Greetings

Happy NewYear

Dear parents,

I am very excited to start this new semester, I hope everybody had a wonderful and blissful winter break. I will be teaching my students with different learning strategies and critical thinking levels. This semester we need to focus more on writing with details, knowing how to explain knowing the difference between a fact and opinion.

As always a spelling test is on every Friday.

Reading and a comprehension written exam are given on Friday too if all the material is covered in class.

Please make sure to send healthy snacks with your children. and proper gym shoes when they have P.E. Thanks

Lesson Plan

Literature : Head,Body , and Toes Reading . All worksheets are done in class.
