

Weekly News

Assalaamalaikum! This was a really short week but a lot was reviewed and covered.

We created our book but it has some final edits to be made before it is published. Insha'Allah next week we will have the book ready. I will hang it up outside the classroom so that you can read our children's story about kindergarten and look at their art work.

Since so many students still do not know the sight words and beginning blends as of yet, as well as counting, I have decided to test the students next week. This way you can review every sight word and beginning blend we have covered so far. Insha'Allah everyone has a great break! I will see you next week.

Dates to Remember

Tue 11/27: Sight Words and Beginning Blend TEST

Wed 11/28: Count to 30

Reminders

- The students need healthy snacks everyday, including Monday and Friday. We no longer provide snacks.
- Please continue practicing on counting to 30 with your child.

Star Student

Amal Ihmud

Again Amal has been awarded with being the star student. Why? Because she is the only student who knows all the sight words and beginning blends. She not only cares about her learning (studies her English notebook at home every day), she also tries to help all her classmates and motivates them to learn. Masha'Allah her enthusiasm for learning is contagious as all the other students are trying hard now to learn all their words and numbers.

A Look at Next Week...

Next week, we will learn about authority figures in society and why we need to follow rules, discuss more ways we can subtract numbers, look at how we can grow a bean on a damp paper towel and learn more sight words and beginning blends. We will finish our book. Also, we are practicing a song from youtube about healthy foods for the fundraising dinner and we will be practicing for that as well.

Thank you for all your support parents!
