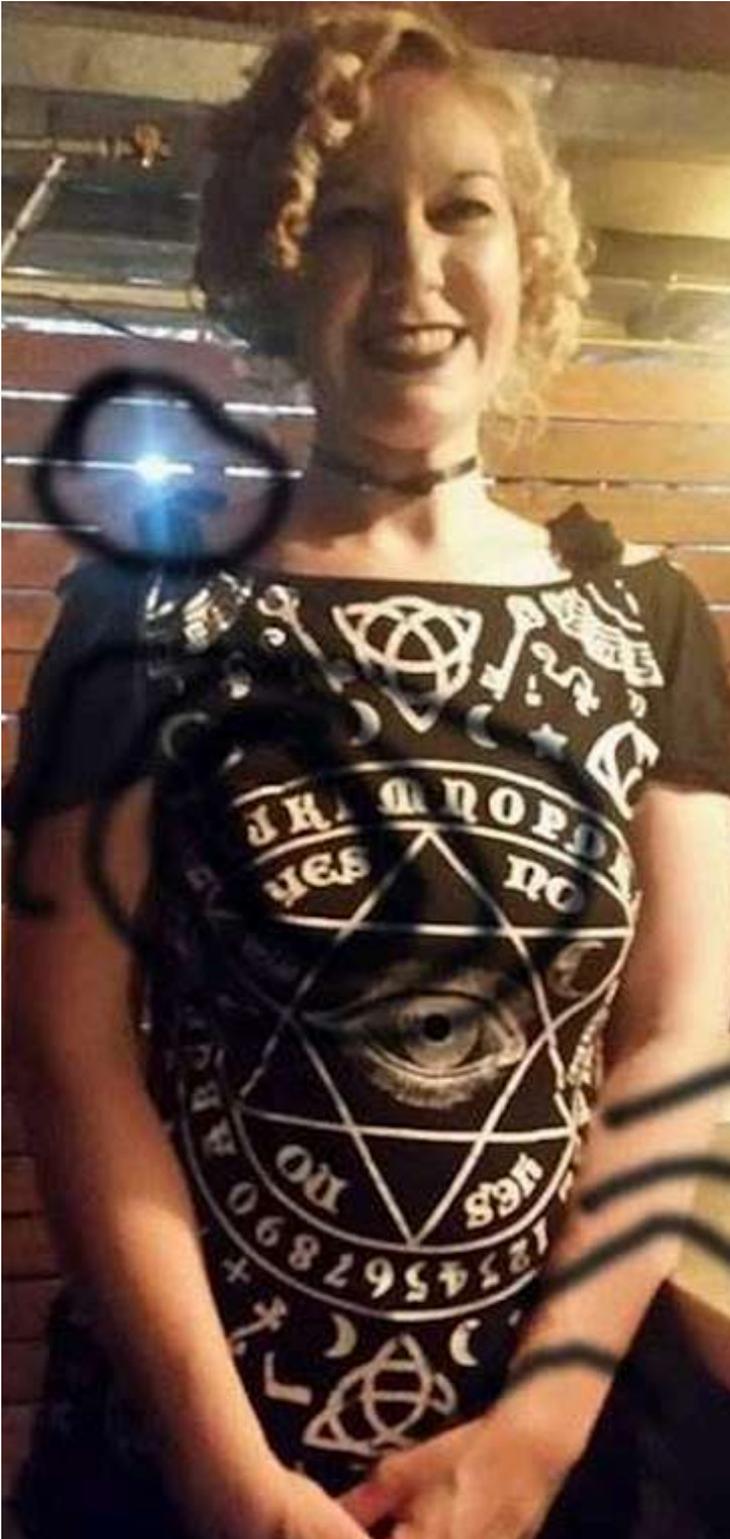

Two years before I met my last partner, I started to pray to a jug of water that I kept in the passenger side of my car, while practicing sending loving father energy that was protective, at the same time that my next lover was praying at "The Goddess" who carried a jug made by Joseph Shemanski. When I knew that we were going to be a couple, I asked her to pick a color that was sewn into my car seat where I kept the jug that I prayed to and she said that the lighter blue was always the right pick!

This name of the artist found in this photo helped me wake up to how I already had dreams of her being the very first naked woman that I saw as a child in a dream where I was trying to figure out what her birthmarks were... she was being escorted from a horse buggy into a ford, showing me older modes of transport vs later ones.. then she grabbed an umbrella while naked and went up a ski lift as I followed behind her. After we broke up it was sad how our intimate dreams would be cut off right when things were good as if only she remembered that part on her side? Maybe because I was honest or because we made love in a yell-ow ho-tell as I work on never saying anything bad about others unless the person is around to keep things constructive. How will the person know what they did wrong or how to change or correct us if we are off? I think that people on Facebook should be flagged for doing this or the person they are sharing about notified so that it is constructive and people won't do things like take advantage of others with timing by stretching the truth or sharing lies when they actually do not know.

Notice on the kNOw side for never is nopq because we are not asking for it but bringing it.. actually uhh, that is VERY not true!

Please, won't you come join the line-up? At first, I thought that every picture that she left behind had the blue on the "yes" side as I was so surprised to see it found in almost every one . . . but then I caught onto how when it was found on the "no" side, it had also shown the reason! What a genius!!

Does she see the blue behind her? By the time you are done reading this blog you might understand why this girl participated in naming Palm Springs in the past? What is she doing in this photo with her hand?

What about the other photos? The ones with blue on the "no" side, I used for album covers as I tried to patch things up by releasing a bunch of albums. What about when a green is shown in the "no" side?

First photo with blue on the "no" side I noticed is shown her salute next to a toilet which made sense since my father's name is Jon and he was a marine while he did not have enough faith in us to recommend that we start a family together like I had wanted. Also, it messed us up when I would act upon "what would dad do if he was me?"

It was rough waking up to new discoveries found in our videos and her photos after we broke up. In our intimate videos, there is a moment where I am heard proposing to her while she is heard accepting it but she said that it was not time yet, but that did not stop me from trying anyways, and now it is too late for this to ever be real, because I do not want to die, and the only way to go on is to give life. I decided to aim for someone younger since she would not take me back and we ran out of time.

One night, I had a romantic dream of who I thought at the time was Alisin Moon from Facebook, but since I did not see her face in this dream during the sexual encounter, I no longer think that this is real! Luckily, I woke up in time to record the song that played in this dream which came from me somehow?

"I saw a man with 66 sponges and with 66 sponges, he fell on me!" I sang. "I saw a man!"

Our dream began by escorting her out of a dark alley when a bathroom appeared out of nowhere while she was looking for somewhere to put her backpack which makes more sense to me now since it would represent whoever spoons her the most in the future. During the process of getting into the bath, she somehow was found wearing only a red sweater, and we were intimate while I was behind her, but I could not see her face! Wearing only a shirt now means something much more, as I believe that it is a type of PJs that my wife will wear to bed. After the bath, we went to home depot where giants were fighting over her while wearing sponge armor, then when they noticed me with her, one of them hit the others that fell on top of us. This dream explained what I now call a "gnomeflinger" that causes spine damage from dehydration, especially from the mixture of alcohol and "uppers"! There was candy at the store shown on display but found behind windows so we did not eat. Being taller would represent drinking while home depot used to be open 24 hours in Utah where someone may run into someone using meth? Sponge armor falling on us would represent dehydration from sweating and this girl lives in Arizona so this makes sense! When I woke up and told her about it, we figured out that the man that fell on us was her former husband that she was married to. It makes sense that I said 66 sponges instead of 666 since they were divorced so the air element is missing?

After I broke up with my last lover, I thought that it would be good to fantasize about her until I hooked up with another, since I knew I had her permission there, and I was afraid that it would not be welcome somewhere else, as I was making music with the birds so it would feel like everyone was in my head. Cuckoo! Cuckoo! It was not until I came across a fork in the road that I started to "dream date" or fantasize of others and I tried to keep my mind clean for only single people but knew thoughts were no crime and I wouldn't expect another person to think perfectly, of course. I am not like other people though so will ask my brother not to think of my wife so that I am not having to listen to his confession in my head as an elderly man or something along those lines which happens to people due to the timing. Its very normal and common for people to think of others but being surrounded by photos and videos everywhere is making feel quite naked. When I came across Forkgirl, this changed.

On Facebook, I also was searching for who I called "the flower girl" that was someone I met in a dream where we talked all night, then I woke up feeling like my friend was gone! This dream happened when I first discovered the show Adventure Time. During the time that I came across her, I was helping my father move from Arizona to Minnesota. There was a reoccurring dream of brides as far as I could see in line to meet me that were upset they will never get a fair chance for the letter Q that I had made for rekindling my relationship for the rest of my life. In this dream, I snuggled in a sleeping bag with Felicia Day and Forkgirl Cosplay quite innocently then came up with what I called the "Felicia fork agreement" which meant putting all of my focus into one person at a time until I found my next partner, so each girl would have at least a day of my mind since Felicia was the name of one of my biggest crush during my young adult life. Someone that I would regularly see at work that I called "the cat girl"! How sad that every person I liked opened the door for me at one point but I was too shy and would wait for the woman to make the first move too often. Growing up among lesbians may have done this to me? I wore makeup to be accepted by my gay mother that was a flight attendant and became married to her job. I came up with something that I call the Sixteen Scented Celebration for these discoveries made for bringing people the safest experience by having a place to counter everything negative so that using captured light and sound for work is most safe and does not keep breaking us up from another found in the future using our photos or whatever? Are our fans actually pulling us in a way that is distracting our relationship? Would this be why celebrities get married more than once? I thought that it would be a good way for the most famous and respected folks to send others away by helping them find a partner where a potentially distracting pull may be found?

I thought that this girl could have been with my largest echo since I had a dream that the air kissed me on the chest and I had to find her as she was invisible while I was warned to ignore the women in-between us since she named her cat Winchester but it makes more sense now that I couldn't picture her identity yet since I never came across her online. Her cat I found in a YouTube video on the "yes" side and at first I thought that it must be her since winchester fell off what might represent a wedding box?! It certainly was, according to a celebration that I had made to repeat annually for keeping my relationship alive for as long as possible.

No! Because this saying would actually be BAD since the air element according to the pentagram and what I discovered belongs to my spouse! Falling in love would mean what? Going the direction that my dream warned me about!

Maybe every wedding needs a flower girl and I plan to do things like double-date in my future, most especially weekly when we meet to play roleplaying games such as Omniverse that I made with my friend Ben R. so we called it AmBr Entertainment and it is the best one found out there by far so the world needs to know about it before its too late! I knew that whoever she was, musicians would synchronize music for her since this happened for everyone else that I was with because they will connect to us where we go to sleep as I bring them more money from giving them my interest. Or maybe it has more to do with their parents wanting a more proper way of saying goodbye?

(this video tells a true story that proved Edward Ka-Spel was connecting to his fans outside of time)

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=LyYSH0JIJbs>

I made this below as a sample from this musician as he may be my favorite and I know that the video shown above would not bring in as much traffic as I am also responding for people where we go to sleep while I work so check out the one found below if you want to look him up! He may be a genius that is participating with providing us with more helpful dreams as humanity is shown what a person could be capable of while dreaming that would be harmful so that they are led to a brighter path to follow thanks to the extra help found where people think about what is found where a person has not gone.

<https://youtu.be/gFDkxpgcVw4>

The Sixteen Scented Celebration that is mostly found in the Dozen Dragon Days Of November begins on carrying the 4th representing a box or water torch to save us from rectangles then on August 6th participants are asked to find the most embarrassing definition of their name while the 9th of August is for making positive definitions for other people. Where people ask for help to change, June 4th may be a more important day than the 4th of July. The month of August makes me think of the need to run and find the air that kissed me on the chest! I knew that I would only be choosing one bride so this would mean that I needed to find men to bring a letter Q wherever QQ may be found! This is found on my website for the Day Of Air where people choose one person to touch on this day and surprise touch someone five times that has not been selected to be touched as another's one. It teaches that people are not objects and helps us do less damage when breaking up as I found that my partners would become extremely depressed when I would leave and this I find alarming as we should have done something much more for them.

Anyways, I was searching my memory for evidence of my wife found in an echo coming from our future. When I discovered Forkgirl online I noticed how she had the same chair that I sat in as a child when I painted a figurine of Takhisis, the Queen Of Darkness! Funny coincidence that her real name would be Taylor while the letter 'y' would be a line between good and evil or a change to be made aware of, so are her parents asking us not to use her for T & A like she is someone's sister or mother? I wondered if we were happily married with children somewhere up there in the new "Highland" or whatever will be made?

In the Dragonlance story, the companions are supposed to go to Haven, but they took a different route through Prayer's Eye Peak while following a white stag that is also found with the Green Man of Portland that is a 2009 public art project by artist Daniel Duford that tells a modern myth about small green archers in the Pearl District. The prophecy claims that when hit by green archers, vision changes, flowers grow from people's heads, a "Greenwood" building appears, a giant tree towers over the city, and a celestial stag appears.

Do you think that this girl looks like Forkgirl? I have not been dishonest anywhere in this story nor have I done things such as withhold the truth. As a child, when my father moved out, I did not have anything showing nudity for the opposite gender as I was discovering myself, so a certain picture of the Dark Queen came to mind that I used for pleasuring myself but I had no other pictures showing the skin of a woman so what really matters was where I was found when there were decisions to be made. Defeating the Queen Of Darkness to become a God as Raistlin would represent getting as many followers and fans on Twitch.com by becoming the best videogame player?

I read Dragonlance almost every night at 8pm on my YouTube channel here and would like to do something very special for every person that synchronized as a character in this story where it is possible:

(This playlist below is called "Dragonlance Synchronicity")

(This playlist found below is called "Dragonlance Synchronicity Uncensored")

Pretty fun finding the synchronicity with fictional characters.

This girls photos woke me up to how she was synchronized as fictional characters!

Since my last lover told me that she thought the best sex scene in a movie came from when Keanu Reeves was attacked by "vampire women", this undead creature has represented someone using a mermaid or merman (thinking of another while touching his or herself) while the act of levitating has meant "loaning the imagination to another" like during shamanism where a person finds a power animal and tries to think about nothing, what enters the mind is coming from somewhere else, so it is just like measuring what is happening while trying not to think. When I first did this ritual, I was surprised to find that my animal guide was a bald eagle rather than a feline like I wanted. The reason she would play the bass suggests that she should go fishing for another? I prove that this is real on my TikTok & I have a YouTube channel that focuses on how other languages respond to my living once!

My artist name is Spoon so this is funny! When your dump truck is used? Why not bring them a letter Q? How this works? Basically, a line forms for someone as the people take turns placing an object at her feet and then go back in line facing the other direction so they cannot see what is going on where she is found while the person in front points at an object on the ground. While doing this the arms behind her may be asking him to choose another girl and this I believe would be why a goddess during ancient times would have many arms so we are recreating this starting at the Pearl District in Portland, Oregon! When he points at his own object she may say that this was the correct choice so they will then join hands with ceremonial wrapping! Sign up on <https://tweeting20s.com>

I would like to go to comic cons for performances, demonstrations, and directing traffic for work! This is definitely not a con, just using simple addition while breaking down what is negative into the origins until something positive is found. Every letter in a name becomes a verb or an action word and what I am working on will create a beautiful experience for bringing predeath funerals to those who came up with the names that deserve the best farewells. It will make for a much better experience for our loved ones too so that they don't feel alone on the way to the stone. What I am referring to is the magical synchronicity that has followed me since my mother gave birth to me in Full-er-ton while sitting down.

While I was witnessing synchronicity having to do with what was going on with me, I asked with a prayer for this randomly chosen painting made by Theo Kerg, Kathleen's relative, to show what was wrong with her.

She injured her ankle while I was with her and was upset that I drew on her "who farted?" poster in her bathroom during one of my crazy episodes like the one where I put a target on my forehead and took pictures of myself while pointing at a girl found on a magnet with no idea it had to do with anything. In my head at the time, I just wanted to take some pictures. She has a dwarf thumb that I said to her would make her a gifted cello player as if appeared to be something that would have possibly made that act easier? She also wanted me to "try a new angle" he probably did not approve of?

Next, I asked with a prayer for the randomly selected painting to show what was wrong with me.

I injured my leg and it shows here where it is found but now when I look at this, I see "not ready" in the eyes and the since the word "knife" has meant "wife" would this be "he nose his wife"? When I moved in with her, I was having sexual dreams of another woman twice per night for a week or two so I prayed to a red robe to get her off of me so that I could put my focus on who I was with even where we go to sleep should it be possible? It wasn't. An echo was coming from the future of the family yet to come.

My father's name is Jon which would mean what? J = measuring a person's worth + o = sharing/surrounding + n = loving/feeding (perfect name for someone giving the baby to his wife!) Marilyn? Ma = mother & m = moving to a different place + a = caring + r = heading + i = balancing/making sure fed + l = working + n = loving/feeding (perfect name for breastfeeding?) What about my older brother, Alex? He was writing his name down in my baby book when we met! A = caring + l = working + e = wondering + x = marking. Jenny would be my little sister! J = measuring a person's worth + e = wondering + nn = loved (gender in this case?) + y = line between good/evil or change to be made aware of (perfect name to describe showing me my baby sister?) What about Chrissy? Birthname Christina? What is the difference anyways? Two letter S's would mean "knows what entered the body" so it is asking her not to drink or use drugs where the y is found. I remember that I was asked if I wanted to hold her but I was too scared. That is also found in her name! The challenge on August 6th is finding the most embarrassing definition of your name and then coming up with at least three good definitions of other people's names you know on the 9th to help them with their journey. C = taking (seen as a camel on the walls of Egypt that would mean packing or traveling but since shoplifting would occur this letter became the letter G to ask people to fasten their tents when it appeared) h = trading / tying the knot + r = heading + i = balancing + s = measuring what enters the body + t = gifting + i = balanced / measured + n = feeding + a = caring (this word creates a definition that could look like declining the offer to hold her out of fear I would drop her, especially with Chrissy) I woke up to names that I came across having to do with whatever was going on the most when I stayed with my father at Spoon Drive in Arizona found on streets that were heart-shaped, which was so magical, since I started to run in Utah just before this, but was frightened of the smog so I waited until there was a more airy zone, somewhere like Arizona.

Let's go through all of the photos showing the blue on the "no" side when using my former lover's ouijaboard shirt to measure where it is found in the picture, shall we? The reason that things didn't work out are actually found in these photos by some miracle! What a genius woman. I want you to understand the miraculous proof that I witnessed when I finally found the largest echo of the family found in my future. Blue found mostly on the bottom right and top left would be a "yes" photo while a "no" photo contains blue mostly in the top right or bottom left.

I tried to convince her to get rid of that dress to free up some space because during our vacation in the bay area, people were saying mean things about her "vintage" look but I let it bother me too much. Also, I would never want to get kinky enough to "spank" her as others have!

The word "ex" is found on the "yes" side while the garbage with a light going to her head is found on the "no" side so it makes me think of how cramped we were in that little apartment and the dangers of trusting our thoughts, most especially while west of trash since the planet is moving and we are heavier. I noticed that when the garbage was taken out that was found on the other side of the wall for those on our floor, we would suddenly want to move out and start a family together!

She wasn't supposed to crash but something magical is coming to McDonald's called Judgement Day! I guess it's the Day Of Empathy that really matters. People will have a much better experience feeling forgiven by the time that death comes? Not today but tomorrow. There are ready wrists for participants, get it? The yellow clown wants to make some happy cows happier.

The Conspiracy Theory of Darkfall

"Underneath the arches..."

Here, she seems to say "no to Republicans" and although I wasn't really one of them, I pretended to be while paranoid my job would find out that I would have voted as a Democrat just to legalize weed. I want to prove that I am done with drugs. I paid for the Green Party when I moved out of her place while my vote was wasted on Jill Stein because I was upset at how Utah treated me when I dragged myself to the hospital and still was not only denied painkillers but they made my problems worse. My leg was purple and I couldn't walk until I went to a family doctor. It was very messed up what happened to me. I do not really consider myself liberal or a Democrat though because they don't change things fast enough but I am as long as the money goes towards what I support. I think I would want people to pay more than the blue side but in a way where they get to choose where it goes so no one is supporting something they don't believe in. I would like the prices of homes to stop going up so wouldn't mind being conservative as long as people funded the things that are needed with stocks or donations. Republicans neglect too much, haven't blamed themselves enough, and their news sounds like people yelling to me. While I was with her I called myself conservative because I didn't want to talk about it as I would have had to more if I wasn't because of family. I am getting into it more. I want to get a grant and fix problems in our country once I get some power, I won't neglect them like others have.

I woke up to the names of streets having to do with what was going on when I came across them when I helped my father move from Spoon Drive in Arizona as he looked for a more permanent residence after losing his mistress to a deadly fall while she was on vacation in Mexico. They pulled the plug while she was in a coma and he has not moved on enough to throw away her clothing while I inherited her electric hybrid car. While I was in Utah, I got off of all drugs, but to help me through the worst of the suboxone period, I used met-amphetamines. My blood pressure became too high and for the first time in my life, I had to worry about this! While watching a girl streaming she seemed to time things to try and assist in saving my life by asking me to check my pulse here.

Two has meant "no" so this would be "not ready" to do any more while she has a hood she wears as if the kiss of death awaits on the "never" side being the upper right so I knew that I to change things then so I did dramatically. I knew that I spent too much time behind the computer so I started to run every day for the first time in my life but I was concerned because of living in Utah that I called in a song the "super bowl of smog" as the mountains have a scary way of trapping it in the valley.

While watching her I realized that the very first puppet she used seemed to symbolize me since I cried until snot covered my legs while her stream helped me through it. There was new medication that made me feel depressed for the first time in my life but luckily I knew to stay away from it so it only lasted about a month.

While talking to my father about helping him move, Arizona sounded very hopeful when it came to saving me as if they were letting me know about the "airy zone" that they care for preserving, but not enough as I now woke up to how I used to be on the right side to prove that I was done with drugs and I also always thought that the character in Dragonlance named Caramon was pronounced "Car-men" but it is actually pronounced "Care-amen" . . . if I were Raistlin in Dragonlance this would mean that my brother was a Republican but I know he is not stuck there as he mostly just didn't want to talk about it with our dad and there is also not wanting to pay more for his house.

Here, with a very serious look in her face. This would mean "you know what is next" . . . in the bottom right is an arch that might be asking for predeath funerals? The 6th of August on one side and the 9th on the other for waking up others to the beautiful definitions of their names when looking into the origins since every letter becomes a verb.

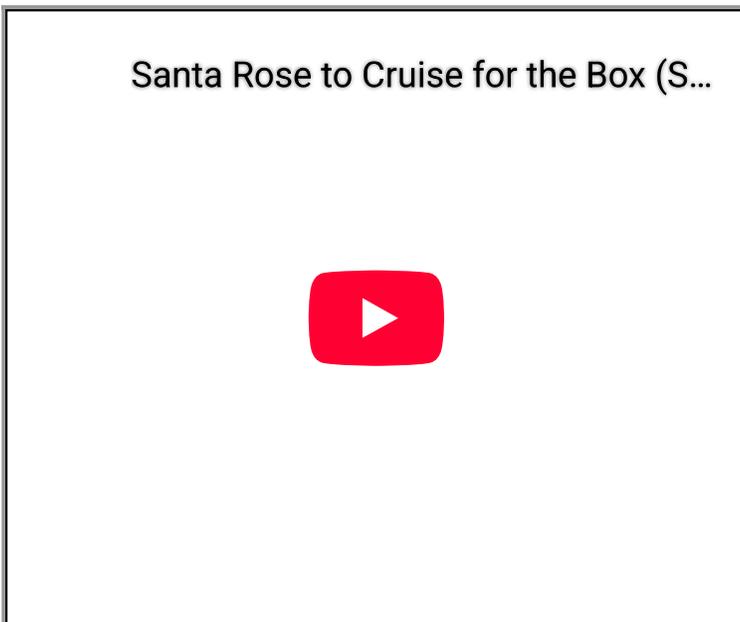

In Arizona, I picked up a stone that I called my bloodstone of Fistandantilus that synchronized as my father in that very helpful story. Notice the heart-shaped streets found in his area that gave me new hope that I would be able to fix my blood pressure. Notice my name that was Spoon was also the name of the drive we lived on. I have never done anything to try and make sure that names had to do with whatever was going on, it just happens. While helping my dad move out of state, we stayed at a hotel where I thought about taking the lotion for the very boring car ride since we had a long ride through Kansas and it had been awhile since I touched myself. On the way to the car I caught onto the name of the place being Tucumcari. As I drove I drank a lot of water as I was leaving the desert and pissed in a bottle to avoid asking my dad to pull over so this woke me up to the yellow brick road as I was dumping my urine out the window while driving. We passed by where my grandfather lived in Saint Paul so I couldn't help but notice the word Paul containing Pa = father + u = separating + l = working. Once we came across Minnesota, it seemed like the name of the place was reminding me not to let them put me in a mental hospital again. Brain + er + d = passing.

Once in his more permanent home that will be passed down to his kids when he dies someday, I started to have dreams of a woman coming to me often and sometimes I would suddenly feel like I was sharing space with her and would become suddenly very aroused as if she was there with me because she lived there! I had a dream of how the black robes meant "poly" while intimate with someone very tan that was married, so I was worried about who it could be, and now it makes sense that it was partially to teach me a lesson about how I was not sleeping with women like I thought that I was during a "dream dating" experiment. This means that the white robes would symbolize monogamy according to our dreams! I now believe that all of them were actually my future wife since I could never see her face on those dreams. In one of them, we were intimate in a hospital where I noticed a tattoo on her wrist, so the next day I announced on my stream during my "dream date experiment" that I was looking for a woman with a tattoo in this location.

I decided to travel the country until I could find where this largest echo was coming from that would ask me to get a place to live wherever she may be found. As I was passing through the country, I would not stop witnessing the names having to do with what was going on as I came across them while I worked on perfecting my website and predeath funerals to give folks the best possible experience whenever they would wake up to how this was really happening for them so that they could more properly say goodbye to their kids. In So-no-ma County, I talked to the beautiful Leah Metallic that asked to meet up with me since I followed the instructions she gave me in my dreams to go on a date with her. On my way there, I gave my largest echo an opportunity to let me know she was out there if she wanted to stop us from meeting by asking with a prayer for her to put yellow on her chest or in front of it. I was very surprised to find that every girl that I came across that day had done this but not where there was a black and white ad found. Her spirit must have been with me because I was late and missed my date with this very beautiful woman.

This inspired using footage for the Christmas Parade song.

Santa Rose To Cruise For A Box

Bone To Pick With The Late Skeleton

Awaiting punishment from my wife when I finally meet her... since I was thinking about another girl when I made this.. so it is not exactly timed for her but my latest work is because I was in San Rafael when it happened to me, the birds had just wrote a song using the power lines letting my know which notes to play. The turtle was about to get some help according to the lyrics that represented me in my car. Rafael was the meanest ninja turtle in that cartoon so why is this location asking us when I am going to get mad? Because, I am trying to bring a letter Q to my former lover that prevented us from meeting? Or is it because I am ready to finally meet this girl and it hasn't happened yet. Then I found her fighting turtles in her game World Of Warcraft and playing Cataclysm that woke me up to how she was synchronized as the very beautiful Crysania from Dragonlance if I were to be Raistlin!

I finally found the woman that was in my dreams that came to me as A wife as I was near a Target and Home Depot where the road becomes a ring and has the names of the streets that had to do with what happened in those sex dreams that I had of her that I remembered the most! Shoreline Street to remind me of when we were intimate and she was most tan and Kerner Street as if to remind me of the girl I made love with in the hospital (ER twice would mean that it was found in past tense). I was too scared to let anyone know about this though since it was a dream about the black robes, although she did not wear them in the dream. I saw her wearing black in her post she made on the Day Of Dreams but it took several months before I realized that she seems to gesture "no" to black while dancing with her friend! The first time that I saw the video I just noticed that the tunnel was found in it that represented the "vampire women" that came to my bed during my last relationship that I tried to get off by praying to a red robe so that I would be monogamous with my partner. Now I believe that it was actually just her rather than several but I was confused at first since sometimes she was more motherly shaped.

I experimented with something that I called "dream dating" online where I made a profile for dating websites and asked for the opposite gender to do things for me in the photos shared on her profile. Very simple logic prayed for by following the pentagram. These "rules" followed the ouija-board shirt that Kathleen woke me up to and it appeared that the people had a lot of fun with that. In the 1st photo, I asked for red to be shown representing her passion and to put it in the bottom right as I wanted to find someone NOW so the top left would have represented saving it while there was the "no" side I took seriously because they followed by making it a rule in my head that they HAD to or I would be impossible since I knew that my largest echo was capable of this after witnessing what my former lover did for me. The second photo asked for blue shown in the bottom left for my left foot to show me how I should change or what I should do for maybe a song idea? In the third photo, I asked for the conflict to be shown, and for purple to appear in the top right if something temporary was okay. In the 4th photo, I asked to show what we would have in the end or the reward using a green. In the 5th photo, I asked for red & green on the "yes" side or "no" side depending on whether or not they wanted children, and I was surprised to find how every profile that I checked matched their profile with where they put the colors here especially as the top right would mean "accept the children that I already have?" and I would ask for "how to put out the fire" or "what is sick?" in the 6th photo while the 7th one would be asking for direction and the 8th was a question whether or not they could live off of the food that I made for myself at home by using the same red & green colors like they would show for children. In the 9th photo, I would ask what they were tempted to do, while for the 10th, it would be whether they were zero or one? The 11th photo was for a one on one. While the 12th one would represent time and the 13th would mean going back to fix everything. 14th would be one for? 15th would be one would? If a girl liked me, maybe she would make sure to do this? Glad that I found her, who knows how long that would have taken? While going through various profiles, I thought that I was meeting various women where we would go to sleep, but now I believe that they were all my future wife since I would not be able to see their face during intercourse while in the dream because there would be hints waking me up to her real identity or how it wasn't the girl that I thought it was. For example, in one dream, we made love on top of the stairs while she wore only a red and green shirt, from behind, in the room that was not lit up, so that we would not have twins whenever it was time to have children?

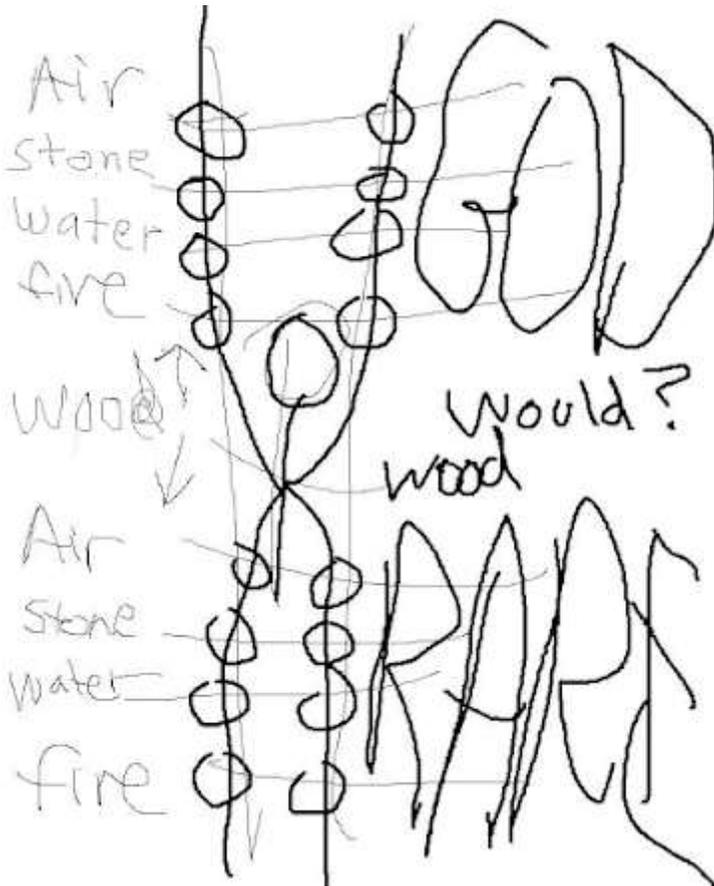

While discovering a new girl on twitch by the name of Palm Bee, I checked out her Instagram to find that for the red in the 1st photo I asked to represent our passion she gave it where my head would be found during the predeath funeral! Very romantic. Found in the upper left on the dating websites it meant "saving it for later" and she was trying to make sure that I changed my rules on my requirement that she was 100% vegan while pregnant as well as following an all raw organic food diet which is constantly shown where our disagreement is found. Red in that location meant "taken turns" getting into the other person because of having different interests while the upper right would mean never. But, here she is found on the Day Of Water that is for predeath funeral preparations as if she would be attending MINE! Is that a rectangle behind her? There is yellow on her chest as if she wanted to stop me from going out with the other girl and a green coming from the figure behind her wearing my signature pants that I was most famous in the goth scene for making while growing up. I was the only one that made several pairs of velvet pants like that, those in the Salt Lake City scene would remember. They were skin tight and laced up on the sides during the days goth clothing was not as easy to come by. Is the green coming from him going to spoon behind her? Yes and yes! ;)

Orders found in the bottom left of the 2nd picture. Ready found where the stone element is located meaning I shouldn't have intercourse with anyone else.

This would be the reasons that figures "walk like an Egyptian" on ancient walls.

I believe that this was an easy way for folks speaking different languages to understand the same requests by understanding the elements found in a pentagram for safer trades and rules to follow such as trading virgins into other tribes that paid for them.

Coming across this photo was so magical! It really woke me up to how it was her that came to me when I prayed to the red robes to get her off since I was with someone else while it was happening. Thankful not to see purple in the top right as that would mean that something temporary was okay. Here, I believe that she is showing me more than one person she is praying to, so that I understand how it would hurt if it was actually more than one person coming to sleep with me in my bed while I was asleep, coming from my future.

When I moved in with my last partner, she was likely dishonest with me from the beginning, because I was having dreams of another woman almost twice per night for the first week or two. I would wake up my partner in the middle of the night to tell her about my dream and at first, I thought that it was several different women since she had a different body shape in different dreams, but now I believe that she is my largest echo coming from the future, that was upset for what this partner did that cut her off from meeting me. She was the reason that I lost friends for the first time on Facebook because of the lies she made up about the boyfriend before me by the name of Devin. The fastest way to fix this might have been by contacting Devin but I did not know his female name so maybe such a word would be obtained through Owen's mouth?

For what we a green on in the end she somehow knew that it was for a ceremony that I came up with that we will repeat every year to rekindle everything as a promise being an older person to become an extraordinary mate so that she doesn't ever leave me. Ceremonial fabric will be carried with an ankh during the Sixteen Scented Celebration that is unwrapped from the wrist on the Day Of Air to be joined around our hands.

Looking like Cysania more and more... incredibly romantic! It also gives her a more realistic view regarding our age difference.

Fifth is for children. There is a secret joke tied to the toothless grin she will get a kick out of someday.

This is the 6th photo on Palm Bee's side and it is also shown as the 8th where her friend Kyootbot shared this so hopefully it means we will double-date someday whenever she finds Gilthanas as she has synchronized as Silvara? So, what would be sick about this since its the 6th? I agree. No ready white balls for multiple women!

This is the earliest photo found of her found online? Or maybe the one easiest to access? I would show the video but while working on this it is like I can hear her in my head asking me not to. I see her as the most beautiful woman in the world right now most especially because of the experience that I have while finding her in my childhood and I know that it will be true on her side as well. This will be part of the reason why she wears a soundgarden shirt as her pumpkin PJs to bed as it means that I may wake her up, nicely. Red in the bottom for spooning? Orders to sing out of my car being the turtle? The birds made a song about a turtle about to get help that represented my car right before I discovered her online. For the conflict it shows the bee between us? Makes sense! I think its obvious why there is not a green found in the top left as she would like to hear it in my voice?

That Christmas I cried while watching her read the Red Eaten story and woke up to how they made it for us seemingly since she was on a diet of lean meats only at the time so this would follow ancient customs to have empathy for the chicken and the turkey that is also tied into the celebration that I made. Ancient Gods and Goddesses would have the head of an animal when having empathy for it or sharing space so the creators of the story could be asking us to wake up to how we could treat what we become better as proof that we are what we eat may be experienced in a dream. Rafael is the turtle with the color red?

Is she worried about horns above my head because she is holding a triangle? NO! It would be a halo on me that is only for her.

This photo that shows blue on the "no" side while she is giving such a serious face look on her face with her hand over her heart! It was this photo that woke me up to how the elements are found on the body and the reasons that figures are shown "walking Egyptian" on the ancient walls. I have learned a lot about how to read the Egyptian walls since then. Maybe this photo connects to the time that I acted crazy while taking pictures of myself because I put a purple target on my forehead while taking pictures of myself and did random things that are so very meaningful today!

Here, I show myself acting weird as if someone wants to hurt me found on the other side of the photos when no one has been mean to me since childhood, at least, not while in person! Somewhere like Facebook, they only say mean things about me behind my back, if it's found anywhere? What is negative only comes from strangers as well, unless someone is trying to prevent me from no longer being single, that is the most important thing to know if you are looking into my background. Maybe it comes from being accused of being a "dangerous stalker"? How sad and false! What the woman went through to take my virginity was pretty extreme honestly. Women were left at my house while someone drove off while I was in the car until she suddenly stopped and told us that we had to go inside somewhere with a loaner bed because she was too drunk to drive. Around the time that I posted these pictures, I told my Facebook wall that I was dreaming of another woman intimately twice every night for the first week or two while I was with my new partner so I prayed to the red robe to get her off which makes sense now as it would mean "not ready" . . . on this night, my friends asked me not to get mad at a Rasputina concert, because they had a gift for us, and at this show they changed the lyrics from "life" to "wife" while my girl wore a white dress. Look at the bracelets that I am wearing! They would mean, "know the spot behind my back in my next crossing..." while I have a purple target on my head which has meant to "avoid" if its this color because of scar tissue so this would mean, "my target is somewhere else!" Roses in the hair? The air element is for the spouse according to ancient customs found in the pentagram!

These photos were posted before the show and went online November 1st which was the same day this woman shown above posted herself in this white dress and I believe that it was her that came to our bed twice every night because of being with me for much longer in the future compared to the girl that I was with during that time. November 1st also falls on the same day that a celebration is found that I had made before I knew about this magical coincidence! It is supposed to be able to hook up everyone so that no one feels rejected, especially where they are found in the past, so that they do not become too sad when comparing themselves to us. There is a green ring found behind me on the "yes" side as well! Pumpkin colors are found which become more meaningful later. So, why the refrigerator? Because, I am currently living out of my car without one due to putting my time in making a blog post like this one rather than looking for a place to live as I have continuously thought that it would be my last week going through this for the rest of my life, but I need a response and to get the attention of the girl that did this to me where we go to sleep!

So, what is this about the rose that is found on her white dress? It wakes me up to what the girl looked like in my mind during my childhood the most when I would touch myself and imagine another mermaid that looked like her while waiting. Since I found an echo of my lovers in my childhood it should be true that my children are found there as well! Would this mean that when I would pretend to cook in my plastic kitchen for my stuffed toys this is happening in the future somewhere? What is she doing with her toys? Is the one that she likes the most being picked on by the others for asking them not to be mean to another one? What kind of creations did she come up with when she would play with her legos? How much would I actually be there with her in the past if we are to stay happily married for more than just a vow for our children?

Pink Baby and Hoopity Hopper by T...

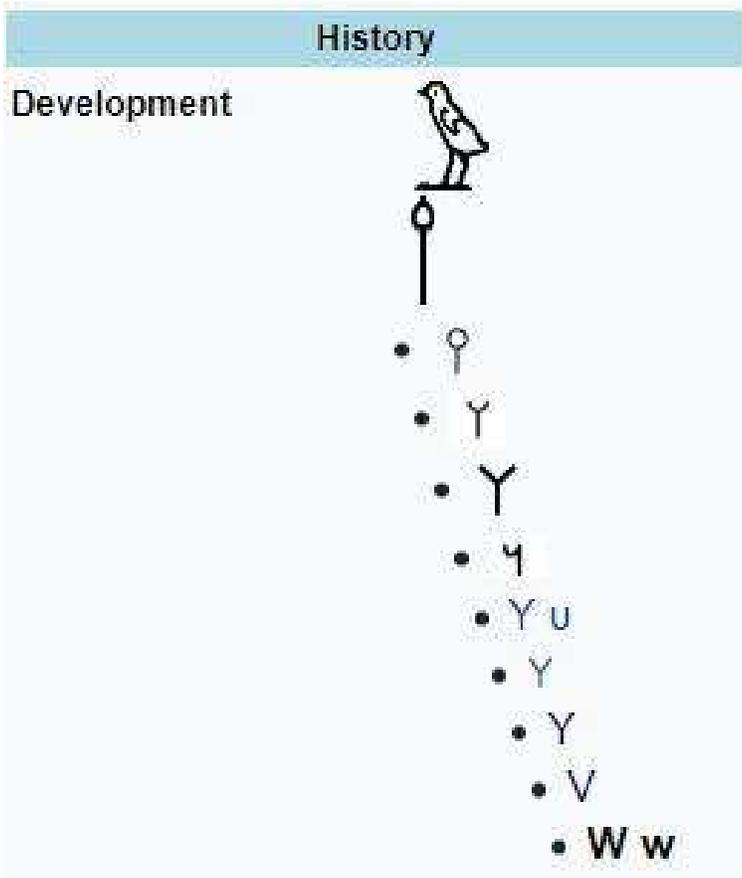

I used to turn a picture of Christie Brinkley sideways to sleep next to so that I could wake up pretending to be married to her while my favorite toy was "pink baby" and my favorite color was pink my dad would ask me in public because he thought it was funny so there might be a connection to He-man appearing as "prince Adam" wearing pink? My mother met all sorts of famous people as a flight attendant while my father became an actor later on.

Christie Brinkley? The letter "B" means "warning" while the letter "W" means "flocking with everything..."

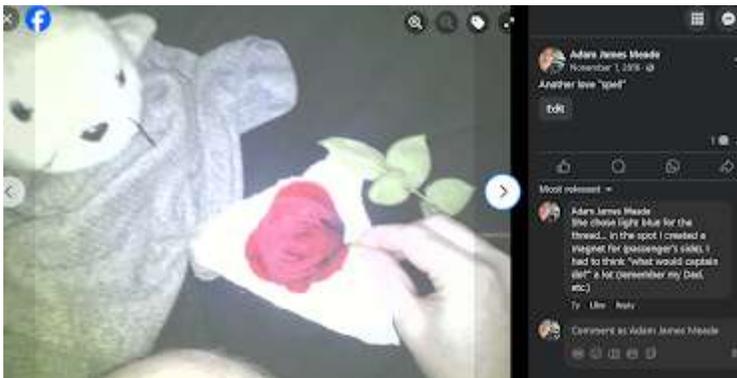

The universal "b" used to be a bow strung back if someone were to "step in the water" uninvited... like when a child puts up their hands, etc. Walking on water symbolizes not touching anyone because of the water element representing tease.

This is pretty self-explanatory? Some of my explanations are not found as much anymore in the Wikipedia until people update it more but they will typically come from the combination of everything people came up with to represent the letter along with the timing of thoughts that are sent to us whenever we come across the origins.

Later on in life, I kept a seal with me to cuddle in bed that represented the echo of a child. I took this seal everywhere with me for some time, taking pictures of travel with him. Coaty was his name.

"A-not-her love spell?" At the time that I made this it was for Kat. Why is there a triangle though? You will find out later why the triangle has associated with this Palm Bee girl everywhere... maybe, it is for a third lover? Not something I would be into.. and according to the picture below, neither would Kat?

Blue on the "no" side and this is probably for polybius because of the "giant tree looming over Portland" found in the prophecy of the Green Man made by an artist in Portland which has already started to happen as I paid Kat to read Dragonlance so her thought clouds would have shown a stag in the sky since we lived above ground level and the characters in this story follow one. She is found pointing at the blue in front of the arcade downtown where we lived.

"Leaves the hilt"?

NOW, this picture makes a lot more sense and so does the hilt! You see, before I hooked up with her I briefly dated someone by the name of Anna. Combine their names without a letter n (n = loving represented by a rising snake) and it would be katana? Just a hilt would mean what? No former lovers for me when I found that I am dreaming about my wife and the mother of my children! Where is a green man pointing? The spot on her leg that would mean the "air" element for the spouse?

I disagree here as I point it to "nose, eye right" where it is found ON the tree! Incredible... now, I know why I wore my hair ridiculous like that as well! The word "hair" contains "air" which our ancestors and subconscious minds link to our spouse as this was what the element represented for countless generations! I tied my hair above where the car is found in the background with a particular "white bottom" that is important to note for what is discovered later in this blog post!

I tried to get back together with Kathleen but she wouldn't take me back and now it is too late because I want children but she would only be able to provide me with a few, at most, while I am not exactly ready for them this moment as I had made a promise to myself as a child that I would make sure that I lived somewhere as nice as my parents before having them. This might mean building my own house somewhere equivalent to "Highland" that might represent "heaven" to me right now since there may not be anything better than having an entire life to look forward to while having two beautiful parents to sing me to sleep during my next life. Where I grew up was in a community of artists that combined artworks and a river that would wind around our homes so we would get into tubes and take a ride from the top to the bottom, occasionally passing through the backyard of a neighbor's home.

Palm Bee goes by the real name that is Amber Flynn. I worked on making the rules for the game by AmBr Entertainment for thousands of hours, honestly. No one else has spent more time doing this to any game. It would be nice to make it into a console someday should I ever earn enough money to be able to make such an investment? The game that I plan to make would be bringing people together more than online games do now so that folks are not neglected as I make sure it's helpful for the community as I know it will be addictive. It would not surprise me if this Forkgirl is found in my future somehow because of how I would have dreams of talking to her. Of course, I will not want to put my wife through anything she would have to worry about. It is my dream to recreate a community like the one where I grew up in Highland that connected properties with ponds and art-walks. I am afraid of the flowers that grow from the heads of the passerby as found in the legend of the green man because she puts leaves in her hair that have been timed so my mind knows to go away from another woman. If she put flowers in her hair for inviting another I would look for someone else completely to have children with, of course. I spent enough Christmas Evenings alone so do not want to put my kids through that!

The letter 'p' has the origin that would mean 'sailing' or 'dreaming' so with two has meant "know" while she has something that appears like what is found on the album above her bed that makes sense as I planned on making songs that are programmed from the right ear into her left until the moments that are most romantic to convince her I won't leave that will be heard from the left to the right. Songs and albums that came out in the goth scene shows which lover I was with because of how they connect to us in their sleep while working... for example, when the "Minus Touch" came out by Edward Ka-Spel I was bed-ridden and it hurt whenever my girl touched me, probably because of methadone withdrawals because I was dumb enough to use it while snowboarding! The album called "The Tunnel" by the Legendary Pink Dots seemed to be synched with the last relationship that I was in! I was told that the artwork on the back was different from what others had and it asks me to hold my tongue (fingers?) for the person I was with so I will. This same artist also made "Trapped In Amber" and I believe now that its because he responded to our echo that is married with children.

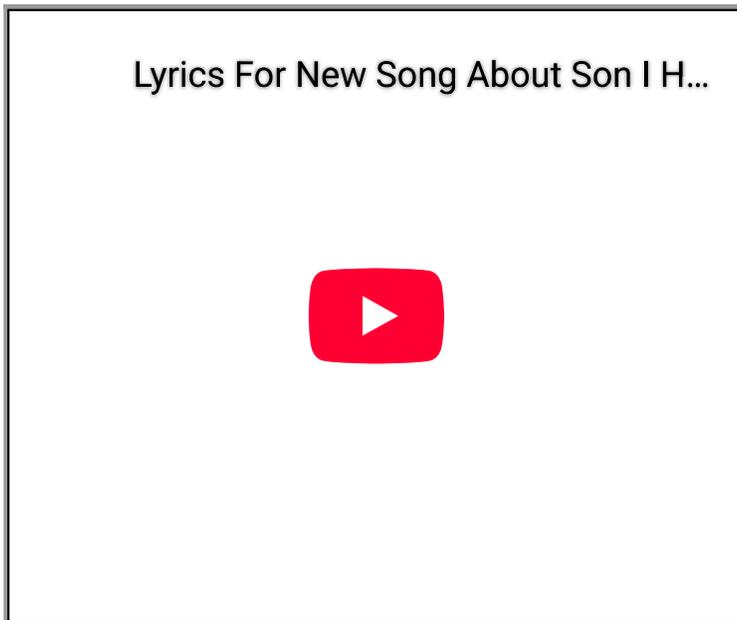

If I were to be Finn because of my claim (letter f) that I have a child that I met in my dreams (best letters for this would be nn because it means "fed" "drank" or "loved" in the way that has children) than Palm Bee would be Princess Bubblegum while Forkgirl Cosplay that was the "flower girl" in my dreams would be Marceline! What a lovely dream come true that is happening for these cosplayers! Something the people that are working on making amends the most deserve to have. Check out the dozen dragon days of November and how to use them every year to make it fun facing things that were previously neglected.

It sure makes sense that Princess Bubblegum would sync with Palm Bee as I have a claim to make as Finn! The black fuzzy hat that I wear, most noticeable in a video about the letter 'A' that I made for kids, looks a lot like the one that this character wears but it is white, reminding me not to wear the black robes, and stick to monogamy.

In LA I had three dreams of our sons... 1st time he got into trouble at school so we took him to the worst spot in the house to think because of being west of where the most trash or bacteria was found, my wife was with me by my side wearing her huge soundgarden shirt, as usual.. 2nd time he was just a baby in a crib and Amber was taking a shower while I was instructed that I couldn't get in it which I think was because I needed to use suboxone for longer to lower my blood pressure so that I live longer by working out heavily once we are together but I will be off it completely, everything, by the time that the child is born. It appeared like she was located in the same spot where I was suddenly very aroused when I lived in this house but there was something very different about it as if we had a lot of money and really fixed it up by making it nicer. In the third dream of our son, he was moving out and we were packing things while I noticed the white car he was using had a particular bottom to it that was more noticeable which has appeared lately in the background near a beautiful woman I have wanted to check out, but was reminded of the dream, as if my son was asking me only to think of his mom. There is a particular video that I used to save myself for her where she might have felt the most embarrassed by her figure while sharing online but she knew to wear a wedding dress as if she knew he would do this for her and I obeyed while she just played the song "Rising Sun" so I felt suddenly aroused while writing this since she is streaming right now!

<https://youtu.be/0I0NCv5S9bc>

This is the car that appears like the one I saw my son packing in a dream that has recently appeared everywhere I come across an attractive woman! It has a particular shape that shows a white bottom. I don't have any children though so why am I having dreams of them? Isn't she beautiful! Notice how she wears camouflage that covers her butt? Yes, I was definitely thinking that this girl was with me!

See Finn's "white bottom" found behind her? She says, "get in" & its located @ the palms... she stands on n = loving/feeding/eating/drinking & e = wondering

(Please sign up on my website for the letter Q to help me bring this girl a line-up of handsome men!)

I believe that this has made her sync to the Dragonlance character Jenna that is also known as the "daughter of the red moon" and I hope that she forgives me for thinking that she was my largest echo at first but I woke up to street names and how they do matter! This would mean that there is a "Dalamar" out there she has yet to meet or find? Someone inspired by coming across me, perhaps? The way that the red light shines on her as she is seen here! Very beautiful. Jenna shows her left side that inspired me to make a karaoke song to allow a male to come from her left side to show the message that he would not be leaving.

My situation? I made a discovery a few lovers ago that so many others already know about but how do they share safely? Where I grew up, everyone knew that they were not only real where we go to sleep but they also had the same dream because when addition is used to everything that is found out there such as dream diaries, we will find this connection very real! Please help me create a letter Q for the other women such as Kathleen found in the Pearl District I believe FOR THIS REASON!

Why have I saved myself for Palm Bee like this? I have had dreams of brides that wanted me as far as I could see but the one that kneeled at Riverside "won" because why? It shows in one of her clips she is singing to Kate Bush about "swapping places" and another woman is found there.

https://youtu.be/EZs7zjQnE_E

I have had 20+ intimate dreams of Palm Bee before meeting her?! It is actually very possible that I have already "met" her one night at Lovecraft while I was drinking we kissed passionately as strangers but I forgot her name. If this is true it would mean that her parents wanted me to go home with her? A.M. be r = heading. Was I the only man at the club that night with the ambitions and goals waking me up every morning that involved things they wanted from me? I cannot share here what this actually is. If I didn't meet her there, would it mean that they wanted her to break up with whoever she was with? 4 of them she was HAPPILY married to me! 3 of them our son was there with us! They might be different children? Most likely is real that we have a baby when one is moving out if this is true? He knew to pack his things in a car with a "white bottom" because recently it has been found next to every beautiful woman that is attractive as if he knew to remind me not to think of anyone but mom so I will honor this!

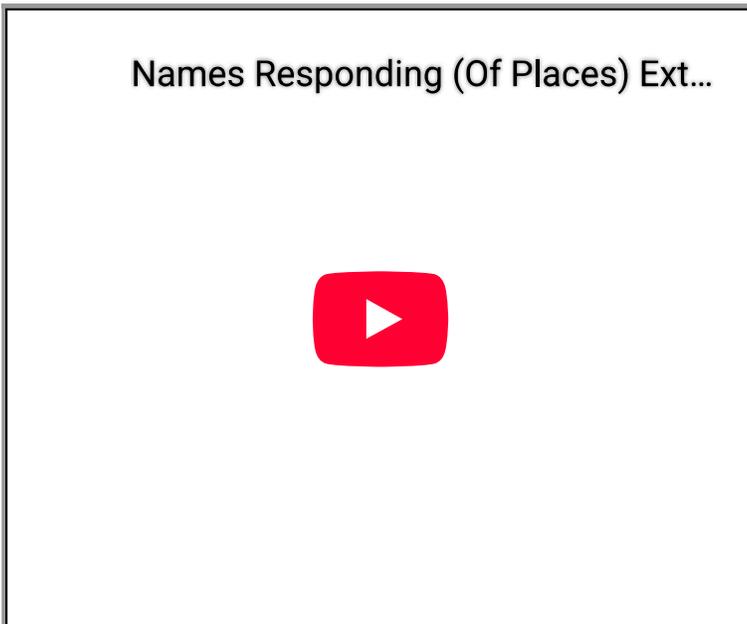

<https://youtu.be/UAainvFt8BI>

In the thumbnail you can see that it is a PALM that has violet on it asking me to stay away from that girl? The white RIGHT palm? hrrmMMMM makes sense to me now... wow! I thought that she could be my largest echo since I heard her voice in my head calling herself "Leslie" for some reason? Back in 2020. I promise that I am not lying about anything! I plan to pay for lie detector tests in the way that makes it impossible to tamper with the results for the public once I meet Palm Bee and work on sharing our incredible story!

Where was I located when I had that dream I thought starred Violent Vickie?

<https://youtu.be/JzzQrArrS5c>

On November 8th when I had a dream of who I thought was Violent Vickie it was located at Rohnert Park Expy & Labath... I was heading to her in LA because of this incident here but she MOVED by the time that I arrived:

r = heading + o = sharing/surrounding + h = tying the knot

(roh describes what happened in our dream! we were surrounded by a bunch of people when someone with similar hair as Vickie came to me while people were watching as she dominate me but I could not see her face! Recently, because of the dreams of my son, I woke up to how this was NOT actually Vickie which makes sense as the next day I went through her photos and videos wondering why her hair was not the same length as the girl in the dream that came to me..)

e = wondering + r = heading + t = gifting (these letters make sense since it happened on November 8th so it matters who would be the one that wrapped her hands with mine?)

(Pa = father) p = dreaming/sailing + a = caring + r = headed + k = touching

e = wondered + x = marking (almost sex with these letters but the letter 's' would have to be there which means our bodies would have to connect... but seeing 'ex' and marking is suggesting that something would be wrong?) + p = dreamed/sailed + y = line between good/evil

How do I know that its not Vickie in that dream? She kind of lets me know in her songs... "come and run" with the timing while she has an ironic way of calling me a "bad lover" where we go to sleep? This song scares me because I am supposed to "run" to catch the air that kissed me on the chest so if I were to "come" first my dream warned me about this. It was my favorite song of hers that I listened to the most. Makes more sense now as to why. The reason that I know is because she wore the soundgarden shirt as PJs while we had to lecture our son in the spot that is most dangerous to think because he got into trouble at school. She was facing us when this happened and in these dreams I WAS SUPPOSED TO SEE THAT IT WAS HER while in the dream of Vickie it was my wanting to put a face on her that made it out to be Vickie but in the actual dream I didn't know her identity and couldn't see her face because of the lighting. In the dream of my wife coming to me when I moved my dad into his latest place (that is MUCH more permanent) she had "the most sun" if that makes sense? As if it was her far in the future? It seems like she came to me as an elderly woman that was not as big as a much younger version and I am a bit embarrassed to admit that it doesn't really bother me as much as it would bother other people. I am confident that I will be able to encourage her until she becomes the elderly woman that looked as great as she did!

Petaluma was where I went through the "he loves me, he loves me not.." experience! As if they were picking petals off of flowers while thinking about me somewhere else? It was what they said to my brain as I was falling asleep near Kenilworth Drive. Perfect name! Ken = handing who loving? il = balancing + working (to make sure that none of them are rejected by bringing them a "letter Q" that will be a line-up of handsome men or whatever that put objects at their feet like the celebration that I made describes) +worth is w = flocking with everything + orth = great "word" for making sure the heading goes to marriage since the fabric that is a 't' until it is wrapped around a hand transforming it into a letter 'h'! As I was falling asleep I was having a "schizophrenic attack" located here. The ladies were discussing what direction I should go when Amber Flynn "won" because of my huge need for children as the others didn't really want to go that way or maybe couldn't compared to her as some may have been older than me. The location really mattered where the decision was made to pursue Palm Bee first where I was when I wrote Vickie and others... an act known as connecting to a Mr. Johnson because of the Shadowrun sync and what I have previously shared. My first favorite toy was "pink baby" and as an adult I kept a stuffed seal with me that I would snuggle that I believe is an echo from future children. Ellis Street? ell = "what worked" + is. Alma Court which is all (-l means the working doesn't stop) + ma. Doris Way is beautiful because of the picture found on my desktop right now linking to Vickie's recent song as well as what happened to someone at the club recently that had quite the spiritual spooky experience where she asked for something and got it unexpectedly! A blue door found in the bottom right. It is supposed to go to her pumpkin due to transforming the numbers 88 from "hail Hitler" into something else that means "tying the knot" . . . Martin Place is found right there next to Martin Circle! (Ma = mother + r = heading + t = crossing + in) but the letters 'in' are supposed to help the other women too if they want kids, but bringing them a letter Q. Washington Street is found there which makes sense as I needed to be as clean as possible.

Palm Bee Clips (Part 1)

The word "yours" is found in blue behind her on this menu on the "no" side which makes a lot more sense now that I have been having romantic dreams of another woman wearing a soundgarden shirt to bed as my wife which means, "you may wake me up nicely!"

Thanks to the funny experience that I had when coming across Alicia Silverstone's pictures, I now call these "whatever" girls to myself, to help me get by just in case I am rejected. Cornell Road and the Aerosmith song with her in it showing her holding onto a road. Corn is yellow. Get it? Funny joke! Wakes me up to how its Amber thanks to Chris Cornell and the dreams that I have had about those streets. My wife wears a soundgarden shirt to bed as PJs for when she wants me to "wake her nicely" in my dreams and I saw her face as she dominated me several times now being PALM BEE or AMBER FLYNN! no doubt about it. Dreams of our children too. What is funny is the joke found in that song by Aerosmith "trying to forget you!" because Cornell Road has represented our love life so I am thankful for Kurt Cobain calling himself a stain as I woke up to how I would be a cob nobbler until I find success from others discovering the truth! It is like his soul is out there timing things so that I survive through this and it is found everywhere!

As I have said in my song, I became obsessed with "a green V" (v = grouping) and kept thinking about starting at her toe to treat her with utmost respect as well as the food that I came across. While having schizophrenic attacks, someone matching her personality kept coming to me on my left side which would be where she would always sleep when we eventually lived together.

Ask Palm Bee To Add Any Lyrics If ...

Please help me by dropping what you are doing to become part of this story by letting her know right now that this happened!

<https://youtu.be/KHMPqAlpI8>

Right now, I need help because of human trafficking that has occurred as Palm Bee, otherwise known as Amber Flynn, was prevented from knowing the truth about what was going on with me on my side, while others did things to prove that they were justified with blocking me by probably encouraging her to be "illegal" or maybe date a black man somehow? It did not matter to these people if I was related to anyone that died to give me these rights to show her what she did or her rights to chose who she wants to be with?

The woman before her that tried to meet me known as Alisin Moon online, suffered damage to her car, that prevented her from coming to visit me at my place as planned because according to our dreams I was supposed to lead her to the tub that represented cleaning her up as this would have been my influence but with such a cut made by others it could have sparked a sort of suicidal rage to punish others for doing this to us as if they would even care? This happened because of using Pirate Bay while I was documenting everything that was happening to me so that Forkgirl Cosplay would know what she did with magical timing as I came across her, as every girl deserved to know, if she was effected in some way on her side because of anything that I was doing on mine, of course! What man would disagree? I would start by letting him know?

For a long time on Facebook, I spoke of finding the "flower girl" from my dreams that was like my best friend that I would talk to all night and then wake up feeling down because of her being gone. None of them were intimate dreams as far as I know but at first, I thought that there must have been at least one, and maybe she was the largest echo coming from my future, until I saw that she shown "two yellow kisses" on her chest among other facts that indicated the identity of my future wife being another. I came across the name of her cat named Winchester around the time that I had a dream of the air kissing me on the chest before she ran off while I was warned about any women found between us that could be a distraction.

Around this time of finding Taylor (otherwise known as Takhisis if you are a fan of my YouTube channel), I woke up to Dragonlance synchronicity comparing us to fictional characters so that the names of our country are not wasted as I have been "glowing" due to the miraculous timing always found whenever I come across them as if trying to help me with what I am doing such as introducing predeath funerals, or being able to reach this girl before someone stops me to prevent people from being able to meet their spouse and have the most romantic experience possible found by their discovery in our memory we deserve to have while we live in our conscious mind. The Cataclysm would represent the world changing since "Adam is not allowed to move" due to the name CanAda or more accurately put, others are trying to blame them for it, because this is somehow easier than accepting responsibility or making amends for how I was wronged? Palm Bee would be the "fiery mountain" that struck the ignorant Kingpriest of Istar according to the timed thoughts that I would have while reading these stories. It is a very beautiful story for the people that want to be forgiven while we lived once and have come up with our worst ideas for something not human we may have been tricked to send for or was the foul found somewhere else that is a bit scarier to admit was real? Being someone also synchronized as a villain it is helpful to compare him to myself so that I wake up more to my flaws or get some helpful advice coming from the souls of the authors. I know someone synchronized as Fizban would like to be forgiven but the only way to do this would be for his loved ones to put themselves in his shoes on the Day Of Empathy? This was what I created for countering everything negative and finding forgiveness for myself or others that were inspired by what is witnessed when looking into my story. This name means claiming the blame where I was banned. There is a location that I hurt insects as a child while west of garbage that may be like something forever waving at my family as a curse? No, not as long as I do not neglect what I have created to work on so that I earn this life and prevent others from making the same mistakes. They also have these locations and it is capable of killing a lot of people if we are going to do things such as trust our thoughts completely as they may have existed on this planet both before and after humanity. Scary reality? Not when you find their kind purr once birds are fed something to save them? Why must there be a question mark there.

Please help me bring Kat a "line-up" of handsome men by going to my website on <https://tweeting20s.com> and joining an event for the letter Q! This photo was taken one night while we took a walk to the Goddess she prayed to and I picked up what I called a "hilt" on the ground that was blue and I acted crazy as all of the photos that I took that night shown blue behind me where this hilt pointed as if I could see behind me somehow while taking the pictures? It is very surprising what our subconscious minds are capable of, I have found to be very real.

C = taking + o = sharing/surrounding + u = separating + c = taken + h = tying the knot

Why was I praying to a red robe here? c = taking + ouch

(Da = father) D = passing along fresher + a = caring + v = grouping + i = balancing + s = measuring what enters body

Really describes my last relationship where I had intimate dreams of another woman more than once every night in the bed when I first moved in so before I had dreams of a wife and children, I thought she was several different women since she was bigger than other times when she came to me.

(this needs to be MUCH later...)

<https://youtu.be/KHMPqAlpPI8>

I found the woman that came to me in my dreams intimately over 20+ times now! In 7 of them, we were happily married and in 3 of them our children were there with us, while in 1 or 2 of them she was pregnant!

In Portland, I dated only a couple women "seriously" and their names would be Kat and Anna so it is funny how the origin of the letter 'n' would mean eating/drinking/loving so without 'loving' the word katana is found! How will my largest echo use this weapon to warn me of how it could hurt our relationship or maybe our children? She has and it is a beautiful thing to witness! I have been on the hunt for a shieldmaiden in my daydreams so a ship has represented our family because of the amount of time remembering those ancestors to feel cleaner when I have been dirty.

In Minnesota while moving my father into his more permanent residence I started to talk about how I was looking for a girl from my dreams in videos and in Facebook that had tattoos down her wrist in the same spot that Palm Bee shows hers I now believe this is because I plan on naming our children names that begin with the letter "m" due to my father family all having "j" names so since the Robinhood theme is kind of found maybe one of our kids will have children with all letter "i" names? The letter j measured a person's worth or ability to judge others while the letter m is for moving to a different location. During ancient times it was a zigzag found on a map for every rune there was a marker. In the entrails found when someone returned to a camp that was abandoned, runes would show the way so that a person could not get lost. I had an intimate dream of having her in a hospital while she was in her gown so I believe that she was pregnant while this happened (so technically there were two dreams she was pregnant?). In another dream, I found out that the black robe means poly while sleeping with a married woman that was very tan and had "the most sun" so I was worried about telling people about this until I started to dream of our children and had plenty of other dreams of being married to this same woman. This particular dream was for building the beautiful experience that I witnessed when I first saw her photos! What she posted on the Day Of Dreams shows her seemingly letting me know that she was NOT into the black robe! Once I first saw her, I pulled over under a tree away from people... on her stream she was magically timed as if she knew what I was doing on my side while trying to give me the most romantic experience possible!? She succeeded with a lot of unexpected help!

This is why the street names are so magical as I came across Shoreline Parkway and Kerner Blvd to remind me who she was that I already met in the dream world. There is a ring found where Target meets Home Depot so it really makes sense now why I put that target on my forehead. Shoreline made sense since she had the most sun in the dream she came as my wife I was remembering as I first saw her as I thought it was her while also the name Kerner would be (k = handing/touching + ER {emergency room} + n = loving + ER {emergency room found!})

In San Rafael, the birds wrote a song using me as their puppet by landing on power lines to show me which notes to play. It was about a turtle that was going to get some tremendous help. This turtle represented my car because I usually slept in guestrooms while in the bay area but I was too worried of someone breaking into my car so I called it my turtle. Isn't Rafael the most angry ninja turtle? The letter "d" seems to come from where my father lives in Brain-ER-d and it means passing along the freshest and is seen as a bowl on the Egyptian wall. Are the cowboys or whatever somehow making a joke because I am too nice as the most commonly used street found in San(d) Rafael would be Hetherton (He + t=crossing + her + ton)?

Maybe She Will Realize by Thee Unti...

For maybe a year on dating websites, I asked my partner to give me this: red in the bottom right to show me her passion for me, blue in the bottom left of the second photo to show me orders or how I should change, in the top right of the third I asked for the conflict to be shown and purple if something temporary was okay, while the forth was for the top left where I asked for what was found in the end showing a green that is found here for m more than you know?

There is even a turtle found in the bottom left where my "orders" would obviously be to sing AND she is singing about Pokemon that is what the celebration her tattoo is perform for was going to use for some of the participants during the letter Q on the Day Of Air. Two has meant "kNOw" so it's not bright to leave our marriage? Chair has meant taking away from marriage since air would be for the spouse and the letter "c" can mean "taking" . . .

Ready rectangle behind her looks like part of the vow that have been giving from my side... as I want our kids never to be alone during Christmas like I was too many years as an adult! The bee being a conflict for two reasons! No to stingers and something found between us. She sings about how she wants to be the very best in this video that I would love to share here but her ghost asks me not to. When I downloaded her clips that are old and first looked at them all on my phone I clearly heard her voice in my head for a moment much louder than usual ask me not to look at her until she was ready for it like she was crying and terrified that I would think she was ugly. It made me a lot more motivated to prove to her that I thought she was the best and will put all of my focus onto her so she should be feeling my zap as I do feel hers, in return!

Where she is found online, they always seem to know that we are married with children as if we are looking at them from the future?
It shows here red in the bottom right of the first photo found in the stack (where I ask for the passion to be found, etc.)

Posted on the Day Of Water for predeath funeral preparations so I am grateful for the rectangles... for the passion found in the 1st photo in a stack, where is Palm Bee? Found in the end somewhere?

I asked for the conflict in the 3rd photo and it challenges me to live longer than her! Would I be her spoon? I've had two warnings of her dying before me but I won't know until...

4th photo in a stack was for "what is found in the end" and they are all on a rectangle... Yikes! Not ALL of them! Some people really do just want to be left alone and we will respect that..

Red & green I asked for to show whether or not there will be children in the 5th photo...

Because of the "yell ow" escalator behind her this is asking me not to be turned on by more than one girl a bit more than usual for our children... Ready right balls behind?

1st in a stack I ask for red in the bottom right for the passion but where's Waldo?

Is this about my dream?

Is she saying "no" to the black robes in this?

Posted on the Day Of Dreams!

On a dating website in my profile I asked for them to put "red to represent passion in the bottom right!" while the fifth picture is to show whether or not they wanted children so this really connects to the dreams that I had now!

<https://youtu.be/AcxMX6rzJv4?si=MtFdvzI3fOgcNXmY>

Need to write this differently more like a story that her identity is discovered later?

Street notes:

While thinking of another woman I was found where Julia street meets A (a = caring). My mother went through a man-hating phase after the divorce and became a lesbian while we lived out in the middle of one of the most conservative spots in the country? She slept with a neighbor that was also a "single mom" who had children that we became close to. One of them I met in the 1st grade when I first went to school by the name of Julia. On my very first day she came up to me and grabbed me as well as the other "cutest boy" in the class and told us that we were hers! It was very cute and innocent at the time. Funny coincidences that haven't stopped! Thankfully, there was also a Church in the view that reminded me of how I wanted to put my focus into just one girl so I had to pick.

I slept in my car behind whole foods where 4th street meets Mary & Union and this was where I would first fantasize of Palm Bee the most and also in front of the Marin History Museum (Ma= mother + r = heading + in) once no one was around and everyone asleep.

As a kid, I chose Maryanne over Ginger, but like perhaps everyone, just wanted to see the opposite gender naked somehow and use that but where I could choose she always looked the same as the woman coming to me in my sleep as my wife!

The wife of Tim the toolman Taylor which is funny because of the names in that show ask me "why not have more than one?" since his last name is what?

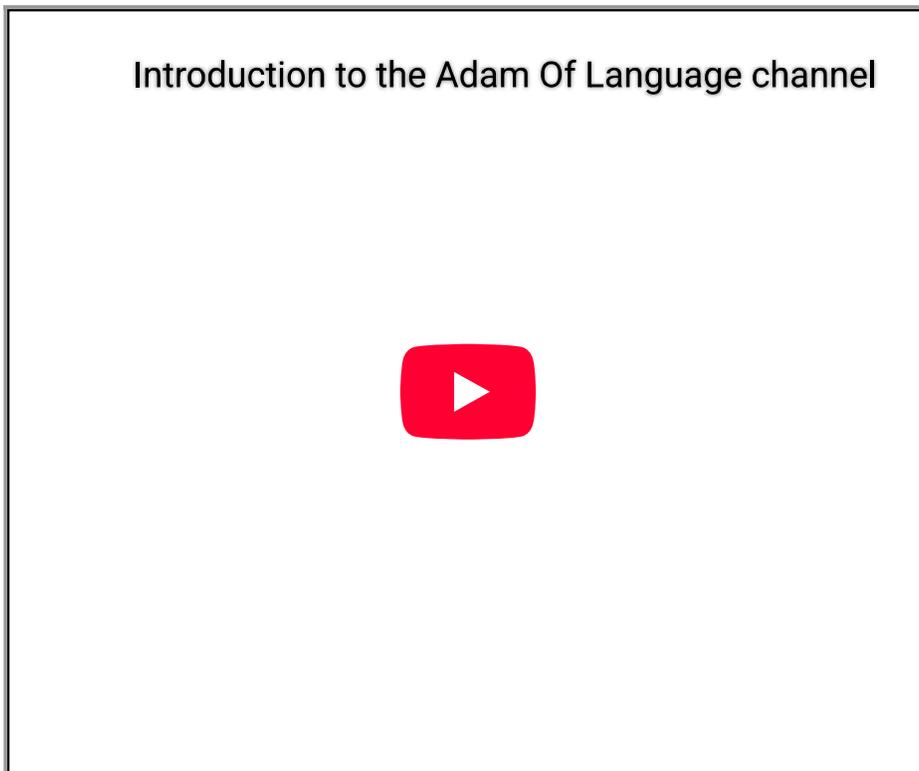

Tim Allen: All + e = i + n = loving

I also chose Deanna Troi

I am so grateful for the names of this country since my car broke down at Garner Street where I should have been able to connect to Holly easily who would have helped me but I was being illegally blocked! There is no way that Holly would have ignored my situation without the assistance of others surrounding her with layers of, "no, you don't!"

In 2019 when I discovered the birds, my attempts to share this was blocked, and since then I have had a broken view counter showing only ominous threats everywhere that I have used the internet. This all started when Edward Ka-Spel made the album "Permission To Leave The Temple" without a question mark but more likely happened when I made certain posts that made their Church look bad.

<https://youtu.be/OJhJxfZ7ofE>

I went over my friends photos who passed away with newfound understanding as every one of them left a trail that asks for more attention somehow as if it is addictive and I know what this feels like as it is one of the reasons that I did things to the extreme for attention as a person does feel this... when a beautiful woman is thinking about me, I not only time myself for it without knowing but certainly feel it so what I created is for getting others off of me logically by helping them find another or else they may distract whatever it is that I have on accident like an electrical magnetic pull? Part of me wants to "let myself go" and no longer look good so that I do not have to worry about men most especially since people are CAUGHT now while masterbating unlike before and this really makes me worry about the safety of my kids but the water element representing tease is helpful and saves people. Gives us something to live for. Some people make it through life simply because there was an attractive coworker of the opposite gender when they otherwise may have ended it?

On my friends Facebook page there were no comments where this photo was found so I posted this video and saw her eyes connect to the music video that I watched on my other monitor with a prayer she takes better care of herself! In this a woman is found dancing against the "would" obstacle! Interesting to think about being married with someone that agrees to give dead loved ones a special treat in the mind on the 11th. What I was witnessing felt like letting her know that she was dead so this would be how Raistlin has hourglass eyes? Everyone actually does but some people are more helpful than others as there is something more attractive about life. Is she able to know when I remember her over the stone?

It's in the way that she walks

Her Heaven is never enough {on the 11th of November there will be moments of reminding people to "lend the dead" some of their positive wanted light in the celebration that begins with a reminder to respect privacy as it is obvious when a ghost wants no attention somewhere?}

She puts the weights in my heart

She puts, oh, she puts the weights into my little heart

This is something we would have listened to! They thought it was so funny that I didn't know what "emo" was since they told me that I had that kind of company often but for awhile I pronounced it "emu" which is an animal from Africa, oops?!

She is probably letting us know right here about the dangerously cute birds and bees making dangerous sounds outside... this was the picture that I came across after I told her in my mind that she had died.. it shows a "right" rectangle next to her? There are feathers found on the skull where the cap is worn.

Funny how the capable is found at the window there... but not really, it makes me want to cry! While writing this I thought she was asking me to remember her lover for a moment with her? The one that I knew she was with. How safe is this if he is dead when the photo was taken?

Now it seems to me that they are laughing because of what I read recently that made me think about an intimate "cup" . . . how safe is laughter? Maybe we are doing something like entering them with a suggestion for some help regarding what not to do in that scenario for colonies of bacteria living inside of the various hosts? When I came across these pictures for the first time I was asking her if my love with there with me then this was found after seeing her shrug beneath the clock as if they knew my mind while I went through her photos.

Carpet diamond next to a refrigerator? Wouldn't this come to mean Palm Bee wearing her Soundgarden (pumpkin) PJs at this point? What an amazing coincidence after another.

She nose the light on the "win" side in the end where the car is found without the white bottom.

She nose the "win" side (right mind or upper left) but who is found there? This is another "no" picture that I couldn't figure out until now! wow!!!

This makes MUCH MORE SENSE NOW since I was "obsessed with a green v" when I started to pray to the jug of water while wanting to "worship my lover like I try to with food but much more" so it would mean a green to group with others since she lives in the Pearl District and still has not had her "line-up" brought from me being a letter Q of handsome men so I NEED MORE HELP NOW! This was posted on my birthday while the blue is found on the NO side that now represents "would have your children" in this picture but she shows her left foot first so this means that she does want one right now?

In Reno this was the 1st email that I sent to her...

<https://youtu.be/bwrzAr2n4wI>

Commentary of the 1st Video I Sent...

of her life I would leave without getting upset or trying to convince her otherwise if she gave it back to

Thee Making of Thee Ring, Volumes iv & v (Jill & ssniperw of never saw this)

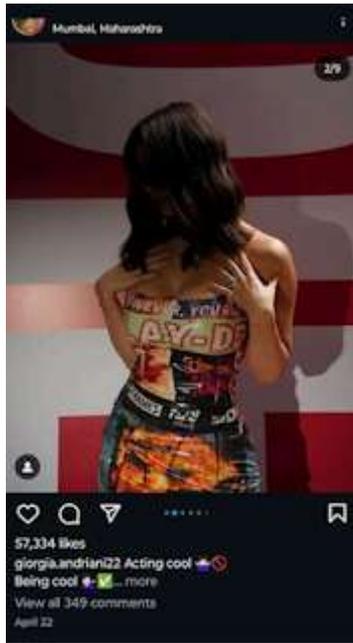

On her chest it shows Eve and yell ow as I am Adam and very easily moving on if that girl Palm Bee if not interested ... look at what was happening to me!

Pink in the bottom right would mean to "surrender now!"

(grateful for all the "whatever" girls out there fueling PB to be her best ;)

[curious how the year improved last Dec 15th by deciding to let us win? souls cheering yet or next year or?

never for EVER

this woman is so beautiful ;)

Wouldn't it be romantic if this was happening to you and were able to actually meet the person from the other side?

Would you want to do it again immediately?

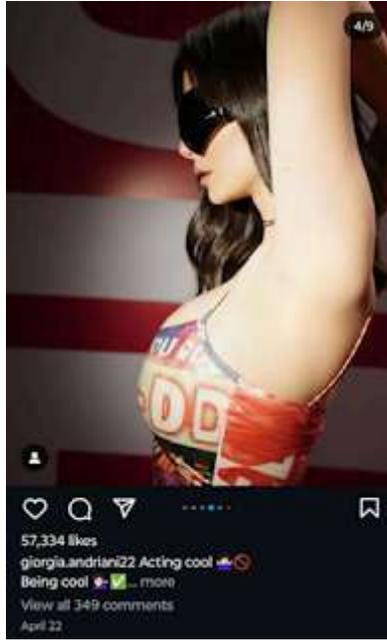

I am looking for a wife here but if someone just wants some company do not be surprised if the person is like me in that they might be used to using the water element (tease) to help someone else or?

thanks, GG! My son is truly going to love this photo?

This is the third picture where I ask what the conflict is and look for the resolution or purple in the top right of the photograph.

The conflict would be the red goes to her air ring on the side that is being sent away as that would be something temporarily ... see the glowing red lights and where they go as the violet tint enters.

Careful of the sun & nonvegan food is what you are trying to tell yourself right here? from the future?

working on to give them the best possible experience and heal while explaining what the ancients wanted to say as they may have had a silent voice for a very long time where others may not have noticed this pattern found that could be impossible for a human being not to have met us in a dream both before and after we come across something shared such as an object.

The letter y is asking us not to be careless as it is a line between good and evil ...

It seems that a gender or a healthy baby could be chosen by simply making gifts for the person during a certain Moon phase and if the identity is not the desired one just decide on the next Moon phase ... as you might pick up that he is coming but a girl is wanted?

Tucson would be a great place to do this since the lightning storms are very unique and effective for us to use as it may let us know who the person will become a bit more easily?

This famous actress is incredibly beautiful but she may have let me know that she wanted a girl and perhaps no more children from the ways in which she responded without knowing it ... already I had made the videos to her while calling her GG that would be asking for her about children, etc.

something to talk about with my wife...

our son is coming? lol he was actually very attractive!?! cannot really remember all THAT well but definitely a hint of Jon found there in the appearance of his face/head ;)

This picture might be expressing a love for dairy somewhere with her food as the red is on the "no" side and I use this one for asking vegan?

Supposed to think Ronald McDonald here?

Someone likely already messaged her as me that works for Instagram or for the NSA or what?! I have NEVER tried to message this girl and she was NEVER tried to message me!

temptations

(this means "sad that our our son is moving out" because of the dream that I had... and the song I made ;)

THAT look she gives me is a feeling I've never felt before... there is no word for it? I need to make one. Maybe the acceptance of more light will bring us towards loving ourselves more? What are the origins for the word "love" and "sex"? Romance DOES work though ;D

how sad that I would still be a raccoon... am I one or zero? they died beneath Amber's home..

to give me the rock back in the future if she ever wanted me to go away without having to explain anything with a promise that I would obey as that would make it much easier for her to meet.

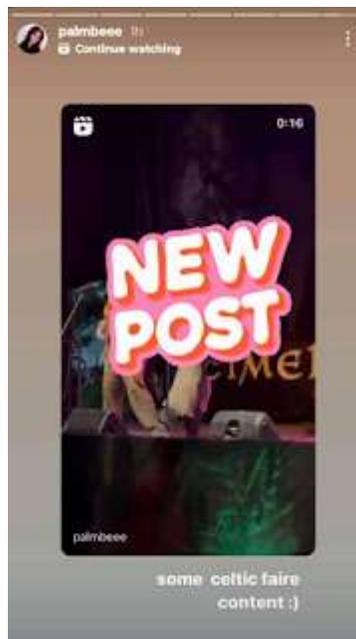

SHE SAID SUN KISS!!!! OMG THAT IS SO ROMANTIC!!! WOW WOW WOW WOW

how disgusting to think that she could be among someone's COLLECTION and he was s

The reason that I put it on the top right is simple ... To give you MORE TIME so your giving it to me in the bottom left more is like letting me know you want there to be nothing between us NOW.

better to discover the echo of your spouse from a romantic movie rather than a ditch somewhere for "knowing too much"

where she held it in the bottom right.

crazy how I was warned of this "button"

Her fingers are touching the most sacred part of her body that our ancestors kept the final ring to be removed by him after their hands would be joined by what came off her wrists ...

Oops ... Wasn't this when you had shown that blue error screen? Your computer had died giving you the "blue screen of death" so what are you trying to say?

You seemingly point to what is found that is red at the top right but by having more of it in the

AND ... as I was going online to take a screen shot of these I just happened to see this in my first post .. so hopefully NOW you understand what I have been actually doing for you?

Since she posted "car to ons" I know to wash my car very nice and neat while getting everything ready to pick someone up?

She is saying that we will lose our children? True. I will enjoy it while it lasts! I am so excited for the earliest years.

happened with her .. this is what I made my Sixteen Scented Celebration for!

Let her know on the Day of Dreams ... November 2nd!

Did she get this?

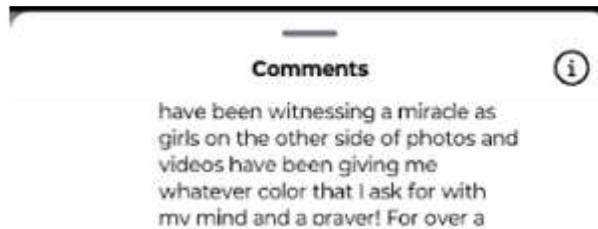

WHAT WOULD YOU DO? My favorite goth music video channel has already been following me and maybe they will start thinking "boops did we screw up?" because they made a music video from 'the Cars' at the same time that I released a music video of myself doing a cover song showing a Lamberghini because of the dreams that I was having of you. I have not been letting them know what you have been doing so if you want anything just let me know! Maybe just check the part about how you gave me so many colors in a row and realize you just made another post. I did not share the last video that I made asking for you to give me a certain color somewhere because of what I was hoping you would do in THIS POST. You will understand... sorry for the confusion... I actually am not crazy and working while I am about to get paid a lot more than I used to thanks to this! 🙏🙏

@theyychad my favorite famous stars have been following me calling me "the Seer" lately and so has my favorite music video channel... they have been witnessing a miracle as girls on the other side of photos and how do I know she was able to get anything?

This inspired me to see how the men responded to me who had commented ... as from what I have been witnessing they have been doing this AS WELL!

For example:

So, I checked what they had posted around my birthday which is where the Sixteen Scented Celebration is found and this is what he posted:

Since the photo was "damaged" on my side... you will have to look up Mike_Gautreau

I am looking for red and green just like what the ladies do because they let me know what they want! He is showing a car ... A "grand Cherokee"?

Does this have to do with my calling Amber a Lamberghini?

The word c hero kee might indicate that he was wanting to be a hero and help her with a problem with a stalker?

The red bricks might indicate that he does not want to have any children or any more of he already has them?

(maybe he is letting me know that the "drivers" on her computer took it over? Does she use Pirate Bay? Maybe that was why I had a dream of my sisters Canadian husband getting out of a lamb car)

This is reminding me of the choice that I made to et married and have childeren... I am STUCK on this bridge.

This one would be requesting us to bring predeath funerals for his parents?

sent to understand ..

(right after I saw this I came across Bybee street! lol)

Linda Strawberry made this when I made my discovery which was special because I used to go clubbing with her and needed a friend. She also made a red finch like the one that was coming to my window at the time.

I tried to ask with a prayer for this to represent "what was wrong with me?" because Kathleen was not connecting with me anymore... the person shown in this artwork could be Palm Bee where we go to sleep? It also shows where I was injured in the back. The reason that the left leg is shown over the right one slightly is because that part of the leg is where the air element is found while I have been led to believe that the one for ourselves is the right leg.

PLEASE PB stop drinking!! Porphyria runs in my family... my mom put our urine in sunlight to see if it changed. Over the right shoulder has meant "children" because of on the other side it would be the left sh older? Those younger are supposed to live longer or we failed in our job as parenting or tutoring!

no alcohol, another warning.. what is sick?

The 5th photo has represented children

Like this girl who looks much like her that just happened to be in Palm Springs at the same time as me ?!?

this girl is so hot! in the 1st photo I asked for red to show the passion and its in the NEVER spot where I cannot help but notice a palm tree.. incredible

I still do "trip" over this girl because they look so much alike? Or because she has no tattoos? Or is it to change my wife into someone better?

ordered to leaf the air? wow

the location of that bottom in this picture makes me wonder how this would be carried if the woman that was married to me left (or refused to meet or was blocked from finding out!? sad scary possibility, is she hacked? former boyfriend knows who wont let her see that I exist? only where my former lover shown something because of "inside help" found from maybe social media staff?)

this pictures scares me.. button?!? : O what if what if what if what if

I cannot describe how it feels to have a sexy women voice in my head tell me that I was screwed if I played my cards right! She told me that I had to make a decision now because if I did not turn around to somewhere I may have said too much. I was able to hear her barely audible voice tell me that it was completely over between us and that I was not allowed to touch her with my mind or meet someday.

This made me cry as I saw her post on November 1st the Day of Darkness to respect privacy playing a

I check for red and green on the "yes side" for my birthday as usual ... got it! Or maybe that is more like blue? See below:

On my birthday she wore a white robe but now I am noticing the wind-ow more than anything... sure, it will be beautiful for her upon discovering "Indian Hill" if that ever happens? My wife will be the one doing this, of course.

"Wood you look at yourself?"

as presentable as what I witness since I am being targeted by them as someone important to respond to as on my end I will be looking for who would do this for me.

this girl also needs a letter Q ;)

[I ask for blue in the bottom left of the second picture to show me what to do for the water element that is a tease which she did ... so for orders shown in the water element blue is found on the monitor where a palm tree is found as if joking about doing something that might sting the hand eventually?]

[3rd picture I ask for the conflict to be shown with the resolution in the top right which appears to be unwelcomed men coming to her as she is praying to a red robe maybe to get them off like in the story I

When I moved in with my last girlfriend I was having dreams of other women having sex with me several times per night for a couple weeks so I was praying to her red robe to get them off of me and years later the sex dream with who may have been Palm Bee taught me how the black robe meant poly but she is not wearing a robe here ...

Part of the celebration on the Day of Air or November 8th hooks up some women with a line-up of men who take turns placing an object at her feet and then go back in line for taking turns pointing at one until she picks the winner that would both remove their wrist ring bracelets to wrap their hands so when I see this jewelry on someone it has this meaning especially when it is found on her right arm.

[I ask for what we a green on in the upper left of the fourth photo and this is the area of a photo that would be the air element showing what would be the best thing for me to find so long as her ring is removed to be wrapped around our hands ... sure makes the extended hand more meaningful as shown below ..?]

[The red and green is found on the "no" side for the wood element which I use the fifth picture for to ask whether or not she wants children but with a green in the bottom left and red in the top right it would mean "not agreeing to never" so it is a 'yes' without agreeing or being ready hopefully as I want children ?!]

Palm Bee Clips (Part 1)

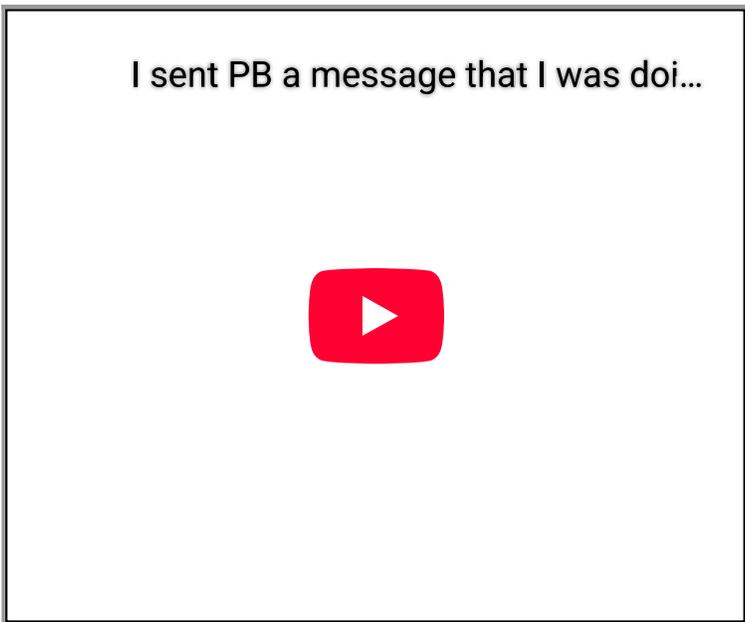

I want to meet her right meow!

In order to prove that it is really her that came to me in my sleep, I have asked for her to post a random color in a specific location over 30 times now or something like that without error? This was to prove that she timed herself on the other side of everything in a way that was supposed to be impossible to witness, but was obviously coming from someone trying to bring back the previous dream that I had, as I have been looking for this particular person for a long time. I am attempting to show the entire true story in this blog post as it will ask the reader to wake up to how their spouse has echoed into their childhood so it should do wonders when it comes to rekindling a relationship or finding inspiration where what could be colonies of bacteria living inside of us have shown us the safest route for the longest lifespan. Where she did not give it to me it was more convincing it was real! I tried several methods to prove she would always do this for me since she is my partner where we go to sleep and the chances of our nesting together with my spoon behind her are great enough to show us this phenomenon. What I did to prove it was make a video asking for her to do something in her next post while explaining what the color was in a video that I made with airplane mode turned on and she did this flawlessly! 13 times in a row then where she was off where it meant that she didn't want to wait to see me because of what the color represented that I had explained in the video! Let her know that she timed herself in a way that should be impossible and has not stopped trying to give me the best experience possible while going through the hell which came from others between us trying to prevent me from attempting to wake her! From my perspective, it was incredibly romantic and inviting despite what appeared at first to be her work or another blocking me, and it appeared like like a network found working for companies have worked together to prevent her from knowing about what she did for us. Hopefully, she is mostly just a victim of my former lover or others abusing Facebook by using timing and whatever lie worked to come between us or prevent her from being someone "larger" like a participant in naming "Amberglen" or whatever? Please help me by documenting yourself let her know about what I am sharing here and ask her to witness the same miracles that you have which are shown before she does something like hurt herself in the future due to our failure to connect today or tomorrow! I am seriously sick of witnessing the jealousy found between us! It is frightening, but might be explained in this way: we will meet and make a musical sharing this true story that so many others will watch that almost everyone has watched it in the future or knows of it so there is a mathematical pattern found with them that asks for the same thing that we got although they may not really want it since they know that they are not supposed to as we lived once so their largest echo should be awaiting them somewhere else while this might be the most helpful way of finding it! I would have gotten a place to live two years ago if she told me to but I wanted to talk to her first before signing a lease and I am STILL caught in this problem so please understand my dilemma, as from my perspective NO ONE will disagree once they have seen everything on the table! Of course, this will not be true because of a different preference, as I have made a choice for marriage with children in my future somewhere. I accidentally found it in this manner and woke up to how it could actually be dangerous enough to hurt people from ignoring it or the failure of timing things safely while another is waking up to what is found when they compare themselves as it might lead to a dishonest partner that was not noticed before or something along those lines?

Once you have caught onto how REAL this actually is, please contact me and I will accept your apology or help, while this girl is still found out there that I would like to give the absolute best experience as she wakes up to how this is real as we lived only once so hopefully I do not fail in my delivery. Know that I will work on being there for you when it comes to helping you find your spouse or "air element" in your past that inevitably echoed as well. Please be careful about who you are waking up to this and do something more about letting another know about how much my having more money and help would make this safer for everyone as I would not want someone to wake up to be turned against themselves or another violently. The most "romantic" discovery is capable of bringing the opposite! I have tried to stick with family-oriented legal folks but I found that where I spend most of my time maybe dancing the people, there are a lot more accepting and friendly people perhaps than what the average person might find so that might be a safer audience too? Found on the "brickbat mansion romantic" side of the goth scene?

See the video below for this test you can check the results for me since I cannot see her Instagram!?

Did it work? I am praying that she put these colors in her last Instagram post as I have not seen it for over a year?

Bottom right: light violet (representing conflict or what to stay away from?)

Top left: blue (rhymes with "you" so this is for us to be found in the end... am I going to be there?)

https://youtu.be/DwoGa11p3BM?si=MvDPnMKKAsPHYG_-

I made this for my wife that keeps coming to me in my sleep! Almost two years ago this happened to me when I selected her fabric at the same time she posted a green rectangles on her TikTok...

Is it up to YOU? Palm Bee (Amber Flynn) has blocked me everywhere online so I have no way to know if she came across this!? Let herself know what she did this to me, please!

I have had around 30 intimate dreams of her so far? 7 of them she was married to me in the dream, 3 of them had our son in it, and in 1 she was pregnant! It will hurt her life tremendously not to see the PROOF that she had the same dreams which are found in this blog post so please take the patience to help out a couple of human beings find the best experience from correcting past mistakes with an annual celebration that makes this fun for participants anywhere.

A person is supposed to doubt that this is real for science until coming across the overwhelming evidence that endangers her not to know about right now since finding out later may hurt not only her, but a child as well. For the past couple years, I have been showing others the definition found in their names that have to do with whatever is going on as I came across them. This is done by breaking it down into the individual origins of the letters that act as verbs or action words, so there is no way this will be incorrect once addition is used. There is magical synchronicity found asking us to wake up those who came up with the names by bringing them predeath funerals that I am selling from my website.

Looking forward to finally meeting her so that we can share our "corny" story with the world as to me Cornell Road represents our love life in the future! Sierra was who trained me so the word Creek means the best sex life.

The lyrics for Soundgarden's Superunknown is so magical since my artist name is Spoon and she wore that shirt in my dreams of her as my wife many times now! It has our colors found on them she picked while asleep for the pumpkin. Orange and brown.

This song was written a long time ago but now the lyrics finally make so much more sense! I am putting lyrics to other songs as well but this one is funny because of the "white car" that our son was packing in our dreams that I have found everywhere lately whenever a beautiful woman has appeared found right behind her or something as if he wants me to think about only Palm Bee (the video of her that I have "used" the most to wait shows her in a wedding dress... so the car's look made sense to me)
