

What are the benefits of membership?

Professionalism—NCHBA works to uphold professional business standards. Promotion of ethical practices benefits the building industry, the consumer and the community.

Educational Programs—The North Carolina Builder Institute is the educational arm for the NCHBA. The Institute provides classes for the professional builder and associate. Held in the Spring in Raleigh and in the fall in conjunction with the 21st Century Building Expo & Conference, builders and associate members can find a variety of general interest seminars, ranging from marketing to OSHA Regulations and building codes.

Legislative and Regulatory Representation – As your advocate in Raleigh and on Capitol Hill, the association constantly develops and provides top notch legislative and regulatory representation on behalf of the home building industry. NCHBA monitors the activities of the N.C. General Assembly affecting the home building industry and recommends desirable changes, and opposes undesirable changes, in the law.

Discounts—NCHBA members are eligible for rebates through two programs: the NCHBA Member Rebate Program and the NAHB Member Advantage Program.

NC BUILD-PAC – NCHBA has developed a nonpartisan political action committee that supports the elected officials and candidates who stand behind our industry. The BUILD-PAC committee makes sure that your personal contributions are wisely spent by constantly monitoring and assessing candidates' policies on housing.

Insurance - Builders Mutual Insurance Company is endorsed by the NCHBA to provide all commercial lines of insurance coverage to its members. Their WorkSafe Workers' Comp is known as the industry standard and offers features such as job site evaluations to help prevent workplace accidents and injuries. BMIC experts help you create the safest working environment possible and offer ongoing education and training. Partnered with WorkSafe, their Builders Best policies round out all the coverage those in the residential building industry need. From general liability to inland marine and builder's risk, Builders Best has you covered. Contact an agent for more information.

21st Century Building Expo & Conference - This event was created so members of NCHBA could attend and participate in an Expo and educational conference of the same quality as the NAHB International Builders' Show (IBS), but not have to travel to a remote location. The 21CBEC offers members the opportunity to view new and innovative products for housing and to attend seminars on various aspects of the building industry. Seminars highlight a wide range of topics which would appeal to the builder, associate, remodeler and the sales and marketing professional. In addition, the STARS Awards Gala offers members a chance to earn industry recognition for their work. The 21CBEC has become the fastest growing trade show in the Southeast. NCHBA Quarterly Meetings - Be a part of the team by attending the North Carolina Home Builders Association Quarterly meetings. Your voice and participation will help guide the future of the association. There is no fee to attend the standing committees or Board of Directors meeting during the one-day event. Special committees are designed to educate, inform, inspire and keep you up to date on the housing industry. Whether you are interested in building codes, membership, land development, legislative or vocational information, your association teams you with others having similar interests. Together, working on association committees, members utilize the collective impact and strength of an organized group. Whether you're a builder or associate, you will find the contracts you make at NCHBA meetings to be invaluable to your business. Membership gives you the framework to become effectively involved in your industry on a state level.
