

SWEET SUMMER BREEZE

WILEY SILER

She grew up on the edge of town
Life never got her down
She kept her feet on the ground

But when the rivers high and the moon is low
That's when she knows
she's gonna have to let it all go

Cuz this world can be so small
And sometimes life makes you wanna give up on it all but there's a

Sweet summer breeze, blowing through the trees
And her hair upon her shoulders. She ain't gettin no older
She's gotta life that's fine. She only feels alone sometimes.
She'll always find what she needs. In that sweet summer breeze

Sweet honeysuckle growing on a river vine.
He never had to find the time. It was always in the back of his mind.
Sunset setting down by the river bank
Cold beer in a paper sack.
Yeahs, she's always gonna bring him back.

Cuz he knows the world can be so small
And sometimes life makes you wanna give up on it all there's a

REPEAT CHORUS

They both know that there'll be sorrow,
And uphill battles they might face,
But sometimes life and love is simple,
When two hearts beat in one place...

REPEAT CHORUS

REPEAT CHORUS

In that Sweet Summer Breeze

She grew up on the edge of town
Life never got her down
She kept her feet on the ground