

BLATANTLY HONEST BOOK CLUB

With Makaila Nichols

Who:

For every parent or teacher who wants to form better relationships with their preteens, teens, students and young adults.

What:

Bring “Blatantly Honest” to your next book club!

When:

However often your group meets!

Where:

At your next book club! All you need is the book. Makaila is able to provide audio recordings, Skype in calls, and activities to go along with the readings for an additional cost.

Why:

In this day and age, it can be hard to have authentic relationships. For me, it was hard to have an transparent relationship with my parents during certain times of my life, and I think this needs to change, I wish it would have sooner for me. I want to start a conversation in homes, schools, and yes, even book clubs to build a more open relationship with youth and their parents and bring more awareness to the topics that children are dealing with.

How:

Book now at 407.876.5442 or info@makailanichols.com
Special pricing available upon request.

Bookclub: St. Louis, Missouri

Be You. Be Bold. Be Blatantly Honest.