Working with Kinder was an absolute pleasure. She is a one-of-a-kind agent who will bend over backwards to meet her client's needs. Originally we were unsure of what type of house to buy. Rather than get frustrated with us, Kinder showed tremendous patience and gave us a lot of helpful recommendations along the way until we were able to find the home that was perfect for us. Kinder is non-judgmental and very positive with her clients - she tries to find the positive in everything even when the process of selling or buying a home throws up challenges as it inevitably does. Kinder knows the real estate market and the rules and regulations very well and is not afraid to negotiate h behalf of her clients. In the end, she helped us buy a perfect single-family home at the right price and in the right location that met our family's needs. I would highly recommend Kinder for anyone looking for a caring and expert guide to help one navigate the home buying or selling process.
