Reflect: "Yesterday I was clever, so I wanted to change the world. Today I am wise, so I am changing myself." How often do we try to do too much in a given day? Why has it become all too easy to neglect ourselves for the good of others?

Pray- God of healing, Even when we are broken we cannot seem to stop helping, soothing, nurturing, & counseling others while ignoring our own wounded hearts. While we cannot neglect the needs of others, it is foolish to lose ourselves in the strain of the day. Let this prayer be a reminder that I am no good to others when I refuse to tend to my own spirit. Amen.

Act: Do you know someone who gives until they have nothing left? Let that person know you care by sharing this prayer.

“Reverence & Right Order at The Offertory”

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ:

In recent months, I have noticed a growing custom of asking the faithful to stand during the offertory procession. I would like to clarify and simply to align our parish practice with what Holy Mother Church actually asks of us. The General Instruction of the Roman Missal (GIRM 42–44) teaches that our postures during Mass are not private devotions but shared, unified actions that express our communion as one Body.

These norms are meant to safeguard the meaning of each part of the liturgy. GIRM 43 states “The faithful should sit, on the other hand, during the readings before the Gospel and the Responsorial Psalm and for the Homily and during the Preparation of the Gifts at the Offertory....” Nowhere does the Church instruct the faithful to stand for the offertory procession, nor does she assign any gesture of reverence toward those who carry the gifts. Some have expressed the sincere belief that standing is a way of “reverencing” the gift-bearers or the bread and wine they carry. I want to affirm the good intention behind this—but also gently correct it. The Church teaches that only the ordained are revered during Mass, because their sacramental character conforms them uniquely to Christ the High Priest. And the only objects revered during Mass are the consecrated species, after the moment of consecration, because then Christ Himself is truly present.

For this reason, we follow the Church’s instructions rather than introduce private devotional gestures into our corporate worship. Remaining seated during the offertory is not irreverence—it is obedience to the Church’s wisdom and a sign of our unity at Mass.

Thank you for your openness, your docility to the Church’s tradition, and your desire to love God more deeply in the holy sacraments. May “the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, guard your hearts” (Phil 4:7). Know of your pastor’s love for you in Christ Jesus,
Fr. Christopher Bernabe

“Reverencia y Orden en el Ofertorio”

Queridos hermanos y hermanas en Cristo:

En los últimos meses he notado una costumbre creciente de pedir a los fieles que se pongan de pie durante la procesión del ofertorio. Deseo aclarar este punto y simplemente alinear nuestra práctica parroquial con lo que la Santa Madre Iglesia realmente nos pide.

La Instrucción General del Misal Romano (IGMR 42–44) enseña que nuestras posturas durante la Misa no son devociones privadas, sino acciones compartidas y unificadas que expresan nuestra comunión como un solo Cuerpo. Estas normas están destinadas a salvaguardar el significado de cada parte de la liturgia. La IGMR 43 establece: “Por otra parte, los fieles deben sentarse durante las lecturas antes del Evangelio y el salmo responsorial, durante la homilía y durante la preparación de los dones en el ofertorio...”. En ningún lugar la Iglesia instruye a los fieles a ponerse de pie durante la procesión del ofertorio, ni asigna gesto alguno de reverencia hacia quienes llevan las ofrendas.

Algunos han expresado la sincera creencia de que ponerse de pie es una forma de “reverenciar” a los portadores de los dones o al pan y al vino que llevan. Quiero afirmar la buena intención detrás de esto, pero también corregirlo con suavidad. La Iglesia enseña que sólo los ordenados son reverenciados durante la Misa, porque su carácter sacramental los conforma de manera única a Cristo, Sumo Sacerdote. Y los únicos objetos reverenciados durante la Misa son las especies consagradas, después del momento de la consagración, porque entonces Cristo mismo está verdaderamente presente.

Por esta razón, seguimos las instrucciones de la Iglesia y no introducimos gestos devocionales privados en nuestro culto comunitario. Permanecer sentados durante el ofertorio no es falta de reverencia, sino obediencia a la sabiduría de la Iglesia y signo de nuestra unidad en la Misa. Gracias por su apertura, su docilidad a la tradición de la Iglesia y su deseo de amar más profundamente a Dios en los santos sacramentos. “La paz de Dios, que sobrepasa todo entendimiento, guardará sus corazones” (Flp 4,7). Conozcan el amor de su pastor por ustedes en Cristo Jesús.
P. Christopher Bernabe
