

CONVINCE YOUR BOSS

To Get You an Executive Coach

Are you ready to work with an Executive Coach but still need to convince your boss? We really want you to excel in your role, so we've got you covered. Here are 6 factors to make your business case.

MORE TIME

Your boss will have more time because, with executive coaching, you will be able to take on more leadership responsibilities.

600% ROI

Your boss will know it's money well spent when they see a return on investment of nearly 6x the costs of coaching through your increased ability to lead and drive for results.

LESS STRESS

Your boss will have less stress because you will be in a position to reduce hassles, conflicts, and other challenges that cause frustration.

STRATEGIC FOCUS

As you get even better, your boss will be able to focus on the most strategic aspects of their role, without getting stuck in the weeds.

BETTER PARTNERSHIP

Your boss and you will experience a more rewarding direct report/supervisor relationship. 70% of clients report this benefit.

INCREASED PRODUCTIVITY

Your boss will see an increase in your productivity. 53% of clients report increased productivity, and 67% report increased teamwork.

THE BOTTOM LINE

It's important to show your boss that Executive Coaching isn't just good in theory but that it gives you real, actionable solutions you can implement to improve your organization. It's a win-win for both of you.

EXECUTIVE COACH