WHAT IS SEANCE MAGIC?

Séance Magic is an immersive theatrical experience where storytelling, audience participation, and Victorian-era mystery combine to create an event where the line between performance and possibility begins to blur. Strange artifacts, impossible demonstrations, and magical tales of the unexplained invite guests into a world that is equal parts fascinating, humorous, and delightfully unsettling, where many stories conclude literally in the hands of the audience.

A PARLOR-STYLE EXPERIENCE

HOSTED BY

J. MICHAEL MORMINO,

ESOTERICIST & COLLECTOR OF THE OUTRÉ

The Séance Magic parlor experience is designed for interactive gatherings of approximately 15 to 30 guests. Presented in a deeply atmospheric style, the experience draws heavily from Victorian séance traditions, storytelling, folklore, and audience participation.

As the evening unfolds, the parlor atmosphere becomes more mysterious and unsettling. Guests often find themselves leaning in closer, paying attention to every detail. This experience is particularly well suited to historic homes, antique stores, museums, libraries, private gatherings, and other venues where guests can gather close enough to feel that anything might happen.

AN EVENT / FESTIVAL EXPERIENCE

HOSTED BY

PROFESSOR PHINEAS CROWE,

BOMBASTIC SHOWMAN & SNAKE OIL SALESMAN

For larger audiences and more energetic environments such as festivals, Michael Mormino hosts as Professor Phineas Crowe. The Professor offers a grand presentation with his carnival barker-styled Metaphysical Séance Show. Equal parts showman, carnival lecturer, and traveling professor, Crowe combines humor, storytelling, and theatrical spectacle into a lively audience experience.

Professor Crowe's exhibition scales comfortably to larger crowds while preserving the themes of mystery and wonder that define Séance Magic. It is especially well suited to breweries, festivals, community events, theaters, convention programming, and venues seeking an upbeat, broader version of the Séance Magic experience.

IS SEANCE MAGIC A REAL SEANCE?

In a single word, NO.

You, as an event organizer, can breathe easy on that subject.

Séance Magic is a theatrical performance inspired by the séance traditions of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries but is absolutely NOT a “real séance.”

Guests may find themselves participating in encounters and inexplicable events which seem to suggest unseen forces are at work. Truth be told, these are illusions performed by a skilled magician, not by ghosts.

A TURRNKEY EXPERIENCE IDEAL FOR UNIQUE VENUES

One of the reasons Séance Magic works so well in unique spaces such as historic homes, antique stores, museums, breweries, and other non-traditional venues is that the production is intentionally designed to be self-contained.

Just as important, host and creator Michael Mormino brings decades of experience as a performer, storyteller, actor, emcee, and event host, allowing the show to adapt naturally to a wide variety of audiences and environments.

In most cases, the venue simply provides a gathering space, seating for guests and a 6 to 8 foot table or two. Séance Magic supplies the atmosphere, storytelling, props, lighting, and production elements needed to create the experience. Larger spaces with their own sound and lighting systems are no problem to accommodate.

The show has been specifically developed to adapt comfortably to spaces without requiring theatrical infrastructure, staging, or dedicated production staff.

ABOUT MICHAEL MORMINO

Michael Mormino is a veteran performer, storyteller, actor, and event host with more than twenty-five years of experience entertaining audiences throughout the Southeast. His background spans classical theatre, historical performance, improv comedy, neo-vaudeville, storytelling, magic, and immersive entertainment.

Over the years, Michael has performed in intimate parlour settings, historical venues, museums, breweries, private events, crowded bars, and large public gatherings. As a host and emcee, he has guided audiences ranging from a handful of guests gathered around a candlelit table to thousands of attendees at events such as Atlanta's Monsterama classic horror convention.

What makes Michael particularly effective as a host is his ability to quickly connect with an audience and make them feel part of the experience. Whether presenting Séance Magic in a historic home, an antique store, a brewery, a theatre or a busy event, he adapts naturally to the space and the people in it, creating an experience that feels personal, engaging, and memorable.

Simply put, Michael doesn't just present a show. He's hosts an experience.
