Dr. Peter A. McCullough
Author “Courage to Face COVID-19”

<https://couragetofacecovid.com/>

Dr. McCullough is an internist, cardiologist, epidemiologist managing the cardiovascular complications of both the viral infection and the injuries developing after the COVID-19 vaccine in Dallas TX, USA. Since the onset of the pandemic, Dr. McCullough has been a leader in the medical response to the COVID-19 disaster and has published “Pathophysiological Basis and Rationale for Early Outpatient Treatment of SARS-CoV-2 (COVID-19) Infection” the first synthesis of sequenced multidrug treatment of ambulatory patients infected with SARS-CoV-2 in the American Journal of Medicine and subsequently updated in Reviews in Cardiovascular Medicine. He has dozens of peer-reviewed publications on the infection and has commented extensively on the medical response to the COVID-19 crisis in The Hill, America Out Loud, and on FOX NEWS Channel. On November 19, 2020, Dr. McCullough testified in the US Senate Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs, in 2021-2022 the Texas Senate Committee on Health and Human Services, Colorado General Assembly, New Hampshire Senate, Pennsylvania Senate, and South Carolina Senate concerning many aspects of the pandemic response. On January 24, 2022, Dr. McCullough co-moderated and testified in the US Senate Panel “COVID-19: A Second Opinion” chaired by Senator Ron Johnson. Dr. McCullough has reviewed thousands of reports, participated in scientific congresses, group discussions, press releases, and has been considered among the world's experts on COVID-19. His book written with best-selling true-crime author John Leake is “Courage to Face COVID-19: Preventing Hospitalization and Death while Battling the Biopharmaceutical Complex.”

Dr. Cindi Marsden
NEVER AGAIN! How to prepare your medicine cabinet

Dr. Cindi Marsden was born just outside of Washington D.C, but she got here just as quickly as she could! Dr. Marsden received her undergraduate degree from Texas Christian University. She was a member of the women's varsity swim team and graduated Summa Cum Laude. She received her medical degree from the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston where she was the president of her graduating class of 1986.

She completed an Ob/Gyn residency at UTMB and became board certified in 1992.

Dr Marsden has been practicing in North Texas since 1990. In 2017, she retired from hospital-based medicine and enjoyed full retirement for three years. When the Plandemic appeared in December of 2019, Dr Marsden realized the picture the media was painting was not at all what she was observing on the ground. She reached out to colleagues, data analysts and front-line workers. It was apparent that the real story was not being told. After Dr Simone Gold (American Frontline Doctors) was fired from her job as an Emergency Room physician for treating her patients successfully with Hydroxychloroquine, she knew she could no longer sit on the sidelines. She applied for malpractice insurance to treat Covid on an outpatient basis, and was denied by 13 different insurance companies. Physicians could only be protected if they followed the erroneous CDC protocol, which states there is NO approved treatment outside of the hospital setting. After weeks of phone calls, emails and sharing stories of needless deaths, she managed to find a small, patriotic and faith-based company that agreed to provide malpractice insurance for 1 year.

She immediately began treating patients via telemedicine and it quickly became a very busy full-time job. She continues to provide medical treatment, at no cost, for anyone who has been told "there is nothing we can do". She continues to boldly educate the public and provide resources so that people have uncensored information to make informed decisions. Dr Marsden's goal is to give people hope and confidence to take care of themselves and their families when our medical system refuses to deviate from the political narrative. There is no one absolute right way to treat this virus, but unless we can discuss, question and entertain other options, we will continue to live in fear, distrust our public health officials and lose hope for the future of our health care system. This Coronavirus is endemic and it is up to each and every one of us to spread the truth and the hope

- the media mob is a well-oiled propaganda machine, but we can do this!!

Representative Bryan Slaton Standing Tall for the People

Born in Mineola, Texas, Bryan Slaton is a proud East Texan with values and principles that represent the great people of East Texas. These values were formed as he grew up regularly participating in church and family gatherings. Bryan attended Ouachita Baptist University, where he earned a double major in Youth Ministry/Speech Communication. He then attended Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and earned a Masters of Divinity with Biblical Languages. He served in the ministry as a Youth and Family Minister for 13 years.

Continuing his education, Bryan graduated from The University of North Texas, where he earned a Bachelor degree in Business Administration Accounting. Bryan now works at the family business.

Bryan Slaton is passionate about helping the people of East Texas obtain and maintain a Government that is transparent, protects liberty, defends the sanctity of life and fulfills the will of the sovereign people of Texas.

Edgar Pacheco Jr
Sky is the Limit - No Excuses

Edgar Pacheco Jr. serves as both a special education advocate and a parent liaison in the Greater Houston area. A native of Brownsville, Texas, Edgar experienced first hand the difficulties faced by students with disabilities in the public schools.

Undaunted, Edgar ran for a position on the Pearland Independent School District Board of Trustees in the 2020 election and garnered 7511 votes.

During the 87th Regular Session of the Texas State Legislature, Edgar whipped the vote for HB 1252 - a bill to extend the statute of limitations for special education complaints in Texas from one year to two years. Mr. Pacheco championed the bill now known as the Edgar Pacheco Jr. Act that was signed in 2021 by the Governor of Gregg Abbott and became law September 1, 2022.

Jill Glover
SREC Women District 12
Tackling Our Legislative Priorities

Jill is the State Republican Executive Committeewoman for SD 12 and chair of the SREC Legislative Priorities Committee. She authors the Republican Party of Texas email, the Legislative Priorities Report. She tours with Grassroots of America, “Conservative Mamas,” speaking on ways children are being targeted in culture and the educational system.

She served on the 2020 state Republican Platform Committee, is a precinct chair and election judge, serves as a board member of the Flower Mound Area Republican Club and served as the chair of the Denton County Conservative Coalition vetting committee.

She has a master’s degree in psychology, is a Licensed Professional Counselor, and has testified on a variety of bills before our state legislature. Jill has taught psychology and sociology, worked with adolescents and adults in a psychiatric hospital, and had a private practice for many years. She is particularly interested in protecting our religious liberties, protecting children, and preserving Republican principles. She and her husband have a grown son and live in Denton County.

Ashley Thomas
A Personal Story of Crimes Against Humanity

Ashley Smith Thomas is the Founder of Freedom’s Fund USA, a nonprofit to protect freedom and national security. She is a current employee of the United States Senate and an Academy Fellow at The Heritage Foundation. Ashley is a former Political Strategist for Fox News Radio and former host of “Freedom Talks”, a podcast show designed to educate Americans on key freedom and national security issues. She serves on the Board of Directors for Park Cities Republican Women and is leading a National Security series for the Texas Federation of Republican Women.

Ashley started her career as the Assistant to the Vice President of Corporate Development for The Blaze in Dallas. She made a corporate move to manage a $14.7M project to rescue and resettle persecuted Christians and religious minorities who were targeted by ISIS in 2016. Ashley and her team rescued over 1,000 families and resettled them to host countries around the world.

Ashley furthered her calling by starting her own organization to work alongside the private and public sector to protect freedom. She works toward countering threats that impact freedom in America and abroad. She has briefed panels within the intelligence community on key National Security issues.

Ashley graduated Magna Cum Laude from Oral Roberts University, with her Bachelor’s degree in Organizational Interpersonal Communication & Government. She earned her Juris Masters in International Law from Liberty University’s School of Law. She also received Professional Certificates in U.S. Intelligence Analysis and Project Management from SMU.

Ashley and her husband reside in Dallas, as they continue to be a voice for freedom and protect national security.

Paul Davis
Fired Up TX Lawyer
Don't Mess with Texas

After graduating from The University of Texas School of Law in 2011, Paul Davis worked as an associate attorney in employment law and civil litigation for two large international law firms. In 2020, Goosehead Insurance recruited Paul to be its human resources director and associate general counsel. On January 7, 2021, Goosehead fired Paul for peacefully exercising his First Amendment right to protest outside the Capitol on January 6.

Paul then started his own law firm as the "Lawyer for Patriots" and used his employment law experience to save hundreds of individuals from losing their jobs to vaccine mandates. Paul also sued Facebook and won a restraining order to free former Texas gubernatorial candidate and BlazeTV host, Chad Prather, from "Facebook jail" in the week leading up to the election.

Paul is currently suing the McKinney, Texas school board president and police for violating the First Amendment rights of parents opposed to obscene books. He is leading a movement to file tens of thousands of lawsuits in the state of Texas against Facebook, Instagram, TikTok, and other social media platforms who have censored the viewpoints of Texans using the Texas anti-censorship law. He is also preparing to sue Pfizer under the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices Act for falsely marketing its COVID vaccines as able to prevent transmission of COVID.

Jackie Schlegel
Texans for Medical Freedom
Executive Director

In 2015, modeling legislation passed in California, a Texas legislator filed an oppressive vaccine mandate bill for school-age children that would have stripped parents of their right to informed consent when choosing what vaccines their children would receive. Mother of three Jackie Schlegel quickly acted by organizing other passionate moms to make their voices heard as advocates for vaccine choice in the State legislature. Through strategic grassroots activism under Jackie's leadership, the group successfully defeated that vaccine mandate bill along with fifteen other bills filed that legislative session that would have infringed on Texans' right to informed consent, medical privacy, and vaccine choice.

Over the last six years, Jackie has become one of the state's most influential advocates for medical freedom, drawing national attention for her political accomplishments that include unseating the representative responsible for the 2015 bill that started the wave of vaccine mandate legislation in Texas.

In 2021, Jackie led the initiative to advance parental rights with a parental medical protections bill and fought to protect Texas workers through efforts to ban vaccine passports. Thanks to Jackie's endless energy and tenacity, the medical freedom community has gained respect and notoriety as it has expanded its influence into our communities and state legislature. Her unshakable determination continues to inspire Texans in the fight for informed consent, medical privacy, and vaccine freedom of choice.

Marvin B. Lowe
Frisco ISD Board of Trustees

Marvin B. Lowe is the newest member of Frisco Independent School District's Board of Trustees. Marvin was elected in May of this year and is the first African American man to be elected for public office in the city of Frisco. He ran on the conservative ideas of traditional moral standards, meritocracy, equality, increased transparency and strong and denounced the far left philosophies of critical race theory, gender theory and social equity.

Originally from Los Angeles, CA, Marvin moved to Dallas in the 1990's after graduating from Grambling State University, earning a B.S. in Business Management. Marvin had a track record of successful corporate sales where he served as a Senior Account Executive for AT&T, a Sales Director for AIVIA, and a Regional Sales Manager for Citysearch.com before starting Marda Realty where he is in his third decade of serving real estate clients as the Broker/Owner of the company.

Marvin is a husband and father of four children who attend Frisco Independent School District's, middle and high schools. Marvin's Christian faith governs his values and business practices. He is actively involved in his local church. During his downtime, he enjoys playing chess, live music, traveling and spending time quality time with his family.

Stephanie Elad
Frisco ISD Board Member

Southern California native who moved to Texas 8 years ago, for a job opportunity, but also to provide a better life for her family.

Stephanie earned her Bachelor's Degree in Communication from the University of California, and her Master's Degree in Speech Communication from San Diego State University. Stephanie served as an adjunct Communication professor at several community colleges and universities in California during her Master's program and beyond.

Additionally, Stephanie has over 20 years of professional experience in Corporate Human Resources. She has worked for several Fortune 100 companies and is currently employed by a national financial services company. She has managed teams of up to 25 people and supported client groups as the HR leader of over 10,000 employees. Her experience includes Employee Relations, Engagement, Recruiting, Talent Management, Succession Planning, Program Management, Retention, Strategic Planning, Leadership, Performance Management, and Culture. Stephanie has been involved in the Frisco and Collin County community since moving to Texas. Stephanie and her family are currently active members of the Chabad of Frisco and her husband is a GOP precinct chair in Collin County. Stephanie lives in Frisco with her husband Jared and her 2 daughters. She was elected as a Frisco ISD Trustee in May of 2022, her first run for public office.

Chad Green
McKinney ISD Board Member

Chad Green has been in the Education Technology Space for over fifteen years. He began helping McGraw-Hill and the Princeton Review transition their paper testing systems in the digital environment and worked closely with the state education departments in Oklahoma, West Virginia, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Arkansas and Texas. He has since launched six new digital products into various states from coast to coast at both the K12 level as well as higher education. Chad has not only sold products but has led development teams for those products as well as gathering influential regional and national advisory committees to guide development from the industry. He launched the first statewide formative assessment system in West Virginia and the first online state assessment in Oklahoma. He also worked closely with Jefferson County, Colorado on building a strong data platform that pulled all critical data that was compiled from student interaction with various digital school products. Chad also helped launch and develop Language Proficiency Products in California, Florida, Texas and Illinois. He helps districts find funding resources and solutions to systemic problems through innovative partnerships. Many of those partnerships combine private industry, K12 institution and University connections into a powerful force to increase student performance and opportunity. He was elected to the McKinney ISD School board in 2021 and actively advocates for parental rights and strong educational performance and accountability.

Anti V and Where Are We Today

In early 2020 he lost his Father-in-law because of ill-advised hospital protocols. Since that time, he has been on a relentless mission to help educate the public about the hidden dangers in many of our "institutes of health".

His focus is on medical freedom, education, and waking up the world with the truth of natural immunity and the miracle healing power of all things natural.

Dr Ardis was recently featured in the documentary titled "Watch the Water" with Stew Peters, and the follow up documentary titled CoVenom-19 and several others, exposing the weaponizing of venoms globally.

Dr Ardis is the CEO of ArdisLabs and Host of The Dr. Ardis Show. Whether by media interviews digitally, speaking on stages, or testifying in state capital buildings physically, Dr Ardis is on a mission to protect the health of innocent human beings worldwide, and help make sense of their symptoms.

Brooks Mckenzie PhD

Money is Root of all Evil and Leads to Corruption

As a researcher and former Assistant Director for the TCU Institute of Child Development, Dr. Brooks McKenzie has worked with at-risk Children and Families for more than 2 decades, always advocating for the “best interest of the child” in all circumstances.

Born and raised in Texas, Dr. McKenzie has spent his entire professional career presenting the body of empirical research in Developmental Psychology to agencies and organizations that are tasked with supporting Children and Families. He has trained DFPS/CPS, attorneys and judges, and worked directly with non-profits and those they serve, only to find a systemic ignorance/apathy that has been actively causing harm for decades.

Texas has utterly failed to protect our Children and abandoned the Nuclear Family and Parental Rights. Our legislators, State agencies, and judiciary must be reformed, otherwise our Children and Families are doomed and so is Texas.

Wayne Christian
We are in a War

A lifelong conservative businessman, Wayne Christian was elected as our 50th Texas Railroad Commissioner in November 2016. Throughout his first term, Christian developed a strong record of fighting against frivolous regulations and standing strong for free markets and American Energy Dominance!

Since taking office, Commissioner Christian has been appointed by Governor Greg Abbott to the Interstate Oil and Gas Compact Commission as the Official Representative of Texas. Through this role, Christian has been a national leader on the forefront of fighting against Biden Administration efforts like the Green New Deal. Christian is a graduate of Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches. After college, Wayne found success in the music industry with his country-gospel band, the Mercy River Boys and went on to be finalist for a Grammy Award in 1979. After gaining valuable experience in business, banking and real estate, Wayne Christian opened the financial services business that he still owns to this day. He is a three time AIG top advisor nationwide.

Prior to his time on the Commission, Christian served seven sessions in the Texas House of Representatives as the first Republican in Deep East Texas since Reconstruction after the Civil War. He was a leader for the conservative renaissance in our state and successfully assisted in the fight to elect a Republican majority in the Texas Legislature.

William Walls IV
Soar with Wings as Eagle
A Military's Pilot's Story

William Robert Walls IV is a 2012 Graduate of the United States Merchant Marine Academy. Former Naval Aviator with two deployments for VP-47 in the P-3 Orion to areas of responsibility all over the globe, aided the squadron in transition from the Orion to the P-8 Poseidon and received follow on orders to instruct in the T-6 Texan II in Corpus Christi Texas where I was hand selected by Admiral Robert Westendorff to spearhead the Navy's designs to revolutionize pilot training! During that effort I mentored 10 Onwings to solo including NASA Astronaut Jessica Watkins who is currently circling the globe aboard the International Space Station! I separated from the Navy on the 1st of June and in a ceremony with CNATRA staff, I was presented the Navy Commendation Medal for my efforts as the Project Avenger Pipeline Training Officer!

Kirk Launius

Kirk Launius is a licensed Texas Peace Officer, former Dallas Police Officer, United States Navy Veteran, and entrepreneur. He earned a degree in economics from the University of Texas at Austin and was the Republican candidate for Dallas County Sheriff in 2012 and 2016. He was endorsed by “America’s Toughest Sheriff” Joe Arpaio and the founder of the Constitutional Sheriffs & Peace Officers Association (CSPOA.org) Sheriff Richard Mack. Mr. Launius is the plaintiff in an election integrity lawsuit which is a case of first impression before The Supreme Court of Texas. This case has raised public awareness and could ensure honest and legal elections in Texas. Elected county sheriffs across the country are making news because they are investigating election fraud and other crimes which threaten our constitutional republic. Kirk teaches, consults, and empowers people around the state and country on the role and importance of the constitutional sheriff. It is vitally important that we as citizens know and understand the powers and limitations of our county sheriffs, deputies, police chiefs, police officers, constables, other peace officers, and elected public servants according to the Constitution. Police academies and law schools are woefully deficient in teaching the Constitution, but there is hope that we can “turn this ship around.” Kirk Launius looks forward to showing YOU how to participate in educating our nation’s peace officers and elected public servants on our Constitution; holding them accountable to the oath; and inspiring our sheriffs, peace officers, and elected public servants to always “secure the Blessings of Liberty.”

Dr. Randy Foret

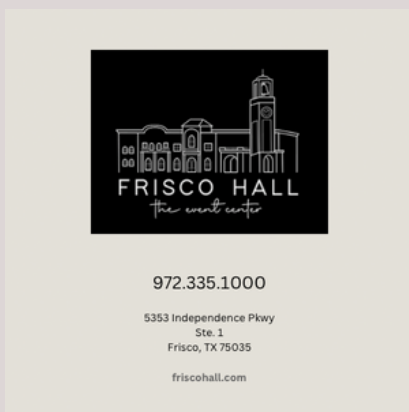

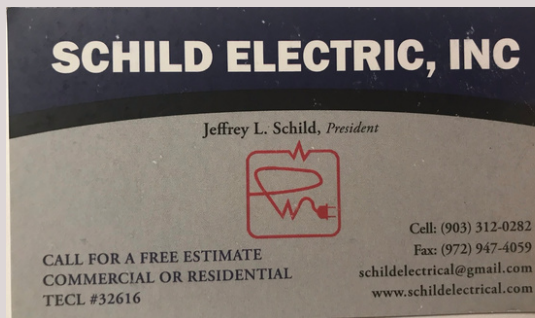

Randy serves as Senior Regional Director of Development for the Family Research Council based in Washington, D.C. FRC is a nonprofit research and educational organization dedicated to articulating and advancing a philosophy of faith, family, and freedom in public life. As a member of this team, he is focused on development, engagement, and public relations. His mission is to join biblical principle to our public policy and legislation. He also serves as pastor of Restoration Church in St. Paul, Texas.

Randy has traveled across the globe preaching in conferences and pastor's seminars, and conducting multiple day seminars on economic independence, freedom, self-reliance, and faith in God. Before joining the Family Research Council, Randy worked with the Christian Broadcasting Network International as an International Development Strategist, responsible for creating content and delivering biblically-based training and motivational seminars.

He's ministered to audiences in Indonesia, the Philippines, Kenya, China, Peru, South Africa, Ghana, Nigeria, Senegal, Thailand, Cambodia, Vietnam, the United Kingdom, Germany, the United States, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Mexico, Ukraine, Canada, and India.

Randy's background is in education, ministry, and the corporate world. He has an extensive background in training, management, and development. Randy is a grateful husband, father, and grandfather. His passion is for the declaration of the good news of Jesus Christ and the involvement of God's people in proclaiming and implementing the kingdom of God in culture.
