Destiny Under Attack

You were not created a failure, but the enemy of God and the enemy of His people raises so much opposition that a lot of people get confused in their destinies

Sometimes people forget that God created us to excel. You were not created a failure, but the enemy of God and the enemy of His people raises so much opposition that a lot of people get confused in their destinies.

In Genesis 25, we meet a woman who was going to give birth to children who were destined by heaven to be part of the history of the world, but she did not comprehend it. We read from verse 19-26. “This is the genealogy of Isaac, Abraham’s son. Abraham begot Isaac. Isaac was forty years old when he took Rebekah as wife, the daughter of Bethuel the Syrian of Padan Aram, the sister of Laban the Syrian. Now Isaac pleaded with the Lord for his wife, because she was barren; and the Lord granted his plea, and Rebekah his wife conceived. But the children struggled together within her; and she said, “If all is well, why am I like this?” So she went to inquire of the Lord. And the Lord said to her:

“Two nations are in your womb, Two peoples shall be separated from your body; One people shall be stronger than the other, And the older shall serve the younger.” So when her days were fulfilled for her to give birth, indeed there were twins in her womb. And the first came out red. He was like a hairy garment all over; so they called his name Esau. Afterward his brother came out, and his hand took hold of Esau’s heel; so his name was called Jacob. Isaac was sixty years old when she bore them.”

This passage shows God’s divine purpose for the life of Jacob and Esau. God made it clear before they were born. Their mother inquired of the Lord and God told her what was going to be the direction of the lives of these children. She must have shared this with her husband, and her husband would have shared it with the children, because the events that happened afterwards indicate that they started trying to do some things to “help” God in the actualization of that divine destiny.

A lot of people do not know when their destinies are under attack. They think “helping” God is a natural thing to do. Some will say, “I cannot just sit and watch my life go on like that. I need to do something.” But is what they are doing in alignment with the purpose for which God created them?

A lot of people do not know when their destinies are under attack. They think “helping” God is a natural thing to do

Look at what God said concerning Jeremiah. Jeremiah 1:4-5 reads, “Then the word of the Lord came to me, saying: “Before I formed you in the womb I knew you; Before you were born I sanctified you; I ordained you a prophet to the nations.””

God spelled out the direction in which the life of Jacob and Esau will go. He also spelled out the way and direction in which the life of Jeremiah would go. He said He had ordained Jeremiah a prophet to the nations before he was even born. God was spelling out something that was so important and vital in heaven and on earth because if the earth did not comply with what heaven was saying, the life here on earth would have been in shambles.

Something was said of Saul of Tarsus in Acts 9. Saul had a plan for his life, but God had something else planned. We read from verse 1-6. “Then Saul, still breathing threats and murder against the disciples of the Lord, went to the high priest and asked letters from him to the synagogues of Damascus, so that if he found any who were of the Way, whether men or women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem. As he journeyed he came near Damascus, and suddenly a light shone around him from heaven. Then he fell to the ground, and heard a voice saying to him, “Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting Me?” And he said, “Who are You, Lord?” Then the Lord said, “I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting. It is hard for you to kick against the goads.” So he, trembling and astonished, said, “Lord, what do You want me to do?” Then the Lord said to him, “Arise and go into the city, and you will be told what you must do.””

God spelled out the direction in which the life of Jacob and Esau will go. He also spelled out the way and direction in which the life of Jeremiah would go

As God was sending Saul into the city to do some specific things, God was also giving another person instructions on what to do. Look at verse 10-16. “Now there was a certain disciple at Damascus named Ananias; and to him the Lord said in a vision, “Ananias.” And he said, “Here I am, Lord.” So the Lord said to him, “Arise and go to the street called Straight, and inquire at the house of Judas for one called Saul of Tarsus, for behold, he is praying. And in a vision he has seen a man named Ananias coming in and putting his hand on him, so that he might receive his sight.” Then Ananias answered, “Lord, I have heard from many about this man, how much harm he has done to Your saints in Jerusalem. And here he has authority from the chief priests to bind all who call on Your name.” But the Lord said to him, “Go, for he is a chosen vessel of Mine to bear My name before Gentiles, kings, and the children of Israel.

The purpose for Paul's existence was to be a vessel unto God. He was supposed to defend the name of the Lord and not fight against it. That was his destiny

For I will show him how many things he must suffer for My name's sake.”

Saul of Tarsus had been pursuing something different, but God had another purpose for his life. The purpose for Paul's existence was to be a vessel unto God. He was supposed to defend the name of the Lord and not fight against it. That was his destiny.

WHAT IS DESTINY?

1. It is the prophetic purpose of God for your life. It must come from God because you cannot come into it by yourself. You cannot Google it.

Destiny is the prophetic purpose of God for your life. It must come from God because you cannot come into it by yourself

2. It is your divine GPS. Your divine navigator.
3. It is all that God had in mind when He created you. This is because he is the potter, and we are the clay.
4. It is your appointed future.
5. It is all that God has predetermined you to become in His own divine will. A lot of people walk away from the will of God, and they become whatever they want to become.
6. It is the expectation of heaven for your life. Heaven is waiting patiently for when you will bring it forth, show it forth, and manifest, because it is already in you.
7. It is all that heaven expects from you. Adam was created and placed in the garden of Eden with Eve. When they got dislocated, the living God came and asked, "Adam, where are you?" That meant that they were not where God expected them to be. They were also not in the state God expected them to be in, because Adam responded, "I heard your voice in the garden and I was naked, so I hid myself." The man was in the garden, He had not gone out of the garden, but he was already dislocated even inside the garden. He was naked. This was not the expectation of God when he asked Adam, "Where are you?" The man was in the garden, but he was not in the correct position.
8. It is what heaven has programmed your life to accomplish on earth. Many are not aware of their destinies because the devil has taken advantage of them through the search for what to eat, what to wear, where to live, and what class to belong to.

WHEN DO DESTINIES COME UNDER ATTACK?

Destinies usually come under attack at the point of announcement. When your destiny is announced to the world. Look at the example of Joseph. Joseph was a normal child. He was the eleventh of the sons in his father's house. But do you know what began to announce Joseph's life? The first thing was the coat of many colors. It showed that the father preferred him. The second thing was his dreams. If he had kept quiet about his dreams, he would have been okay, but he broadcasted them. The third thing was that he had the favor of his father. Joseph's father favored him above the other brothers.

Destinies usually come under attack at the point of announcement

When you have ten siblings ahead of you, and you are the eleventh, but your parents begin to give you the largest portions, you know you are going to get into trouble. You are the only one who accompanies your dad when he goes out and you are the only one who always knows where your father goes. When you both get back, the others would ask you, "Excuse me, where did you go?" But your dad would have told you not to tell anyone. So, you do not tell them where you went, but you say, "I like the cookies they gave us there. I ate so much cake I could not eat anymore." Your siblings then say, "Oh, so you had so much fun, but dad will not take us?"

They then go to the father and say, "Why is it only our brother you take out?” And the father worsens the situation by saying, “Because he's the only one that listens to me.” Do you see the issue? It has been announced that somebody prefers you and you are favored.

Sometimes those who are favored also begin to put it in the face of others. They go and cause trouble, and then they run to their father to hide. You have been announced and you are in trouble.

When authority is given to you, it announces you. That is why some people say absolute power corrupts absolutely. Some people would have been fine in their destinies if they had not sought elective positions. Think about some politicians. Their lives would have been okay if nobody had said, “This is the person we have voted for, you are our number one.” Immediately the person gets to the position, they then begin to abuse power, and destiny attackers would come.

Your destiny may be announced by your accomplishments. You may be the first college graduate in your family. You may have been the one to break some barriers. Our father in the Lord, Dr. D. K. Olukoya, was a trailblazer in his life and in his family. After he graduated from university with a first-class honors degree in Microbiology, he went to Reading in the UK for his PhD in Molecular Genetics. When he graduated from his PhD program, there were only nine people with that qualification in Africa.

When authority is given to you, it announces you. Your destiny may be announced by your accomplishments.

When he returned to Nigeria, they first insulted him for returning with only books, and not bringing back cars and load. After that, his uncle said, “We need to fortify this boy because nobody has achieved this kind of thing before.” In those days our G.O. was a little bit radical. He said he listened to his uncle attentively. So, the uncle took him to a voodoo altar where the fortification was to be done. When he entered the place, he started praying, “Oh God, please send my uncle outside.” The priest they went to meet was in room. Then the uncle said, “Please where is your restroom?” Our G.O. said under his breath, “God, thank you.” So, the uncle left the room.

After the uncle left, he looked at the priest and said, “Excuse me, they brought me to you for you to help me. Look at your white undershirt. You have no soap to wash it. Look at you, you are eating yam, but you do not have money to buy an egg to go with it. You are using palm oil instead. But they have brought me to you that you should help me...” By the time he finished with the man, the man was trembling with anger. When the uncle came back, the priest shouted, “Take this boy out of here!” The uncle said, “Daniel, what did you do? You must have done something.” The priest said, “Go, I don't want to see this boy here again!”

That was the last time they took him anywhere. He wondered how he who had God inside of him would go to a person who did not have the blessings of God in his life for help. If he had succumbed, his destiny attack would have been severe.
