

It is in Norway where the ancient Stories of Thor and Mjolnir began. Ancient Viking Traditions kept the mystery and enchanting history of Norway's purity alive with the Norse Mythology.

It is here in Norway where the glaciers are rich in life and flows abundantly for the world. The Andean glaciers are especially quite remarkable in Norway.

The richness of the water and the representation of life itself is held alive with these sacred glaciers and the Stave Churches representing the old world that tells the tales of The Lightning God Thor and the Snakes (also known as Apep).

Stave Churches depicting ancient Tartarian design and showing images of the final battle between snakes and dragons.

There are many Stave churches throughout Norway - Urnes Stave shows a remarkable carving of dragons and snakes on a Passageway.

TARTARIAN STAVE CHURCHES, GLACIERS IN NORWAY, THE FINAL BATTLE

TARTARIAN STAVE CHURCHES, GLACIERS IN NORWAY, THE FINAL BATTLE

