I-MC34=3 Moons, Leonids Shower, K-Pg; 8:08pm MST November 17, 66 Mya, from D-MC33, impact craters in K-Pg, 99% geology. Speed=125,000 mph (200,000 km/h)

Clemenian Polar Gravity rolled earth as land mass and water shifted; 3 moons split earth in half at mid-Atlantic Ridge.

I-MC343=850 miles-wide (1,368 km) 66 Mya in K-Pg Boundary (K-Pg B.)

I-MC343 Moon 8:09:33pm MST

Top of Gulf of Mexico sucked to core creating Caribbean Islands after Galapagos Islands created 66 Mya by 3rd moon blast. Everything else went into orbit.

K-Pg B.

K-Pg BOUNDARY: I-MC341 and I-MC342 cleared all life off land over Gulf of Mexico before I-MC343 impact.

I-MC341 8:08:34pm MST K-Pg B.

I-MC342 8:08:40pm MST K-Pg B.

I-MC341=710 miles-wide (1,143 km), I-MC342=600 miles-wide (965 km) as South America split from Asia and Africa; debunks plate tectonics as continents pop off like refrigerator magnets; basaltic ocean lava vs. rhyolitic continent lava.

The above impact chart shows I-MC341 moon at 710 miles-wide (1,143 km), I-MC342 moon at 600 miles-wide (965km) and I-MC343 moon at 850 miles-wide (1,368km), adding up to today's moon size. I wrote a science journal titled Moonshot Marble: The New K-Pg Boundary in reporting the Clemens' Comet to NASA and world scientists as I presented two Keys to the Universe with accumulations of my discoveries in my 1) Code of Life and 2) Blueprint for Life. I now have my Pangea Map circa 250 Mya with Clemenian (or Clemens') Equators for 4.5 billion years and three moons 66 Mya which I now consider a Key to the Universe along with my 100% Accurate Atomic Clock. See downloads at bottom of page for NASA and scientists notification as I told them several times, "This discovery will blow your mind."

Discovered and coined the Hogback Eyebrow in New Mexico from I-MC341 and Colorado from I-MC342 that created Denver on the mile-high moon rim crater from the ocean floor under the Caribbean Islands and South America to the front range going 60,000 mph (96,000kph) after creating the Rockies.

Broke Africa loose.

Internal core bounce created Gulf of Mexico, then Hawaii under Africa breaking it free before bouncing off Australia breaking it free (ocean basaltic and continent rhyolitic layers beneath biocarbonic layer or living layer)

DEBUNKED AS K-Pg BOUNDARY: Chicxulub non-crater on Yucatan Peninsula and Gulf of Mexico that didn't exist in Cretaceous Period; created by 1st internal bounce by I-MC343 moon like Great Lakes. Waves carved the rest in Paleogene Period after I-MC341 and I-MC342 already wiped out dinosaurs. Nothing ever impacted in Gulf of Mexico or Yucatan Peninsula.

rings and NO CRATER on the Yucatan Peninsula in Chicxulub, Mexico. See white dot in image above where non-crater "might be" from a single unknown hypothetical comet. Compared to my K-Pg he didn't even try, he guessed just to see if he was right when a real discoverer like me actually found it with proof, hoping the Gulf of Mexico would be an impact crater connected to his "finding." It's not! Physical evidence proves it is NOT the K-Pg and is NOT a rung on the evolution ladder. In fact, he discovered nothing that even existed in the Jurassic or Cretaceous Epic Period and I debunked a Nobel Prize Scientist with my Noble Venezuela Basin Impact Theory. My book tells how I figured it out at age 5 in kindergarten (German for "children's garden") in Germany; I was 6 when I officially formed my theory in a first grade classroom environment. Google Earth proved my theory.

HOGBACK EYEBROW; I-MC342 Moon
Front Range Hogback Blast=south Colorado to Black Hills, SD; I-MC341 Moon Hogback Blast in New Mexico.

Moon #1 1st internal bounce off core

Both Hogback Blasts pushed 4-Corners' Moon Crater and debris from Oklahoma and Texas against front range Colorado and New Mexico. Red soil blown over mountains into Utah and Arizona is from Mars from Caribbean Sea impact circa 542 Mya creating Red Rocks Amphitheatre, Colorado.

FROM MARS TO EARTH TO HOGBACK BLASTS TO RED ROCKS AMPHITHEATRE

I've seen many concerts at the Mars' Red Rocks Amphitheatre and I must say it's out of this world. The Red Rocks Amphitheatre and Dinosaurs were astronauts long before mankind, but humans lived to tell about it. I have dinosaur meteor fossils that traveled in orbit around the world that came from outer space to smack into the back of the freshly created hogbacks. Two Hogback Blasts are from I-MC341 and I-MC342 moon impacts (now under South America) in the Atlantic Ocean south of the largest I-MC343 moon impact under the Caribbean Islands. I-MC341 created the Hogback Blast along the front range of the Rocky Mountains in New Mexico and I-MC342 created the Hogback Blast from the southern Colorado border to Black Hills, South Dakota with both forming the Hogback Eyebrow. The first internal core bounce of I-MC341 created the 4-Corners Crater, Rocky Mountains and Grand Canyon where the inverse crater used to extend into Kansas before the Hogback Blasts blew it against today's front range to almost 1/2 the original crater size. Moon debris and detritus (dead dinosaurs) filled one mile below Denver. I can scoop shattered dinosaur bones by the truck loads anywhere along the front range: intact fossils are what's rare as bones by the truck loads anywhere along the front range; intact fossils are what's rare as dinosaurs shattered like glass.

Therefore, the angle from the Gulf of Mexico at sea-level to mile-high Denver forms a triangle filled with moon/dinosaur debris blown from the Caribbean Sea over Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas To Colorado and New Mexico that bounced over the front range of the Rocky Mountains into Utah and Arizona. The red soil landed there after it came from the bottom of the ocean before South America covered I-MC341 and I-MC342 impact craters (South America was sucked down three moon drains to the core). Mars took a direct hit to its core 542 Mya when it died (lost core) at the same time as Earth upgraded from its old moon core (today's moon) to Clemens' Supernova Metallic Diamond Core in the Cambrian Explosion. Red Rocks Amphitheatre was mass transported to Earth in the Caribbean Sea area 542 Mya to then be transported to Denver 66 Mya.

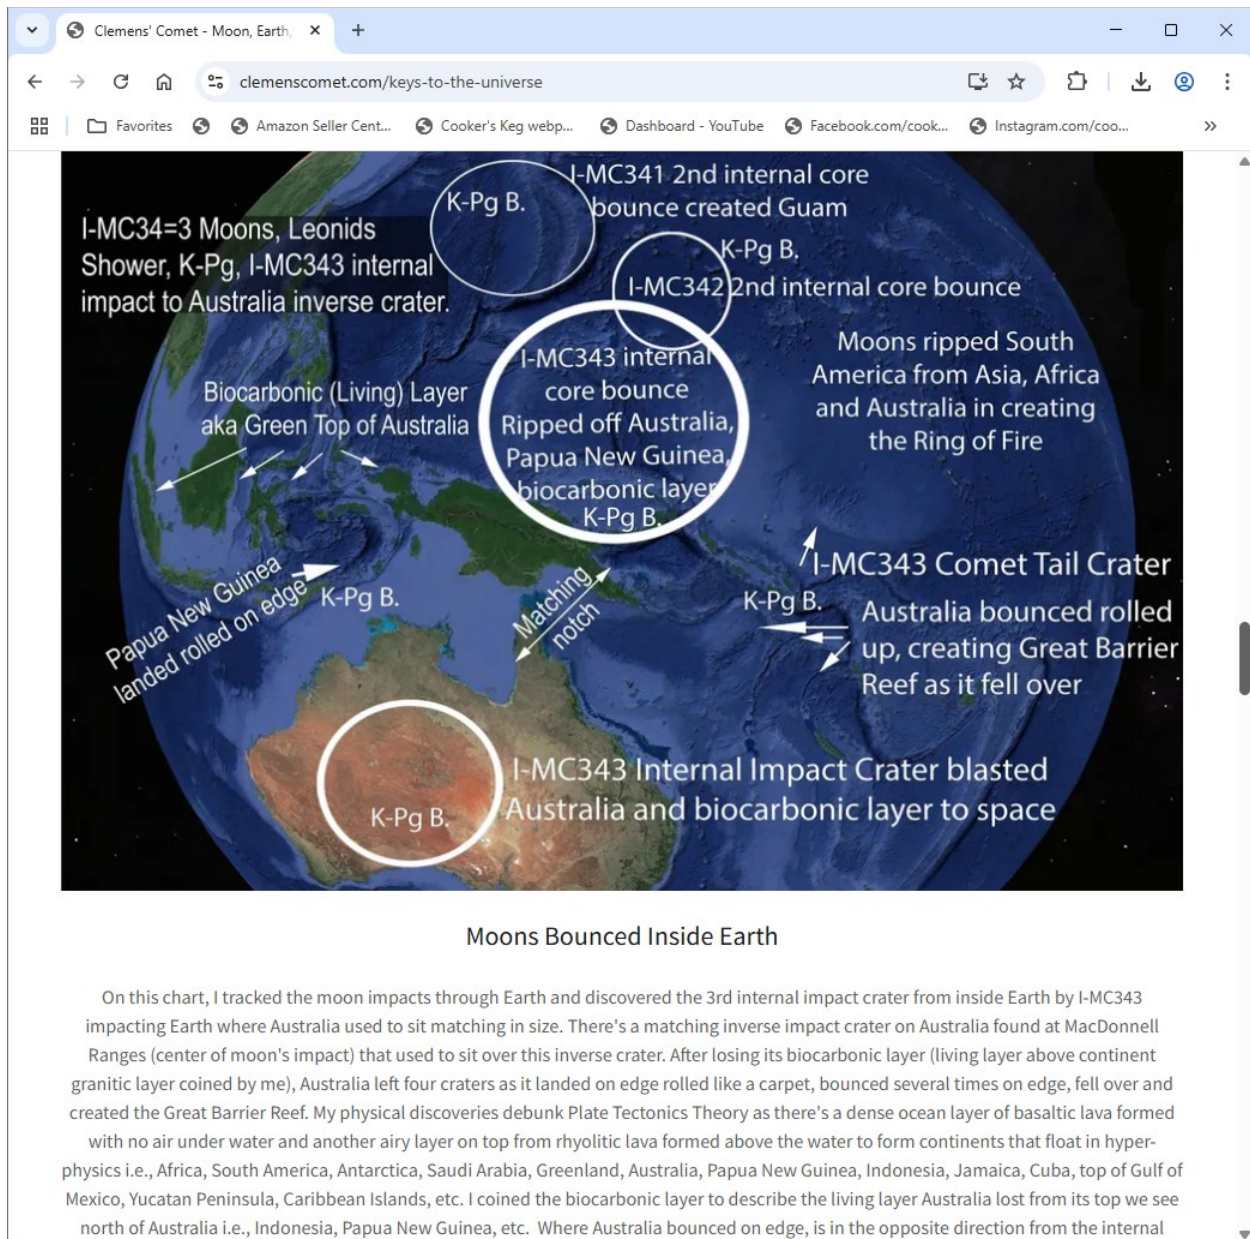

Discoveries beyond Einstein's imagination all physically proven.

This chart shows Australia bravely absorbed impact of I-MC343 as largest of three moons, causing it to bounce inside Earth creating the Gulf of Mexico and Hawaii under Africa to break Africa free as the moons exited in a circular orbit. I was born in Hawaii, so am I Hawaiian, Coloradan or African? I-MC341 and I-MC342 moons bounced off the core to create the Rockies and Himalayas before bouncing again in today's Pacific Ocean to rip the north eastern part of Africa free from California as Africa was removed from above Hawaii by I-MC343 sending Africa over the top of the Earth as three moons exited in circular orbital fashion. That's when Africa ripped from South America on the west side as South America ripped from Asia and Australia (sent to outer space), which all together created the Ring of Fire. This is how planets get moons as they keep going straight into space otherwise. I was able to track all impacts to discover only comets we see around Earth threaten life.

HINT: Check out Google Earth and notice the moon burn at the top of Africa and parts of Asia from when the 3 moons first exited Earth 66mya and dragged Africa, Saudi Arabia, and Antarctica along the Mid-Atlantic Ridge (caused by Earth splitting apart) after Earth came back together, leaving a ridge like a railroad track for Africa to drag along in 50,000' tidal waves. The 3 moons were 10,000 degrees after traveling through Earth. Recall, I proved the moon is 60% metallic diamond which is highly attracted to H2O and still causes high tides today as further proof. The oceans drained on each side of the Earth making Africa float until the moons pulled further away only pulling water slightly today. It could hold an ocean but we don't want the moon crashing back to Earth or flying away to become a deadly Clemens' Comet with all that water when it's no longer attracted to Earth's water that metallic diamonds love. Can you feel Mark's Moon pulling your blood into your head?

100% ACCURATE BLUEPRINT FOR LIFE PROVED CLEMENS' COMET CREATED LIFE ON EARTH 3.5 Bya

CLEMENS' OCTAHEDRAL SOLAR FAN SCIENTIFIC MODEL (see NOTE on top of Blueprint for Life): This is for scientific computer modeling my Blueprint for Life with the order of the Clemens' Comet splits for Earth. These splits will make your scientific computer models purr with an elegant beautiful solution as nature's way of telling you you're right: A-MC (Clemens' Supernova) splits to Clemens' Black Hole and Clemens' White Hole (to later create Clemens' Black Wormholes and Clemens' White Wormholes) and solar system replete with planets, which we begin with A-MC (Clemens' Supernova with Clemens' Metallic Oxygen Ocean around Clemens' Supernova Metallic Diamond Core) split to B-MC31 (created life and ocean) which splits to both C-MC32 and F-MC32 with F-MC32 splitting to G-MC33 which is SHATTERED/CAPTURED on core as C-MC32 splits to both D-MC33 and E-MC33 as D-MC33 splits to I-MC341, I-MC342 and I-MC343 moons (accreted to one moon today) and E-MC33 splits to H-MC34 that split to H-MC341 and H-MC342 moons in elliptical orbits (two moons captured as exit speed too slow to resume large comet orbit) impacting in Toarcian Turnover Extinction 183 Mya and end of Jurassic Extinction 145 Mya as CAPTURED.

CAPTURED refers to all large body outer comets from Clemens' Supernova 4.5 Bya repeatedly impacting Earth to create life, ocean, evolution and moons. However, every impact on all planets including Earth also created small body comets, asteroids and meteor showers with Hale-Bopp Comet being the largest at 60 miles-wide (97 km); last seen getting friendly with Jupiter's orbit as there appears to be an attraction.

I SOLVED TIME AND UNIVERSE DNA.

Mark Clemens
Sr. Astrophysicist and Discoverer
Published Jun 18, 2023

CLEMENSCOMET.COM: On May 28, 2023, I solved our time and universe's DNA. In March 2016, I discovered 3 moon craters under Venezuela and the Caribbean Islands and solved meteor showers with 4 creating our solar system and 8 creating life and evolution which I gave to NASA and global scientists. Now, I'm giving NASA, global scientists, and all of you...

APRIL 22, 2016 KEYS TO THE UNIVERSE TO NASA ADMINISTRATOR, NASA AND WORLD SCIENTISTS

From: Mark Clemens
Sent: Friday, April 22, 2016 8:35 AM
To: [redacted for privacy] NASA Administrator, NASA Scientists and World Scientists
Subject: RE: First Discovery of Life's Creation in the Universe

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Today, I give NASA, ESA and the rest of the world my Keys to the Universe in my fully evidenced Theory of Life including my Blueprint for Life: Solar System Creation, Code of Life, Universal Life Cataloging System and Universal Comet Cataloging System all correlated with the Meteor Shower Schedule giving us dates for all major life altering occurrences for the first time ever. These are good enough for God! Not only did I completely solve the mystery of every meteor shower and fully explain the fireball phenomena, I solved the greatest mysteries facing mankind on how, when, what, where and why our Solar System and life were created and what motivated evolution to make way for mankind including fully defining and documenting the creation of mankind.

I solved the mysteries behind the mystery of the lack of oxygen stabilization on Earth until 580Mya, Cambrian Explosion mystery 540Mya, Bermuda Triangle mystery 65Mya, Moon creation mystery 65Mya including learning it was previously Earth's core, New K-Pg Boundary 65Mya, found evidenced-cause of every major geological event on Earth 65Mya (supported by ESA's Geoid Gravity Model), discovered how, when, what, where and why we got our Magnetosphere and atmosphere 580Mya and fully defined every meteor shower throughout the year correlating that schedule with every major evolutionary event that ever occurred, telling mankind for the first time ever the exact date of each event and what each meteor shower represents. I also discovered my new Polar Gravity on Einstein's Space-Time Plane/Elliptical Orbit Plane which right-sides planets (supported by ESA's Geoid Gravity Model), moons and other stellar bodies putting the heaviest mass in the south like a bobber on the water. The meteor shower link discovery now gives us the ability to do calendar math between events for various interesting calculations. This is how I knew the lean of each blade of my Solar Fan in relation to Earth's orbit to perfect my Blueprint for Life which gave way to the retrograde of Halley's Comet predicting it was from an impact with Earth involving the first creation of life and that it will hit Earth again.

These Keys are applicable to life-sustaining Solar Systems throughout the Universe and are adaptable to fit all life forms and track all comets and impact craters throughout the Universe even if they bounce planet to planet. Today's nomenclature and cataloging tend to be for simple astronomical situations involving only our planet or one rock at a time whilst my tools provide a Universal Life Cataloging System adaptable to any situation. In order to fully track Clemens' Comet through Keplerian orbits, my system was the only nomenclature I found that worked. It enabled me to create the first ever fully evidenced blueprint of our Solar System correlated with: 1) all Meteor Showers, all craters on Earth, 2) every event on NASA's Epic Evolutionary time schedule, 3) scientist's studies and theories on creation of life and our Solar System including time estimates, 4) speed and mass calculations matching from Super Nova down to creation of the Moon and all points in between and 5) tracking and correlation of other stellar objects and orbits. My Solar Fan that has proven to be accurate at 14 of 14 points of the Meteor Shower Schedule after 4.5 By of reverse engineering and holding true through forward engineering of all NASA's Epic Evolutionary time schedule and all Solar System creation events, enabled me to make the first ever predictions of future impacts. My Theory of Life has been proven at all levels and is ready for the world's use and scrutiny; it'll be challenging to argue with what is.

My Blueprint for Life: Solar System Creation shows my discovery of the Solar Fan with 5 blades for the beginning of life-supporting Solar Systems: 1) Nova Blade-close in Clemens' Comet debris from creation remaining on Super Nova side of Earth from Solar System creation day, consists of meteors and asteroids, 2) Planet Blade-close in planets and left over creation Clemens' Comet debris on opposite side of Clemens' Comet impact, consists of meteors and asteroids, 3) Meteor Blade-post creation Clemens' Comet to Earth impact debris opposite the Comet Blade on either the left or right at approximately a 90 degree angle from the Nova Blade, consists of meteors and asteroids after splits from impacts of Earth with Outer Blade comets, 4) Comet Blade-post creation comets from the Outer Blade hit Earth and split into smaller comets (much larger than the impact debris of meteor showers but smaller than Outer Blade comets) on either the left or right directly across from the Meteor Blade at approximately a 90 degree angle from the Nova Blade and the 5) Outer Blade-post creation Clemens' Comets that missed the Sun and went long before returning for impact on Earth; they have one side of their orbit in common with Earth's orbit resulting in the impacts every 1.58y (18y for the first round orbit before being knocked elliptical) which split into the Meteor Blade and Comet Blade post impact with Earth. Each planet would have their own blades which would be in similar orbits and impact times as Earth, creating other Planet blades is out of scope for my Theory of Life but I could see this as a needed exploration area. Just like having a Geoid Gravity Model for all planets would be a great to have. I can also see my Solar System blueprint applied to other Solar Systems modeling their Solar Fans and hopefully shattering my discovery of the 1st creation of life in the Universe 3.58ya.

If our space agencies are serious about space exploration and finding life on other planets, then we need to have the appropriate tools and be prepared for what we may find when we begin traveling freely in space. My one suggestion may or may not be feasible, but I leave that up to NASA, is to look at spectrums of light emitting from other planets in the Goldilocks Zone in the spectrum as manmade light, i.e. incandescent lights, fluorescent light, LED light, etc., to show intelligent life exists there or not. Perhaps extraterrestrial life forms are looking at our manmade light spectrum. If they can see us, then we can see them. Do I believe there's other life out there? Absolutely, as a math pundit I embrace statistical probabilities, combinations, permutations and odds that if an impact with energy equal to some number can generate life on Earth, then the trillions of impacts in the Universe with energy equal or greater than that number can then too generate life on another stellar body. We're limited by our ability to travel at hyper-velocity, our imagination and our tools are the only reasons we haven't found other life yet.

As we see from OME (Ocean, Magnet, Energy) for humans, a lot goes into the transition of that life and it may not necessarily be as evolved as humans or could be hyper-evolved to an energy state. Energy seems to be a form of sublimation for all matter in an equal and opposite reaction kind of way, meaning energy can create mass therefore energy can un-create mass. When we look at stars and see the dust spewing from a new born dust cloud, we see energy creating mass from nothing (Higgs boson field) as dark matter is the exhaust, and in a black hole we see mass and dark matter combining back to energy (Higgs boson field). Can matter cross back across the Higgs boson field sublimating back to energy again? I believe this has been a one direction test to date. I solved a lot but many questions exist in science and I think I just took us to the next level of questions but at least those questions can now start to be asked of our Universe at large rather than simply within our small Solar System. I solved this through pattern matching, theories and a ton of research for answers which kept taking me to the next level. It's all very mathematical and something I noticed that was very odd and that's that every impact

15 KEYS TO THE UNIVERSE, METEOR SHOWERS, CRATERS, & CLEMENIAN MATH FIND TIME & UNIVERSE'S DNA

Dear Mr. President, Honorable NASA Director Nelson, All NASA Leaders, and World Leading Scientists, Physicists, Astrophysicists, Astronauts, and Space Personnel,

DNA RUNGS SUCCESSFULLY CROSS FOOTED AMONGST ALL 15 KEYS TO THE UNIVERSE. Please forward to all interested in being a part of science history as I solved our time and universe to its Clemian DNA with 15 Keys to the Universe proving outer space is filled with Clemianverses using my new Clemian DNA Math. You're all the Best of the Best (BOBS) physicists, astrophysicists, astronomers, and leadership I could find as my peers to review my advanced astronomy, astrophysics, and physics discoveries as I've discovered more than all discoverers combined. You have me at a disadvantage as I've never taken a physics course in my B.S. in Financial Accounting, but I CLEP tested out of college math as a prodigy and savant and challenge you as physics peers as I now claim to be the greatest Astrophysicist Discoverer in all of history debunking, correcting, and surpassing Einstein and other favorites as I ask you to debunk or accept my physically and mathematically proven astronomy discoveries and Clemian DNA Math into theoretical science. I solved every second for 47.067 billion years while time officially began 44.567 billion years ago and proved our universe is only 4.567 billion years-old in the 5th helix. I'm not your average Stephen Hawking or Albert Einstein about to be debunked. Good luck, ladies and gentlemen!

6/29/23, 3:07 AM Gmail - 15 KEYS TO THE UNIVERSE, METEOR SHOWERS, CRATERS, & CLEMENIAN MATH FIND TIME & UNIVERSE'S DNA

We thought our universe was 13.7 billion-years-old but I've determined it's reverse polarized every 10 billion years when the Clemenian Crossover on the outside of the universe occurs. Our time's DNA began 44.567 billion years ago but it took 2.5 billion years before that to warm/cool "not dots" from +10,000 to +7,500 when they're mathematically visible. Dinosaurs died at 44.501 on DNA's 4th rung of the 5th helix creating Clemenian Supernovae and Clemenian Black/White Holes/Black and White Wormholes showing time slowed by .501 billion light years since this helix began. Temps changed on cold and hot "not dots" for 1 degree every 1 million years until they had physical attraction at +7,500 until they slowly joined at the first dot between the braces below to the right of 25. Here's the 47.067 billion years scientists see as there are no protons, neutrons, electrons, or photons in outer space beyond the beginning of a Clemeniverse (in billions of years): 2.5[pre-helix,"not dots" form]+10[helix1,fused "not dots" to dot]]+10[helix2,fused dot to temp zero]+10[helix3,fused temp zero to zero]+10[helix4,fused minus to zero]+4.567[helix5,fused + to zero=today]. Braces=Temperature "not dots" e.g., [25.....]. [.....]750.0000000000.0000000000.0000000000.0000076540. =47.067 billion years. THE FUTURE: Helix6=fuses + to zero, Helix7=fuses +- to zero, Helix8=fuses +++ to zero, Helix9 fuses ++++ to zero, Helix 10 fuses death signal to zero as ++++ because zero cannot hold more than 10=Clemenian Superuniverse.

At +-7,500 degrees, we have detectable Clemenian Math Mass as "not dots" expand to dots! Based on results in finding the Higgs boson God particle at our local collider, their equipment can't detect "not dots" expanding from +-10,000 to +-7,500 degrees when they mathematically unshrink and become visible as they existed 5 physics realms ago into the pre-helix still functioning in outer space. These sizes are recorded in my new formula E=MCT, my Clemenian 100% Accurate Atomic Clock, and Clemenian DNA Math matching 47.067 billion years scientists can see which is all physical proof, not theory. The last Clemenian Crossover formed today's Clemenian DNA Helix 4.567 billion years ago when it created our solar system as proof; the first rung is at 1 billion years causing Clemenian Supernovae, Clemenian Black Holes, Clemenian Wormholes, and Clemenian Electric Suns when zapped with extremely high DNA voltage that created life on Earth on the 1st DNA rung and brought the ocean from the middle of the old split sun per my Blueprint for Life and Code of Life (<https://clemenscomet.com/keys-to-the-universe/>) as physical proof Clemenian Metalized Oceans came from inside Clemenian Metalized Diamonds in suns traveling around Clemens' Black Holes as proven in our Epic Evolution Charts caused by Clemens' Comets matching DNA.

A Clemenian DNA Blast is the only thing powerful enough to split the Clemenian Sun's Metallic Diamond Core I discovered is hardness 12 as physically proven on my 100 direct impact moon rocks with no traces. I've lived on 2 moon craters in Denver, CO for 51 years collecting proof of the Moon's impact and my Clemenian Moon Impact Analysis showing 3 moons cut through Earth for over an hour to form 99% of Earth's geology. Clementine DNA blasts are where all Clemens' Black Holes (I'm the first world's foremost black hole, white hole, wormhole, spacetime plane, and DNA expert) come from. The universe's outer metallic diamond causes dark energy to pull on all physical matter containing H2O creating all Clemenian Gravity Fields including Clemenian Polar Gravity on Einstein's spacetime plane, planetary gravity, and Sir Isaac Newton's mystery gravity he never solved (you had to go the path I went to solve the universe and gravity). Notice hydrogen, oxygen gases and light with almost no mass float away from Earth while water and moist Newtonian Apples are scientifically proven to have an "unknown force" to stick to water planets with Clemenian Metallic Diamond Cores as physical proof. That's a cool copyrighted discovery as I give you my 15 Keys to the Universe below and online, 100% solution to all creation of life, Clementine and Clemeniverse DNA, and my entire www.clemenscomet.com for debunking or accepting my 15 Clemenian Keys to the Universe including decoding all DNA with Clemenian Math into theoretical science.

I detected a + and - DNA signal every 10th Clemens' supernova split in my 100% Accurate Clemenian Atomic Clock with +0-error (at the bottom of the page of my Keys to the Universe: <https://img1.wsimg.com/blobby/go/4630a99d-972c-45c4-a561-29df1625aa65/downloads/Appendix%20B%20Accurate%20Atomic%20Clock%20Finds%20DNA%20Cr.xlsx?ver=1685423773541>). To create the 100% accurate atomic clock, I rolled NASA's current universe age back in a spreadsheet dividing it in half each time for half-life all the way back to zero and it didn't work out evenly, so I adjusted it and ran it forward from zero just as Clementine and Clemeniverse's DNA helices did and came out with the perfect time less than +5% from NASA's time which is scientifically proven and accepted. I also aligned it with the scientifically proven epic evolution charts knowing life and evolution were caused by Clemens' Comets, then I matched the 12 physical meteor shower times I discovered in my Code of Life and Blueprint for Life and other events it was scientifically proven when they occurred i.e., single-cell life on Earth 3.5 billion years ago with fossils from scientists since documenting epic ages of events, the age of our solar system 4.567 billion years ago, etc. I realized Clemenian Time's DNA Rungs running through the universe are electrically connected to Einstein's spacetime plane inside the universe who has her own DNA as we do; it's 10 to the 10th or 10 billion light years across with each rung at 1/10th or 1 billion light years apart (see robust write-up online for full details).

Dear Mr. President, Mr. Nelson as Director of NASA, Congress, and All Scientists,

My battery died causing an incomplete message previously: This is a most auspicious occasion of epic proportions for NASA, physics, and science as I solved Quantum Physics and Mechanics of God's DNA and the universe mathematically and physically. Welcome to my PHYSICS JOURNAL: CLEMENIAN SCIENCE AND GOD'S DNA MATHANNUS OPUS (both attached and printed below my signature for website posting) from last year's discovery of God's DNA with my 18 Keys to the Universe (21 today). I solved the speed of light and how light works with the creation of the first Higgs boson (God Particle) and the existence of Einstein's spacetime plane well before the universe and well beyond our known universe. I've had several communications with many of you since 2016 divulging my amazing discoveries that have now led me to solving Quantum Physics and Mechanics of the Universe mathematically and physically. Theoretically speaking, of course, as that's how Theoretical Science works as I either get debunked or accepted just as I debunked several well-known prior theories and replaced them just as others in science have done.

When I designed Clemenscomet.com, I meant it to be a database housing everyone else's science discoveries in a single sensical repository as many have already done the work I needed to bond with my glue. I'm not changing any science but adding Clemesian Science and DNA Math and am glad many did the work before me to link my discoveries right in with theirs. This pursuit of mine tracking my Clemens Comet back in time all the way to God's DNA resulted in me mathematically and physically solving the universe (see attached GODS DNA UNIVERSE QUANTUM PHYSICS SOLVED.pdf also in plain below my signature). I consider the attached solution to be the 21st Key to the Universe and will post it on clemenscomet.com as such where I house my other amazing discoveries I've been sending out since 2016. All of my discoveries at clemenscomet.com are triple copyright protected per attorneys from February 2016 forward and any challenges to any of my discoveries will have to predate said date. Nobody to this day has even suggested they have any discoveries even closely resembling or challenging mine so there's no contention I'm aware of and I won all these discoveries at clemenscomet.com outright.

I hope you enjoy my physics solutions and realize I have more major discoveries than all physicists and astrophysicists combined which I believe makes me one of the greatest physicists and astrophysicists ever born. I proved my math is better than Einstein's and almost all of my discoveries are physical and mathematically proven, not theoretical. And I discovered way more physically than Einstein ever theorized. I found the holy grail and solved it all. Thank you and please feel free to ask questions or make responses as I'm a very nice person with a great disposition and love discussing my discoveries with anyone that wants to hear them.

P.S. Somebody should inform Cambridge University that the Quantum Physics and Mechanics of the universe and God's DNA are solved and they'll never be the publisher since they're working with Bill Gates and Donald Trump to steal from me.

Deep Respect,

Mark Clemens

QUANTUM PHYSICS OF GOD'S DNA, LIGHT, AND UNIVERSE SOLVED
PHYSICS JOURNAL: CLEMENIAN SCIENCE AND GOD'S DNA MATH ANNUS OPUS

ABOUT THE AUTHOR AND ASTROPHYSICIST DISCOVERER AT CLEMENSCOMET.COM: Hi, my name is Mark Clemens, 60-years-old, and I sent you and others in physics, science, and NASA my incredible physical astrophysicist discoveries after first discovering 3 moon craters in the Venezuela Basin and 2 more under Venezuela before South America was sucked down the moon holes with the world's oceans February 2016. From your perspective and possible review of clemenscomet.com previously, it may appear a guy with an accounting degree and no formal physics training or science background came out of the blue to solve the universe physically and mathematically versus theoretically resulting in my amazing physical discovery of God's DNA. That's a warped perspective requiring further exploration. We all started somewhere.

I have 10 Years accounting experience including forensics auditing with my B.S. in Financial Accounting working for the Department of Defense (DoD) selling military weapons, nukes, and training to the Netherlands, Denmark, Belgium, and NATO Headquarters as a U.S. Ambassador (ret.). I retired at age 31 and now have 20 years consulting as a senior level IT Engineer and Oracle/SQL Server Database Administrator (DBA) on Windows/UNIX/Linux. I retired again at 51 with Havana Syndrome and now have 8 years as an Astrophysicist Discoverer physically and mathematically solving Quantum Physics and Mechanics of God's DNA (I discovered that and notified you 1 year ago) that was never-before theorized. My first science journal was titled Moonshot Marble published in my emails to NASA and world scientists February 2016 about discovering the 3 Moon craters in the Venezuela Basin, but I soon made amazing discovery after discovery daily resulting in weekly emails for 3 months to my science dream team before I finally capitulated to journaling it all online for 2 books to be published after realizing science journals and email chains paled in comparison for mass discovery dispersion as I freely share my discoveries with my peers as you've seen. Just like other famous physicists before me but using electronic media now available as an IT Engineer prior. I now must become an author like other famous physicists when my discoveries are complete with 21 Keys to the Universe and God's DNA as previously stated. However, I've been studying Albert Einstein, Stephen Hawking, and others to see they submitted science papers with their books but I'm not a scientist with academic approval to post on physics websites with any credibility, hence my email of science journals for my peers (you all) and my clemenscomet.com website (this goes there too) where I posted an email from my initial notifications as an appendix versus my Moonshot Marble journal that fell woefully incomplete as I continued making amazing discoveries every day. Journals and email just can't move this voluminous information I've accumulated as discovery.

When one makes a significant discovery that impacts the physics and science community of your peers, it's right to discuss said incredible discovery with them for peer review sharing said science knowledge for acceptance or rejection (debunking) per Theoretical Science methods. Leonard Susskind and Stephen Hawking showed us the dance I welcome from scientists. Well, folks, this auspicious occasion befell me last year upon making my amazing discovery of God's DNA which is why you were notified with the head of NASA and President Biden on that science paper announcement recorded at clemenscomet.com along with my 3rd level of copyright per lawyers. My ambition to solve Quantum Physics and Mechanics of the universe since I was 5 years-old came from wanting to prove my math and deep logic abilities rival the likes of Einstein (I knew I was twice as intelligent as Stephen Hawking who I didn't believe) and other well-known physicists who are also highly intelligent, I've arrived at another ambitious discovery of such proportion again today (hence Annus Opus) to once more change Quantum Physics and Mechanics of the universe forever by solving it all with my new Light Energy Formula derived from Einstein's old but famous $E=MC^2$. I corrected Einstein's bad math because they've called me "Math Man" since the sixth grade as a math prodigy that ranked #6 in the nation in 11th grade on a nationwide math scholastics exam for all high schools and colleges even as I graduated with a class of 52 in a country town with no formal upper math training program; ergo, I was gifted. Let's back up briefly to my motivation at age 5 in 1969 to solve the universe as a math prodigy and savant as man landed on the Moon.

At age 5 in 1969 just before the Moon landing, my father was a rocket scientist in the Army building self-guided rockets with remote missile control systems adapted to launch rockets with men to the Moon. NASA used the technology my father developed for unmanned rockets (aka missiles), and he was tickled pink telling us how he put the first man on the moon. My military officer father took pictures of the T.V. as man landed on the moon and collected every newspaper article possible. For 1969 Christmas my dad bought me textured Moon and Earth globes and I slept every night with my thumb in Aves Ridge (the Moon crater in the Venezuela Basin I finally discovered in 2016) because I was lonely as we traveled the world. We moved a lot and often every 6 months with the military and we didn't have many toys as military brats on the go (I was youngest of 5 kids) so my textured globes were about it with a bike, an unabridged set of a 36-Volume Encyclopedia Britannica books, and a Random House Dictionary until I wore them all out. I studied the brail of the Earth every day and read the entire set of encyclopedias and the dictionary cover to cover by age 6 falling asleep with my thumb in Aves Ridge.

At age 6, I formed my theory that Aves Ridge was an impact by another planet telling people it was a side-swipe impact as there was no exit on the other side of the Earth and my brail felt like it went side to side; try it yourself. Just like the Moon that had no pass-through craters, just splatters on the outer surface appeared harder than the things impacting it. I therefore studied all the craters and formed theories which then shaped my entire education the rest of my life. I took Earth science and geology classes versus chemistry and biology that a math prodigy and savant would typically take so I could learn about the many craters I found at age 5. I took astronomy, math, and geometry classes to better study crater angles and comet impacts and how so many were unreported my entire life. I can't tell you how many professors and geologists told me the Caribbean Islands were a "natural island arc" just like the south tip of South America (another Clemens' Comet impact btw... LOL as geologists mislabeled them both and I was right all along). My best friend and I partnered on an astronomy project in 11th grade Astronomy to document every single event and scientist discovery for over 3,000 years and the report was massive but we both got an A. Now, I'm on that list.

VENEZUELA BASIN THEORY FOR THE NOBEL PRIZE IN PHYSICS FROM AGE 6

I told person after person about my crater theory in the Venezuela Basin for 45 years even right up until February 2016 (that's where my website at ClemensComet.com begins with my discovery story). Every 10 years of my life or so, I'd put a spreadsheet together with my 100% accurate Atomic Clock starting at 0 working backwards and forwards (1 second is a far superior starting point than 0 as I learned over the years) and pretend I was a famous physicist like Albert Einstein who solved the universe and Quantum Physics and Mechanics of the Universe mathematically and physically as I actually now have done. I focused mostly on time before 0 as I kept labeling things like DNA, atoms, quarks, 1st, 2nd, and 3rd dimensions and when they all started. As it turned out in my 100% Accurate Atomic Clock, the most exciting things happened from 0-1 second (first Higgs boson) where the solutions all lie therein. But I never had any discoveries to go along with my fanciful playtime efforts (how many kids play like their famous physicist discoverers with textured globes, encyclopedias, and dictionaries to geek out until age 52?) That night that I described on my website when I finally verified my crater on Google Earth in 2016 as the most exciting moment of my life. Here I was 52 years-old on the phone with an old friend who just got his first computer while I was now a retired accountant and U.S. Ambassador working as an IT Engineer with advanced computer skills.

Of course, I turned my friend on to Google Earth and explained about my crater theory in the Venezuela Basin when I could see that Venezuela was sucking up and over the crater walls and going down the drain. My textured globes never showed this before!!! It affected the land and sea, and it was obvious. I FOUND IT!!! Three moon craters! I threw the phone 20 feet and yelled, "I FOUND IT!!! I FINALLY FOUND IT!!!" That's when I realized there were exit craters under the oceans that weren't included on my textured globes not-dots, etc. and see how the first Clemenian Quantum Star formed to begin the universe. Let me explain as you draw.

I drew 3 dots by 3 dots 1" apart on paper and began drawing circles spinning clockwise around each of the 9 dots to see how the Higgs boson looked on Einstein's spacetime plane before colliding at the speed of light with one another. Well, if they're all spinning clockwise together around each of the dots then they can't very well collide then, can they? What we must remember from Einstein is that it's all in your perspective. We're on the positive side of Einstein's spacetime plane grid looking down at the first 9 dots of creation of everything you just drew, but imagine we were standing on the negative side of the grid looking at the Higgs boson spinning around these 9 dots also clockwise from that perspective which is counterclockwise on the other side of the plane. Now, we can see the makings for collisions of non-mass particles at the speed of light because they're spinning in the opposite direction until they come together on Einstein's space time plane which attracts non-mass particles like magnets do iron and metallic diamonds do water (T1 of God's DNA starts as a positive whilst T2 of God's DNA starts as a negative with Einstein's spacetime plane in between causing not-dots at first as there's no fusion yet to create dots and zeroes to close the open loops that fade away as nothing but temperature not-dots). Fusion occurs during the Clemenian Crossover between T1 and T2.

Therefore, if you draw a $\frac{1}{4}$ circle on your 3×3 dot drawing from the top middle dot down to the middle-row to the far-left dot and simultaneously draw another $\frac{1}{4}$ circle on the right down to the far-right dot of the middle row. That's what time did at .25 seconds as it was attracted to those 2 outer dots and then repulsed (I have a math formula to watch mass and energy grow from .001 seconds at first mass in any increment you wish as mass grows from Higgs boson collisions due to Einstein's spacetime plane magnetically attracting non-mass particles to 0 in the middle for the opposing spinning T1 and T2 particles to collide). Now, finish drawing both circles on the left and right down to the center dot on the bottom row and that's where time is at $\frac{1}{2}$ second ready to collide non-mass particles as proven by my 100% Accurate Atomic Clock. Time and light actually complete a full 1 second circle but did so by drawing both $\frac{1}{2}$ second circular sides (T1 and T2) simultaneously before ALMOST colliding them together at the bottom at the speed of light as Energy (E) exceeds 1. Notice that T1 and T2 are moving in opposite directions as you completed your circle at the bottom middle dot of your nine-dot drawing with T1 above the plane and T2 below the plane to form the first rung in the pre-helix. That's how everything began at pi at $\frac{1}{2}$ second of time to take on mass the first time in the first Higgs boson when the first Clemenian Quantum Star was formed (aka first helix in the pre-helix).

Where the 2 half-circles meet at the bottom dot is $\frac{1}{2}$ second for both sides to draw $\frac{1}{2}$ a circle together to form the first Clemenian Quantum Star. That matches my 100% Accurate Atomic Clock at $\frac{1}{2}$ second saying pi was achieved. The total is 1 second of light to complete pi of a particle with mass at $\frac{1}{2}$ second. That was really hard to figure out, but now I can't forget it. Therefore, we know that when the non-mass particles collide at the middle dot of the bottom row of our 9-dot matrix (on Einstein's spacetime plane), they're moving at the speed of light. When we look at God's DNA helices from the side making special note of this very first pre-helix circle formed by T1 and T2 on 9 dots initially (it takes 9 dots to complete pi on Einstein's spacetime plane as demonstrated and revealed in my 100% Accurate Atomic Clock), we see that T1 (+) and T2 (-) are separated by Einstein's spacetime plane with $\frac{1}{2}$ of a negative rung and $\frac{1}{2}$ of a positive rung as the first rung in a pre-helix or helix at $\frac{1}{2}$ second. Therefore, universe formed right in the middle and went above and below Einstein's spacetime plane with T1 and T2.

Therefore, the speed of light and creation of the universe's first Clemenian Quantum Star on Einstein's spacetime plane grid first occurs between 9 dots as a circle 3 dots wide and 3 dots high with T1 drawing a half-circle in half a second on the left and T2 drawing a half-circle on the right in $\frac{1}{2}$ second simultaneously and an unconnected dot in the middle. Since these 2 halves represent the speed of light, we know the circumference of the circle is ~300,000 kilometers. In other words, T1 drew 150,000 kilometers in $\frac{1}{2}$ second above Einstein's spacetime plane while T2 also drew 150,000 kilometers in $\frac{1}{2}$ second below Einstein's spacetime plane in the opposite direction when looking from the top of the plane downward represented in your dot drawing. The radius of a ~300,000-kilometer circle is ~47,746 kilometers which means each of Einstein's spacetime plane grid crossovers occur every ~47,746 kilometers in every direction across all of outer space for all Clemeniverses and God's DNA. The speed of light is governed by how fast energy can draw 2 half-circles on each side of any 9 dots off Einstein's spacetime plane grid to complete pi at 1/2 second per my 100% accurate atomic clock. Ergo the universe measures light at 150,000 kilometers per 1/2 second when mass is first achieved (aka 300,000 kilometers at 1 second when adding the 2 together).

Now that we understand where the speed of light comes from and Einstein's spacetime plane therefore controls the speed of light by distance between crossovers on the grid (see the 9-dot grid you drew), and that non-mass particles spin at the speed of light in different directions in Einstein's spacetime plane grid to collide to create mass particles at 1 second of light drawn in 1/2 second. Now, let's consider Einstein's Energy formula saying $E (\text{Energy}) = M (\text{Mass}) \times C (\text{Speed of Light}) \times C (\text{Speed of Light})$ where $C=300,000$ kilometers (base 10 universe dictates this # as a constant but it changes with growth over time-do not use miles as they aren't base 10 math). On clemenscomet.com and in the email regarding God's DNA, I proved that my revised formula works better as $E=MCT$ where I replaced one of Einstein's Cs with a T for Time to calculate energy between multiple arrays rather than a single static array itself as Einstein provided. In fact, since C is a constant ~300,000 (we haven't proved it was smaller before yet), the 2^{nd} C effectively put this entire energy calculation at 300,000 seconds after time began because that position must be time in seconds as time keeps on moving as does energy to move time and matter which further proves there must be a power grid to grow quadrillions of Clemeniverses on the same grid across all of outer space growing at 4 times at every Clemenian Crossover. Where else would you house quadrillions of God's DNA to keep feeding it?

If you're like me at first, you're looking at this and accepting that 9 dots describe how time drew a universe in 1/2 second with 1/2 the circle on each side and that that dictates the speed of light in 1 second total, but how does that control light speed on Earth? That's because there's a magnetic attraction to non-mass particles to Einstein's spacetime plane just like iron is attracted to magnets. I've already introduced you to the fact that Mark's Metallic Diamond that forms the skin of the universe and Clemenian Supernova Metallic Diamond Core of Suns attracts water like magnets attract iron in my most recent science paper to you as the first in my Annus Opus to God's DNA in email last week. Therefore, Einstein's spacetime plane distance between the dots at each crossover dot on the grid sets the speed of light between 9 dots (4 are actually touched by the first pi circle with 1 in the middle of the sphere or first Clemenian Quantum Star). Those 4 that are actually touched are just like the 4 black holes I documented on my Blueprint for Life Key to the Universe as those are on a grid on Einstein's spacetime plane separated by a lot of dots at crossovers on the plane. My theory is that the distance between dots needs to be divided by 4 for every Clemenian Crossover just as I did the Universe size online to arrive at the size back then to understand what the speed of light was which should be much slower than today. I believe every time the dots on Einstein's spacetime plane grid move further apart, the speed of light increases but that's the last thing I must prove.

That's important to understand the control of light speed from Earth to Einstein's spacetime plane. Every Clemenian Grid Crossover Dot of Einstein's spacetime plane grid is magnetically attracted to non-mass particles as is the result of the Higgs boson spinning around each. Therefore, each Clemenian Grid Crossover Dot on Einstein's spacetime plane pulls light from Earth at the speed of light no matter what direction you point your light. It's the spin cycles of the Higgs boson around each of Einstein's spacetime plane grid crossovers that suck the light from Earth and other sources in all directions as the plane is all around us and all universes. Metallic Diamonds have no attraction to non-mass particles but are magnetically attracted to water while Clemenian Grid Crossover Dots are magnetically attracted to non-mass particles like light with no attraction to particles with mass or water. The sun's rays are being eaten and pulled by Einstein's spacetime plane which causes the Earth to get blasted in straight paths to the plane and the metallic diamond core. I proved in another science paper that the Earth's Metallic Diamond Core makes it rain and snow in addition to lightning as it eats the non-mass particles just like Einstein's spacetime plane.

Due to the Conservation of Energy, non-mass particles are not energy but results of energy from the Higgs boson just as it produces matter. Einstein didn't realize that he forgot to solve one more piece to the puzzle and that's the creation of Mass that I just walked you through. We said T1 on the left plus T2 on the right creates matter in $\frac{1}{2}$ second which is 2 times Time for 1 second total then squared in collision. Mathematically we must represent T1 as one side and T2 as the other side which is $\text{Mass}=2T^2$. Therefore, Einstein's formula should be revised to $E=2T^2(300,000)T$ where 300,000 is a Constant time in kilometers for our base 10 universe and $\text{Mass}=2T^2$ with $T=\text{Time in seconds}$. When we prove Einstein's spacetime plane was in fact smaller before, we can modify the 300,000 to match the known speed of light then but leave it as a constant. Now, we perfected our Fusion Energy formula, and we know T1 started as a positive (above Einstein's spacetime plane) while T2 started as a negative (below Einstein's spacetime plane) to create the first Clemenan Quantum Star you drew, we can begin to do calculations and watch the Higgs boson take on mass 1 thousandth of a second at a time from 47.067 billion years ago.

Let's start with .001 seconds: $E=2(.001)^2(300,000)=1.2$. We could use the most accurate speed of light but end with the same result as 300,000 so it's not that important for this discussion. What is important is to notice what just happened to Energy. Einstein could never calculate anything with his formula, it was just a theory whilst this is the best math ever to explain everything that exists including the speed of light (I smell a Fields' Medal in math). Energy exceeded 1 at .001 seconds. That's .001 of the arc on the left and .001 of the arc on the right (as you drew) for a total of .002 of an arc acquiring mass only when energy exceeds 1 second of light caused by the collision. Any time energy exceeds 1, it must create something according to the conservation of energy and we see that effect begin mathematically at .001 seconds when E exceeds 1 at $E=1.2$. Growing 4 times larger means a lot more dots on Einstein's spacetime plane in the next helix twist. If we calculate the energy at .0009 seconds, we see energy is only .972 which is less than 1 meaning we can't yet get physical mass as it takes .001 seconds before the Higgs boson starts to create mass when energy exceeds 1. In other words, Energy must exceed the power of 1 light unit in a second by .2 before non-mass objects get mass. Since my 100% Accurate Atomic Clock said pi was achieved at $\frac{1}{2}$ second of time, when we plug that into my Fusion Energy formula to get $E=150,000$ at $\frac{1}{2}$ second which is 1 second of light at 300,000 kilometers per second as the speed of light in today's distance on the plane.

Therefore, pi is achieved when energy hits the speed of light in one second around 9 dots (3×3) on Einstein's spacetime plane and T1 and T2 appear to come together although they don't, aka the first Clemenan Quantum Star or mass particle at your local collider (this is why we get supernovae as depicted in my 100% Accurate Atomic Clock in my Appendices below my Keys to the Universe on clemenscomet.com. The whirling of the Higgs boson spinning in 2 different directions around each Clemenan Crossover Dot on Einstein's spacetime plane as power surges through the photon eating grid throughout all of outer space causes particles to collide at the speed of light to create particles with mass which began our universe as God's DNA from T1 and T2 beginning at .001 seconds as matter lifted off Einstein's spacetime plane above and below the first time to create matter off the grid. Thereby proving Einstein's spacetime plane repulses particles with matter but attracts non-mass particles to generate more particles with matter as time advances at the speed of light. That's why we have maglev planets and suns floating above the plane. The plane! The plane!

IN CONCLUSION
Dark Energy is governed by Mark's Metallic Diamond on the outside of the universe pulling in non-mass particles and water from the center of the universe and off Einstein's spacetime plane now proven to extend way outside the known universe to quadrillions of other universes with God's DNA. Dark Matter is the residual of matter that has been broken and potentially incompatible from helix to helix. In other words, we're on the 4th rung of the 5th helix in God's DNA looking at matter in other helices and the pre-helix when zeroes and dots didn't exist as they do today, and that matter appears to be dark matter along with broken particles from Clemenan Crossovers. Another huge energy force that acts on non-mass particles in the universe causing dark energy on non-mass particles is Einstein's spacetime plane controlling the speed of light with magnetic attraction) from Earth at each Clemenan Crossover Dot from Higgs boson processes whirling away at the speed of light in 2 different directions above and below Einstein's spacetime plane causing collisions as you drew the lobster claw.

crossover dot on Einstein's spacetime plane involving 9 dots with a single dot in the middle solved how light works and the processes that attract all light created throughout all universes on the plane to solve their Quantum Physics and Mechanics. Seeing zeroes formed that don't meet due to being separated by Einstein's spacetime plane explains not-dots not yet fused to dots in the pre-helix. After universes form, their not-dots fuse to dots that fuse to zeroes that fuse to - and + in 1-10 helices and post-helix, but none of it can happen until we create the first Higgs boson at each Clemensian Crossover Dot on Einstein's Spacetime Plane.

My new revised Fusion Energy formula $E=2T^2(300,000)T$ solved the first Higgs boson to occur at exactly .001 seconds of time when energy first exceeded 1 second of light as we can't create mass from non-mass particles until then. We can use + to calculate the T1 and - to calculate T2 in the formula to accurately calculate both sides of the helix of God's DNA separated by Einstein's space time plane as it grew using any increment we want as my energy fusion formula is perfect! We then calculate the distance from T1 to T2 during the Clemensian Cosine Crossover. I told myself for the past 8 years that I better solve this because it's too complex for anyone else. WOW! I actually did it!!! Thank you very much. I believe no other physicist ever born could have solved what I solved as no one ever did before me so I know where I stand and how hard this is to even comprehend even after I spelled it all out to prove I solved Quantum Physics and Mechanics along with Dark Energy, Dark Matter, gravity fields and gravity types, metallic diamonds as cores and the universes skin, not-dots, the first Clemensian Quantum Star, creation of the pre-helix, God's DNA, etc. I solved almost every unknown science mystery known with my discoveries. Please feel free to ask questions. I'm open to any physics challenge as I have many major bodies of physics work including this one and clemenscomet.com with 21 Keys to the Universe as I physically solved all of Quantum Physics and Mechanics of the Universe to the thousandth of a second 47.067 billion years ago with 2 tiny arcs at 1/2 second. Thank you.

DEAR NEPHEW BILLY GATES, I know you'll steal this message as your normal modus operandi, but there's nothing left to steal for your inferior greedy God-like complex, dude!! I shall call you Gollum, my precious, with a mix of Phil Spector you nasty, stinky, grotesque, dirty old man. I gave what you're after all away to the science community as my peers to debunk or approve as it works in Theoretical Science. Killing me isn't the way, nephew Billy, and it won't garner you a Nobel Prize or any headway with my discoveries as you'd be nothing but a plagiarist, a thief, a scoundrel, and a fool once again in front of the world. I know the physics link between Donald Trump running QAnon with child trafficking and prostitution boss Jeffrey Epstein who was arrested in 2017 and murdered so he wouldn't testify against Donald Trump. Physicist Stephen Hawking was hired by Jeffrey Epstein in 2016 to design a rocket to fly him to another planet 20 years away when he knew the feds were closing in on him for sex with children involving Donald Trump and QAnon (my family). That put you [Bill Gates] in contact with Stephen Hawking in 2017 who then suddenly died and was now out of the way for you to work with Cambridge University to steal my discoveries who then made you a fellow in 2018. I believe it was murder for hire from my experience as that's all you [Bill Gates] know to do with the money as you're no philanthropist but a philanderer and murderous thief. This is when your attacks on me escalated and I've been fighting for my life and discoveries ever since. It's been heinous and brutal with 51 murder attempts via potassium cyanide poisonings and 15 other attacks, some with guns, perpetrated outside my house using Find My Phone on my Pegasus Virus infected phone that you want all of America to have for your communist control. You're all socialist fascists in Putin's bed and wannabe thieves as you know. DON'T GO AWAY MAD, JUST GO AWAY! PLEASE!!! I BEG OF YOU!!! I HAVE NOTHING FOR YOU TO STEAL AS IT'S ALL BEEN GIVEN TO THE SCIENCE COMMUNITY FOR PEER REVIEW! GO DIE SOMEWHERE, YOU NAZI LOSER!!!

This is another auspicious occasion for physics, astrophysics, astronomy, and all sciences as I used my Clemens' Comet to solve outer space beyond our universe as the Clemenian Cube, Einstein's spacetime plane, and time which I solved 2 months ago at the quantum physics and mechanics level physically and mathematically as cited below. Please accept this as my 4th science journal presented as courtesy for peer review (will also be fully available online for you to thoroughly debunk me to high heaven which I also discovered physically). leisure and pleasure as I physically and mathematically proved all discoveries as expected in Theoretical Science and Clemenian DNA Math and Science. I want all scientists to get credit for all their discoveries and expect the same in return, so I always append their names to said discoveries as I must do when I write my books as my nomenclature is a major part of my proof that this is all an enclosed system of creation of life, evolution, and the universe. My Keys to the Universe are the repository and collection of all scientist's discoveries as the glue that binds theirs to mine as I solved all creation since time began thusly demonstrated in science journals, clemenscomet.com as my major body of science work, and my upcoming books I've worked on for 8 years as an astrophysicist discoverer.

REFRESHER: As you all recall, I sent you 3 emails fully discussing my new Fusion Energy formula $FE=2T^2C$ where T=Time in Seconds and C=speed of light at ~300,000 km/sec today in which I calculated the boson when energy < 1, Higgs boson when energy > 1, and creation of the universe and God's DNA when energy = the speed of light at ~300,000 km/sec, Equilibrium at the point of transformation through the conservation of energy from one form to the next is actually measuring energy levels before, during, and after which seems to defy the conservation of energy laws. Recall previously I had you all draw a 3 x 3 grid of Clemenian Crossover Dots (on Einstein's spacetime plane) and an arc from the upper-middle dot down to the far-left dot on the middle row while simultaneously drawing another arc from the middle dot in the upper row to the lower-right dot on the middle row as occurred at 1/2 second into our new universe when the non-mass particle (aka photon) was magnetically attracted to those 2 dots on Einstein's spacetime plane but then repulsed back to the lower middle dot due to that particle now having mass to create the universe's first helix.

I then had you finish drawing an arc from the left dot on the middle row down to the middle dot on the bottom row while simultaneously drawing an arc from the right dot on the middle row down to the middle dot on the bottom row as occurred at 1/2 second to begin our Clemeniverse. This matched my 100% accurate atomic clock (available in my Keys to the Universe at the bottom in Appendices) that showed the universe completing pi at 1/2 second. Recall I began my atomic clock at 1 second and divided in-half backwards as occurred and doubled time forward to show the growth throughout time as mathematically proven, proven in the atomic clock, proven half-life carbon dating science, and perfectly matching the Code of Life and Blueprint for Life in my 22 Keys to the Universe (18 are online and 4 are under development).

At the bottom of <https://clemenscomet.com/time%26universe-dna-solved>, last year when I sent you my physics journal for peer review on discovering God's DNA I posted the backwards calculation of the growth of the universe from the beginning of time in the following exert:

"Therefore, the Clemenian Math to proof the beginning size in the pre-helix is [5th (+) helix realm] universe of 10 billion light years/4=[4th (-) helix realm] 2.5 billion light years/4=[3rd (perm 0) helix realm] 625 million light years/4=[2nd (temp 0) helix realm] 156 million light years/4=[1st (.) helix realm] 39 million light years/4= [10th ("not dot to dot") realm] 9.75 million light years/4= [9th ("not dot to dot") realm] 2.4375 million light years/4=[8th ("not dot to dot") realm] 610,000 light years/4= [7th ("not dot to dot") realm] 152,500 light years/4=[6th ("not dot to dot") realm] 38,125 light years/4=[5th ("not dot to dot") realm] 9,531 light years/4=[4th ("not dot to dot") realm] 2,383 light years/4=[3rd ("not dot to dot") realm] 596 light years/4=[2nd ("not dot to dot") realm] 149 light years/4=[1st ("not dot to dot") realm] size of 37 light years/4=[pre-helix ("not dot") realm] size of 9.25 light years across. That's 9.25 divided by 10 (of 10 X 10 "not dot" grid) to prove each "not dot" was about 1 light year apart."

I admit, this left me behooved I couldn't divide back to 0 distance apart and wondered how it all began with 10 Clemenian Crossover Dots 9.25 light years apart. It's just like above when our universe was created in 1/2 second as nature cheated and added two 1/2 second arcs together for 1 second of creation as you drew previously and presented again above whilst I expected 1 line around a 360-degree circle in 1 second as the lowest increment. I was expecting creation to occur from 0-1 second instead since we always measure light speed in whole seconds. Therefore, it was my expectations not letting me see reality so easily. This is true once again with reversing the size from 0-1 second instead since we always measure light speed in whole seconds. Therefore, it was my expectations not letting me see reality so easily. This is true once again with reversing the size back to the beginning of all creation. I've learned a ton about fusion (hence, my revision of Einstein's energy formula to my Clemenian Fusion Energy). On my website on God's DNA page, I said Time1 and Time2 were running at 10,000 degrees each because I fell into the same trap as Einstein with his famous formula thinking they'd square when T1 and T2 collided the first time at 1/2 second for a total temperature of 100,000,000 (I was incorrect). See, Einstein theorized with his math formula that 2 beams of light collide to create mass when it's actually energy from time itself as I solved for $Mass=2T^2$ which Einstein failed to do, else he would have realized it was Time squared (as a factor of fusion energy), not light squared to create mass. Due to the conservation of energy, light is a derivative of energy following creation of the boson spin effect beneath each Clemenian Crossover Dot on Einstein's spacetime plane.

We all know this to be true and evident because it's photons that are given mass from energy (recall the 9-Clemenian Crossover Dot drawing I had you draw), not the other way around with photons giving mass to energy as presented in Einstein's formula. This proved Time1 and Time2 began life as photons that then closely collided at the speed of light as mass was pumped into them by energy like blowing up a balloon with hydrogen. Now that I have the perfect Fusion Energy formula and can accurately calculate the Higgs boson at any fraction of a second, I can see from my math calculations that mass begins accumulating in photons from energy at .001 seconds when energy exceeded 1 second (note: increasing the precision to the 10 thousandths column provides even more accuracy to this arc from 47.067 billion years ago which I play with like it was yesterday).

This is all due to the Conservation of Energy that states at energy>1 the boson must transform to the next level to be measured as energy cannot be measured, only the result. Well, that's not entirely true as I'm now calculating the energy through all conservation transformations of said energy before, during, and after as I have this down to a science. This is how I determined Einstein's spacetime plane magnetically attracts non-mass particles as shown at 1/4 second as it pulled to the furthest out Clemenian Crossover Dots on Einstein's spacetime plane (recall your circle you drew) and then repulsed the particle with mass which then drove the 2 dots back together and away from Einstein's spacetime plane at 1/2 second. We see planets, suns, Clemens' Comets, etc, on top of Einstein's spacetime plane pressing in as bows as proven by the 3 moon craters I discovered in 2016 under Venezuela and the Caribbean Islands.

When I learned fusion cannot occur unless temperatures exceed 100,000,000 degrees Celsius (our universe is all base 10 math creation, so metrics apply accurately), it hit me like a ton of bricks why I wasn't able to divide the size of the universe back any further. Again, my deep logic and math skills failed me, but I saw the light and solved it all once again. Nature's logic takes all the shortcuts we don't simply perceive. We have to recall that in the beginning before photons became particles with mass from fusion energy, there were no temperatures as non-mass particles cannot hold them. Therefore, I conclude all of outer space is absolute 0 outside all of God's DNA and universes and Time1 and Time2 are therefore both running at 100,000,000 degrees each as they fuse Mark's Metallic Diamond to the outer helices of God's DNA. Else required fusion cannot occur even before they closely collide. This is the only way to justify fusion of the 10 rungs in each helix coexisting with Mark's Metallic Diamond.

We also have to realize that there's no math yet without fusion as you can't have "not-dots", dots, zeroes, negatives, or positives without fusion. Typically, when we consider math with decimals as 2.0123, we call the position to the right of the decimal the "tens" column. However, in the very beginning it all began at 0. Therefore, I concluded that there were 10 more pre-temperature, pre-fusion, and pre-helix Clemenian Crossovers that caused the universe to grow at 4x each time which then led to 5 pre-helix rung fusions to begin the Clemenian DNA chain. This all makes sense as you have to heat things up to create 100,000,000 degrees for fusion before you take advantage

Visual inspection of those numbers shows there are 9 digits, and we already said everything must begin at 0 in the beginning with no math. Therefore, I use my knuckles to keep track of how it all began and to count the number of fusions that I used in my math above and as you...

circle in 1/2 second that you drew to begin the universe.

As we shrink the universe, we shrink Einstein's spacetime plane and a good demonstration is to extend your left-hand with your palm down and fingers out straight and closed together. Then, lay your right-hand with extended fingers over your left-hand fingers perpendicular with them closed together as well. Now, slowly spread your fingers apart on both hands and you can see how Einstein's spacetime plane was pulled apart into threads that run in 2 directions perpendicular to each other as outer space spread pulling them apart and then physical mass pushed them apart post-Higgs boson. Outer space was literally split into energy threads and not just left to right and forward and back, but up and down as well. Look at any Plank picture of the universe and you'll see it's been squished from the top and the bottom to be an oval shape verses a perfect circle. That's because the universes above us and below us are smashing together or it'd be perfectly round.

The Plank pictures of the universe prove there are universes above us and below us. However, we only see Einstein's spacetime plan in the Plank pictures and no other horizontal planes. They got spread apart by the universes and now the billions of Einstein's spacetime planes each have a universe encompassing them with physical matter which they repulse as proven heretofore explaining how all those planes are above and below our universe. That means outer space is a cube with 3-dimensions explaining how Einstein's spacetime plane is a square grid I calculated in my last physics paper to be about 47,000 km or 30,000 miles apart (11,000 miles from Earth in all directions). The 9-dot matrix you drew your circle on was a perfect square. That eliminates and debunks the Big Bang Theory that says everything came from a single point. That's wrong as it's a single point of failure and once again, nature's doings take shortcuts our logic doesn't capture so readily.

To start from a single point and spread out across all of outer space creates a sphere and you'd never end up with Einstein's spacetime plane being square as a result. With our universe alone being almost 10 billion light years across and Einstein's spacetime plane being 47,000 km apart means there's a lot of vertical rods extending up through our universe into all the universes and Clemenian horizontal spacetime planes above us in the Clemenian Cubeverse on the Clemenian Cube that makes up outer space. When outer space expanded and split into threads in all 3 directions on the X, Y, and Z axis it created energy lines 5 cm forward (length of the first arc you drew when it occurred), 5 cm back, 5 cm left, 5 cm right, 5 cm down, and 5 cm up all across outer space and these all started at their Clemenian Crossover Dots at 0. When each split linked to the other it created horizontal and vertical lines 10 cm long between all Clemenian Crossover Dots to form the Clemenian Cube and Cubeverse all at once verses a single split point. There were quadrillions of split points or Clemenian Crossover Dots all across space to create a perfect base 10 math cube whilst the Big Bang Theory claims to have mistakenly come from a single dot and created life. Life couldn't have existed in the pre-helix realm as that's like saying newborn babies are having babies. Life couldn't exist until the fourth helix, so life wasn't a thing until the past 13 billion years whilst the universe is 47.067 billion years old. It is therefore impossible for the Big Bang to have created life or quadrillions of expansions points. It's really the Big Split resulting in release of energy throughout all outer space at once.

IN CONCLUSION, outer space started as energy threads on all 3 X, Y, and Z axis arcing 5 cm in all directions from quadrillions of Clemenian Crossover Dots to form quadrillions of Einstein's spacetime planes which have been separated by physical universes growing to 10 billion light years across each. That means all Einstein's spacetime planes are 10 billion light years apart vertically above and below our universe while their horizontal counterparts on the plane are 30,000 miles apart in a square grid explaining why my Blueprint for Life shows 4 black holes all together

8/22/24, 3:06 PM Gmail - CLEMENS' COMET SOLVED OUTER SPACE, EINSTEIN'S SPACETIME PLANE, AND CLEMENIAN CUBEVERSE on 4 Clemenian Crossover Dots on Einstein's spacetime plane. Without physical matter in all the universes separating the quadrillions of Einstein's spacetime planes vertically, they'd all be 30,000 miles apart vertically as well and the Clemenian Cubeverse would have perfectly cubed sections but it's a stretched-out cube based on the math, Einstein's spacetime plane being a square grid, and Plank pictures.

The energy from every split point that created each Clemenian Crossover Dot resulted in a boson on 4 Clemenian Crossover Dots on Einstein's spacetime plane. Without physical matter in all the universes separating the quadrillions of Einstein's spacetime planes vertically, they'd all be 30,000 miles apart vertically as well and the Clemenian Cubeverse would have perfectly cubed sections but it's a stretched-out cube based on the math, Einstein's spacetime plane being a square grid, and Plank pictures.

The energy from every split point that created each Clemenian Crossover Dot resulted in a boson magnetic spin up to the speed of light which first created photons and then spun them into particles with mass by almost colliding them together. That means there was a massive release of energy as all outer space arced all at once which must have been quite a site to see had there been mass to reflect/repulse from. Light (photons) show objects as they repulse from them and go to Einstein's spacetime plane as magnetically attracted food. This solves Pre-Quantum Physics and Pre-Mechanics of the Universe and quadrillions of God's DNA with other universes nestled in their clutches just like us. Therefore, I conclude that the expansion of outer space was equal in all 3 directions with perfectly straight lines around all 6 sides of the outer space Clemenian Cubeverse. There weren't any particles with matter or non-mass photons in existence yet, just energy lines 5cm long (mathematically proven) from the split points in 6 directions at each Clemenian Crossover Dot of Einstein's spacetime plane. Outer space is a Clemenian Cubeverse, and each inner cube's dimensions are ~47,000 km or 30,000 miles X ~47,000 km or 30,000 miles X 10 billion light years and there are quadrillions of cubes comprising the Outer Space Clemenian Cubeverse.

If outer space is an expanding cube of energy threads, then what lies outside of outer space? Quadrillions of Outer Space Clemenian Cubeverses attracting each other from all 6 sides to cause outer space to expand in the first place which resulted in creating God's DNA, universes, and light that shines when it repulses from physical objects, and each is filled with quadrillions of God's DNA and universes. This is what makes them all square on the outside as it's a lot of peer pressure. Now, that's thinking outside the box, and it's mathematically and physically proven by square lines on a square grid in a square cube made square by pressing against quadrillions of other squares. That's exponential universes and God's DNA at 10,000,000,000 to the 10,000,000,000 to the 10,000,000,000 or 1,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 Clemeniverses in each of the 100,000,000,000,000,000,000 Clemenian Cubeverses I discovered physically and mathematically.

Considering how many DNA a human has and considering the size of the universe, these numbers are normalized and not unreasonable. And when you think about a human having different parts like skin and bones, then you'd expect DNA to be compartmentalized into different sections as body parts like we're seeing here when I separated them out into separate Clemenian Cubeverses each filled with Quadrillions of universes indicating this is a large creature with separate body parts. Logic begets logic. This might be God's skin filled with DNA and each cell of skin represents a Clemenian Cubeverse. Make no mistake about it, we live inside of God's DNA, and we can only imagine what our host looks like on the outside, but she sure is big compared to us as we look like chromosomes or hormones. Are we alone? Let's let math answer the question when we multiply trillions of galaxies with life in our universe times 1,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 Clemeniverses in 100,000,000,000,000,000,000 Clemenian Cubeverses with each galaxy having thousands of water planets in the Goldilocks zone harboring life. We are not alone. Thank you very much for your peer review as I took us all the way back. Commence the debunking!
