

4TH GRADE NEWSLETTER

December 15– December 19

What's ahead...

Reading & Language Arts

Having just ended the first unit of our iready reading curriculum, we will pick up with unit two upon our return from winter break inshallah. This week we will begin some in class writing activities in order to build those writing skills. These will be completely in class and will count towards the language arts grade.

Mathematics

We have just ended Unit 2 in math and we will begin unit 3 in January inshallah. This week will be dedicated to reviewing division with remainders as well as solving multistep problems since that is what the majority of the class is struggling with.

Science/ Social Studies

Fourth grade did great on their science fair projects! I can tell there was a lot of effort and hard work put into the posters and the presentations. Great job to my scientists! We will end the quarter with Social Studies. We'll review the branches of government and have our exam on Thursday. A studyguide will be sent home Wednesday inshallah.

Spelling words

No spelling words this week we'll be working on an in-class writing assignment.

- Do not forget to read for 25 minutes every evening!
- Please have 5 sharpened pencils ready for school every day.

Upcoming Events

Dec. 15–19: School Spirit Week!
Dress up following the calendar guidelines

Dec.22– Jan. 4: Winter Break No School!

Upcoming Test/Quizzes

- We will have a social studies test on Thursday, Dec. 18 inshallah. This will have a big effect on the social studies final grade.
- All absent students will be required to take this test upon return since there are limited assessments for social studies this quarter.
