Liturgy of the Word

- Wisdom 6:12–16 Rise before dawn and watch for wisdom's appearance and you will not be disappointed.
- Psalm 63 "My soul is thirsting for you, O Lord my God."
- 1 Thessalonians 4:13–18 We do not mourn death as those who have no hope. or 4:13–14
- Matthew 25:1–13 The wise virgins were prepared for the coming of the bridegroom.

Every Sunday we are invited to the banquet of the Lord, where we receive Christ in the Eucharist. Are we prepared to receive this spiritual food? The foolish bridesmaids in the Gospel were unprepared and so were unable to join the wise bridesmaids and the bridegroom at the feast. The wisdom they lacked is extolled in the first reading, whose author asserts that wisdom is available to all who seek it. As we listen to today's readings, let us pray for the grace to seek and use the wisdom God gives us to prepare ourselves for the heavenly banquet.

Pastor's Reflection

We are living during tumultuous times experiencing great upheavals in technology, politics, culture and even religion. These dramatic times are just another reason why we need to pray for priestly vocations. As a Church, we need good, holy, and capable priests who can provide prayer, guidance and pastoral care to God's people.

Obviously, all vocations are important, whether to religious life or marriage, but this weekend we are encouraged to think about priestly vocations with the Called by Name program.

Many priests and seminarians will recount that their call to the priesthood was strengthened when someone asked them personally to consider the priesthood. I can attest to this in my own experience. I felt the tug to consider priesthood, but that initial call took on greater urgency when Fr. Bill Allard gave me a book on discernment and asked me to think about being a priest. That moment told me that this feeling might not just be a whim, but something real. I'm glad that Fr. Allard participated in God's call to me.

For this reason, our diocesan vocations office is asking us to participate in the Called by Name program. You probably know of a young man who would make a good priest. By calling his name, you may be adding your voice to the call of God in the life of someone who is experiencing the first call from God to consider life as a priest. We need good, holy, and capable priests. You can help.
