Introduction to the Mass

St John the Evangelist once wrote that 'perfect love drives out fear' (1 Jn 4:18). Perfect faith, as well, results in trust, and the trust that we rightly give to God speaks to us again and again in this Mass. The Eucharist itself, as the making present of the sacrifice of Jesus on the cross, is offered only because of his trust in his heavenly Father. And so this Mass invites us to live and share that trust which we will hear about in the readings, and which we will partake in the Eucharist.

First Reading Wis 2:12, 17-20

The experience of anyone who has ever suffered violence is echoed in this passage. It is told from the point of view of those who believe in nothing, but even they can see the trust that the virtuous have put in God, and the promises God has made to them.

Second Reading Jas 3:16-4:3

St James speaks of the wisdom that come down from heaven, reminding us that our understanding of what is good comes as a gift from God for us. We can listen, then, to his description of the signs of this wisdom for the life that God wants to share with us.

Gospel Mk 9:30-37

Jesus is faced with the complete lack of understanding by his disciples of the Gospel he has come to preach. Faced with this he shows them what a real disciple looks like: a child who can trust.
