GUILFORD COUNTY MAN ARRESTED FOLLOWING I.C.A.C. INVESTIGATION

Date of Release: Monday, January 09, 2017

[Stoneville, N.C] – Rockingham County Sheriff's Internet Crimes Against Children (I.C.A.C.) Special Investigator Ray Joyce has arrested ANDREW KENTON JONES, 38, of 3601 Grandway Cr. Greensboro, N.C. following an investigation.

ANDREW KENTON JONES (pictured in this release) was arrested at his home on Friday Jan. 6th 2017 for felonious Solicitation of a Child by Computer. He was brought before a Guilford County Magistrate and subsequently placed in Guilford County Jail under a $25,000 secured bond. He is scheduled to appear in Rockingham County Court on Feb. 10th.

Detective Joyce received his specialized training and equipment for the I.C.A.C. program through a grant from the Governors Crime Commission in January of 2016. Many triad law enforcement agencies participate and collaborate together in the I.C.A.C Task Force. These agencies are continually engaged in proactive and reactive investigations and prosecutions of persons involved in child abuse and exploitation involving the internet.
