To our valued friends,

We are so pleased you buzzed in today and we thank you for choosing Down the Lane Farm. We are incredibly grateful! Our customers mean as much to us as our honey bees. And we love our honey bees!

Feel free to take a moment and browse our catalog and/or online shop. Our products are made with you and the honey bees in mind. We pair natural, clean ingredients with honey and/or beeswax to create a bit of magic. We measure and stir, heat and pour while adding plenty of love to the mix.

We love hearing from our customers and take each comment and suggestion to heart. Please let us know how we're doing. Find us on social media, visit our website, and if you are buzzing with joy, shout it out with a Google Review. We'd appreciate that!

Thank you for buzzing through. Reach out anytime. We're here to help.

Our best to you and the honey bees,,

Greg and Maureen

Creamed Honey

Our creamed honey is hand-crafted to achieve a smooth and spreadable texture

Price: $15.00 / lb

Have you ever wondered what creamed honey is?

We get asked quite a bit. The answer is easy. It's honey, just a little different.

Our Creamed Honey is hand-crafted from pure, raw Connecticut wild-flower honey. Preferred in Europe over liquid honey, creamed honey is considered quite the luxury having a smooth, butter-like or caramel-like texture that is perfect as a spread but preserves the goodness of raw honey. Its consistency makes it easy to spread, easy to store, and easy to enjoy.

The natural properties of honey are not changed to make Creamed Honey. We do not pasteurize our honey or add anything extra. So, what makes it creamed? It's the size of the sugar crystals. When your honey crystalizes on your pantry shelf due to cool temperature, those crystals are large and you can feel them on your tongue. Creamed honey sugar crystals are so small that you only taste the smooth even texture and creaminess of the honey.

Bee Mindful

A Meditation Collection

Being mindful isn't simply the act of meditating, it's more about the healthy result of meditating. Being mindful is being present with yourself, feelings, current surroundings, and/or situations. It is allowing that few minutes to "check-in" with yourself.

Being mindful can help with your overall well being and can lead to a more satisfying life. With practice, being mindful through meditation may reduce stress, improve concentration, and improve relaxation.

This collection was thoughtfully grouped with sensory items that may help promote increased concentration and decreased anxiety.

Our pure beeswax candles can help focus your vision, the physical sensation of the raw gemstone can help you stay in the moment, and the scent of essential oil may assist in finding balance and focus.

Contents:
4 beeswax candles with cotton wick
1 honey bee scent charm with carrying chain
1 10 ml essential oil
1 raw gemstone
1 velvet pouch
Trifold Booklet
