 Cooder Graw

---

---

Cooder Graw barreled out of the gate in 1997 in the heat of the uprising Texas and Red Dirt music revolution. No shortage of excitement on stage, their unpredictable live show and hard-charging, guitar-driven sound – uniquely branded “loud country” – coupled with that enigmatic yet unforgettable name, set Cooder Graw firmly among the landmark acts that built the Texas music machine around the turn of the millennium.

From modest beginnings playing covers at the Golden Light Cantina in Amarillo, the band – including lead singer/songwriter and rhythm guitarist Matt Martindale, lead guitar Kelly Turner, and Paul Baker on bass guitar – quickly earned a loyal fan base and in 1998 released their debut album, Home at the Golden Light, which credits Matthew McConaughey, a fraternity brother of Martindale, as executive producer.

Cooder Graw toured relentlessly for most of a decade, playing 200 dates a year at many of the finest venues across the Southwest, and by the end of 2006 the road weary band was feeling the toll of living their songs nightly and longing for home. They played a final show at The Horseman Club in Fort Worth on New Year’s Eve and announced they would stop touring indefinitely. After a six-year hiatus, the group came together in 2012 for what was expected to be a short reunion tour but the Cooder fan base is as fervent as ever and the band is enjoying a relaxed touring schedule without expectations, having a good time playing well-worn songs and writing new ones.

The 2024 Harvest

SATURDAY, AUGUST 24, 2024
HACIENDA GARCIA
839 NORTH DUMAS AVE, DUMAS, TEXAS

The Moore County Health Foundation, through overwhelming community support of its annual Harvest event, has raised in excess of $3MM for purchases to support the health of Moore County residents. To date, it has purchased ambulances, a digital mammography system, a CT radiation reduction system; equipment and furniture for the new MCHD patient care addition, anesthesia machines for surgery, and much more.

The MCHF Harvest celebration turned pink in 2023 in support of the fight against breast cancer. After a successful campaign and purchase of a 3D mammogram for the early detection of breast cancer, this year the Foundation continues its mission and seeks to raise funds for surgical equipment for breast cancer treatment.

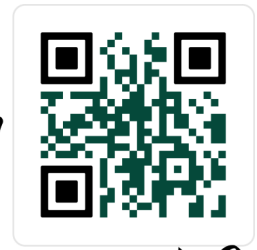

Please consider supporting this cause by sponsoring and attending The 2024 Harvest and thank you for your generous support of both The Harvest and the Moore County Health Foundation!
