It seems that everybody has a favorite season. Mine has always been Spring. It could be because my birthday usually lands on the first day of Spring, and I feel a special connection with that time of year. Or, it could just be that I welcome the longer days, more sunshine and the outdoor colors that seem so vivid compared to the brown of the winter grass and trees.

It is difficult to see the hints of Spring right now as I look out my window at the uncut hayfield with its variegated shades of browns and forgotten dried up leaves from last Fall. However, I have noticed a few subtle hints that Winter is on its way out. This morning, when I walked out of my house, I heard the call of a Black Capped Chickadee. I notice in the morning, the sun is almost up before I am. Things are beginning to look and feel different. Springtime is a time of change and a chance for renewal and a time to experience new things.

New things mean change. According to King Whitney Jr., "To the fearful change is threatening because it means that things may get worse. To the hopeful it is encouraging because things may get better. To the confident, it is inspiring because the challenge exists to make things better." It is so appropriate that Lent and Easter encompass this inspiring season of change. It is the perfect time to look at ourselves, to make things better, and see the positive all around us. Such a perfect time of year as we enter into this joyous, glorious season of Christ's Resurrection. Happy Spring and Happy Easter!
