

CARMY'S

F.A.Q.

What is Carmy's?

Carmy's is a New York-style pizza slice shop in the heart of Seven Dials, Covent Garden. We're here for one thing: proper pizza by the slice. No reservations, no dining room, no endless menu. Just great pizza, served quickly. Our approach is simple – product, consistency and speed. We focus on the fundamentals: long-fermented dough, carefully sourced ingredients from the UK and Italy, and slices baked to be folded, eaten standing up and craved again the next day. The menu is intentionally small. Cheese. Pepperoni. A rotating special. That's it. Carmy's isn't trying to reinvent pizza. We're simply trying to do New York slices properly, in a city that's only just starting to take them seriously. Whether you're grabbing a quick lunch, a late-night slice or a whole pie to share, we want to be the place you can rely on every single time. Proper slices. No shortcuts.

Do you take cash?

At Carmy's we are card-only.

Opening hours?

We're open 7 days a week.

Sunday - Thursday 12-10pm

Friday - Saturday 12-11pm

There are plans to extend our opening hours over time. Please check our Google listing for the most up-to-date opening hours and any unexpected closures, whether for public holidays or staff training events.

Vegan options?

We can make a Tomato Pie without Pecorino, but it must be ordered as a whole pie. Our menu is rooted in traditional pizza-making, where cheese plays a central role, so we don't offer plant-based pizzas as standard.

Vegetarian options?

As many vegetarians avoid traditional Italian hard cheeses such as Parmesan and Pecorino because they are made with animal rennet, none of our pizzas are technically vegetarian. We can, however, make a Cheese Pie or Tomato Pie without Pecorino, but these must be ordered as whole pies.

Halal options?

Our Pepperoni is made from pork, and while we take care to minimise cross-contamination, our ovens are not halal.

Gluten free?

We don't offer a gluten-free pizza base and do not plan to in the future. Our entire approach is built around making the best possible version of our core product, and gluten is fundamental to the structure, texture, and flavour of the pizza we believe in. Offering a gluten-free base would require compromises we're not willing to make.

We also want to be completely transparent: our small kitchen works with large amounts of flour every day, so we cannot avoid cross-contamination. For that reason, a gluten-free pizza would never be suitable for coeliacs.

Reservations? Walk-ins?

We are a slice shop, so we operate on a takeaway-only basis and do not take reservations. You're welcome to enjoy your slice on the go, at one of our standing tables outside, or on one of the high stools inside if available.

Preorders?

We have only just opened, so we do not currently have a system in place for preorders. However, if you'd like to place a large order in advance, please email us at info@carmys.co.uk.

Delivery?

There are no plans as of now to offer any delivery options.

Dogs?

Absolutely. Well-behaved dogs are always welcome.

Parking?

Driving to Covent Garden can be a nightmare, so we'd recommend using public transport where possible. If you do drive, you'll usually have better luck parking in Fitzrovia or Bloomsbury and enjoy a short walk across.

Can I enjoy Carmy's at a bar nearby?

Yes. Pick up your slices or whole pies at Carmy's, then head over to Freud Café-Bar & Gallery (198 Shaftesbury Avenue), just a 20-second walk away. You can enjoy your pizza there alongside their full range of cocktails, beers, wines and soft drinks.
