ARTIST STATEMENT

I am the Artist who brings you Joy! For nearly a decade, I have been painting and writing about Joy--what it is, how to find it, and why we all deserve it. My approach to painting has evolved to evoke Joy in the viewer through vibrant colors, the orderly repetition of softly-squared petal shapes, and a technique of loading the paint brush so that every mark has dozens of slender lines of color, which engages the viewer in optically mixing the colors--thereby inviting them into the process of creating their Joy. My paintings are inspired by the natural world and vibrant colors, as well as feelings and experiences that spark Joy.

ARTIST BIO

A professional artist based in Seattle, Washington, Sarah C.B. Guthrie has been inquiring into Joy through her painting and writing since 2017. Her paintings have shown in Washington state, Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina, Nashville, and Washington DC, as part of public art, solo and group shows in galleries, businesses, and museums, including the Phillips Collection and Bainbridge Island Museum of Art. In Seattle, she is represented by Moxie Fine Arts. Her works are held in private collections around the world.

With her parents, Guthrie immigrated to the States when she was a toddler. She holds an MFA in Visual Arts from the Vermont College of Fine Arts, an MA from The George Washington University, and a BA from Davidson College. Before launching as a full-time artist in 2019, Sarah's professional career was in communications in human resources and higher education. She is married to a retired U.S. Marine, Tom, and they live in Seattle with their beloved senior rescue Golden Retriever, Tobson.
