

Weekly News

Assalaamalaikum Parents! I pray everyone has had a good week. The kindergarteners have had an excellent time understanding what is expected of them in terms of behavior and their social skills are improving daily. Also, they are having an easier time learning new sight words and are able to count to 100. Our students are very motivated to learn and are taking responsibility for their own education. I am very proud of them and thank you for your support in helping them everyday to be better than yesterday. Insha'Allah we all have a recharging long weekend.

Dates to Remember

Jan 21st: 3rd Quarter begins

Jan 21st: No School
(Martin Luther King's Day)

Jan 25th: Report Card Day

Sight Words

sc	tw	blue
sl	tr	find
sk	sw	me
sm	are	where
sn	too	it
sp		have
st		we

Reminders

- Jan 25th: Please check for report card and have it signed and returned to me on the 26th, please, i'A.
- The kindergartners have a literacy binder that will teach them all they need to know for this winter. Each student also has been gifted a blue folder dedicated to penmanship. These will go home with them once a week for you to review.
- Continue reading to your child and signing their reading log

Star Student

This week we do not have a single star student as every student has received a prize for something they have done in our classroom. All of our students are stars; whether it be in team work, sight word recognition, social behavior or their counting skills, all of our kindergarteners have improved in one area or another.

A Look at Next Week...

We will be creating new sight boards for the new words we are learning and will begin creating sentences with them for the new book we will create about our class. There will be a continued focus on their penmanship. Also, we will be working on counting money and understanding its value during math. Thank you again! Insha'Allah I look forward to seeing you all on Tuesday.

