

4TH GRADE NEWSLETTER

OCTOBER 19-23

4TH GRADE MATH

Due to the extremely short week, we will use these upcoming days to review simple concepts I've noticed fourth grade has not yet mastered, such as telling time. We will also review our multiplication facts in order to prepare for the upcoming lesson on comparing multiplication facts.

4TH GRADE READING & LANGUAGE ARTS

We have begun discussing the writing process and looking through examples of the writing process in action. We will continue with our essays this week (fully in class).

*There is no reading or spelling test this week; essays will count as a test grade!

5TH GRADE MATH

We will use this week to review prior concepts since it is a shorter week. I have noticed that fifth grade does not fully understand the order of operations so we will review that concept in detail since it is crucial in algebra. We will briefly prepare for our upcoming lesson on decimals.
